Suggestions for the Building Code

A GOOD measure of progress is being made in revising the Building Code of the City of New York by the Commission of which Thomas J. Brady Esq., is chairman, and Alderman Griffenhagen vice chairman. Six or seven meetings have been held and this week the first public hearing was given. It seems to be fully decided that the work shall take the course of amending and extending the existing structure of rules, rather than drawing up original plans for building entirely anew. Thus the old code is being taken up section by section, and according to the scheme, each section will be gone over three times before it shall be finally adopted.

It is apparent from what has occurred, and from what is generally known of people and their purposes, that there are several contending interests desirous of impressing the commission with the necessity of accepting their proposals. There will be forces represented by the boards of insurance underwriters pressing for regulations that will give the maximum protection against fire. They will be led by men having expert knowledge of building construction, equipped with the strongest arguments, with a "model code" already printed, and with a systemized method of procedure. Their purpose is to make New York a fireproof city, so the risks of insurance companies will be safer and their losses trifling—and this as a uniform permanent condition. They wish to protect the public and at the same time make more certain their own profits as insurers. It is both a philanthropic and a selfish interest. On the other side is the builder, who also claims to represent the public. He says fireproof construction is expensive construction, and higher building costs mean more rent to pay, and the average family is now paying all it is able.

Several representative bodies, having received permission at the hearing, will make such suggestions as they may wish to make hereafter in writing, and they therefore had no recommendations to offer at the hearing. The Building Trades Employers' Association, the Plumbing interests, the Fireproof wood companies and the Iron League will be among these, and doubtless most of the suggestions hereafter made will take this form. From time to time, however, there will be hearings called to debate particular questions or matters of importance as they arise. Remarks were limited at the hearing to ten minutes, and few consumed as much time as that, the hearing lasting only an hour and a quarter.

Mr. Joseph Harris Jones, a builder at Ogden av and 162d st, appealed to the members of the Commission to give consideration in their decisions to the owners of dwellings and flats which will constitute homes for the wage-earners, reminding them of the fact that already in New York City rents have become onerous on this class of our people, and that every dollar added to the cost of such buildings is an additional tax on the people least able to bear it.

He also appealed for moderation in any proposed extending of the fire limits in the outlying sections of our boroughs, as in a short time the opening of the McAdoo Tunnel to New Jersey and the Pennsylvania system to Long Island will make available large sections of property (where they have no building laws) to active competition with our boroughs outside of the present fire limits.

He also appealed to the commission to grant to the Supt. of Buildings in each borough discretionary power so that he can use his judgment in matters that may come before him, but also to grant to him power of arrest in case any builder refuses to stop operations on his order when he finds the work is being done in a poor manner and contrary to law.

Mr. William O. Ludlow, of Ludlow & Valentine, architects, made a plea for a limitation in the height of buildings, saying:

The high building has a number of advantages—let me say, the skyscraper—and among these we will mention first the fact that the potential value of property in certain sections of the city is increased by the possibility of the skyscraper. Again, the skyscraper brings business men into closer touch with one another. As to the first of these, any curtailment of the height of the skyscraper would simply, in my judgment, mean a more equitable distribution of the values of property on Manhattan Island. As regards the second point, the matter of business men in the financial district being close together, this reason was never of so little value as it is today, when we talk from our desks to anybody that we choose, and when we ride from the Brooklyn Bridge to the Grand Central Depot in seven minutes.

Now, there are some disadvantages of the skyscraper, and I want to mention a few. Gentlemen, do you not think that the limit of congestion in the streets of lower Manhattan has about been reached, or perhaps more than reached? And if the skyscraper still goes on, what do you think will be the likely result? Is there any place in the world where the conditions in the streets, the conditions of traffic, are as we find them in the narrow streets of our great city? Have you ever thought of the condition of thousands of young men and young women who are working in offices, where they never see the light of the sun? Whose health is impaired, whose sight is damaged, because of the canyonlike formation of our streets? It is not a small point. I personally know, as a fact, that many have been seriously endangered both as to their general health and their eyesight.

Architecturally, perhaps, I ought not to speak of this. I have had the pleasure of building and designing one or two buildings which twenty years ago would have been called high buildings. Today they are very moderate, but at the risk of having stones thrown at my glass house, I want to say that, architecturally, the average skyscraper in New York is nothing but a theatrical sham—decorated on one face and left in plain, hideous ugliness on three faces. That is not architecture, gentlemen. There are a few good skyscrapers in New York, I am very glad to admit, but it isn't architecture to build in that way; and if you gentlemen are as jealous of the beauty of our city as I am and a good many others, I think you will feel that the reason that the skyscraper is of advantage to New York, as far as appearances go, is because New York City is a gigantic freak in its lower portion—not a thing of beauty.

Mr. Ludlow, in closing, called attention to Senate bill No. 639, introduced by Mr. Mullaney, providing that no building shall be of a greater height above curb level than twenty times the square root of the width of the street on which it is erected, provided, however, that where any portion of a building shall be set back from the street line, the upper floor of the set back part may be carried to an additional height to twice the distance to which it is set back from the street line; and provided, further, that where a building shall be built on a corner formed by the intersection of two streets, roads or avenues, one of which is narrower than the other, the front on the narrower street may be built to the height of the front on the wider street, for a distance of one hundred feet.

Mr. Cook, of Babb, Cook & Willard, architects, said that the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, representing a very large number of architects, were very much interested, naturally, in the proceedings of the commission, and desired, by the voice of one or two of its members, to make certain suggestions having nothing to do with each other, but each one touching some point of the proposed Building Code or a modification of the code already in force.

The particular point at which he wished to speak was the question of the responsibility for the law and for building construction, and his suggestion was that when the owner files plans for the erection of a building he shall state the name of the individual or firm who will supervise the work, in order that this individual or firm may be held responsible.

Further, he believed that discretionary power, to be used and not abused, should be given to the Superintendent or Commissioner of Buildings. There should, in this case, be a system whereby all applications for departures from the ordinary rules should be made in writing, and the judgment of the commissioner on the application would also be in writing, and both be put in a docket, to be opened at all times to the public.

Mr. Owen Brainard, consulting engineer of Carrere & Hastings, advocated, as a better plan than merely amending the present building rules, that the law should be taken to pieces, and an entire new code prepared on a different plan, a feature of which would be thorough indexing.

Five representatives of the New York Board of Underwriters then addressed the board in turn, asking in substance, that something radical be done to improve the building construction of New York, to reduce the height of building, and also their ground dimensions. The speakers were Col. Alexander Ray, president of the New York Board of Underwriters, William M. Cremer, Frank Lock, Cecil Shallcross and George W. Babb. Their most impressive point was made by Col. Ray, who said that a conflagration in New York covering the same area that Baltimore's did would destroy not merely seventy millions of dollars worth of property, as in Baltimore, but a hundred millions or more. The insurance companies, with only $200,000,000 of capital, would stand in the gap as well as they could. He argued for more restrictions in the code. Big merchants complained because they cannot get all the insurance they need. Some companies abroad carried five times the insurance that is carried in any instance in New York. He spoke of the district bounded by West Broadway, Elm, Chambers and Twenty-third street as particularly hazardous.

Mr. Shallcross said the protection of existing buildings could be enormously improved by the use of wire glass, fireproof shutters and other appliances. Mr. Lock said the hazard in New York was so great that companies did not derive the per cent. of profit as in other cities, and are confronted with the possibility of having their risks wiped out. They would prefer a smaller rate of income with a smaller risk. Mr. Babb said the percentage of loss from fire in England was only one-fifth what it was in America.

A representative of the firm of Eidlitz & Hulse, attorneys for the Building Trades Employers' Association, obtained permission to submit suggestions in writing. Upon request of Mr. John W. Hamilton, of Milliken Bros., the same permission was given to the iron contractors. The representative of a fireproof wood company made a few familiar claims for his material, and obtained leave to submit a brief later.

Joseph Tenbroeck, a labor representative, recommended that the foremen in charge of structural jobs, be licensed. Mr. William Graham, of the Brooklyn League, recommended that the erection of frame buildings in rows be hereafter prohibited. A Bronx builder advocated large discretionary power for the superintendent of buildings. He considered that the code needed only slight alterations in other respects. Mr. R. A. Brown, of the Central Board of Journeymen Plumbers, obtained leave to submit proposed amendments in writing at a future time. William M. Calder, formerly Superintendent of Buildings in Brooklyn, advocated extending the fire lines.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Points on the Material Market.

In Brooklyn lumber dealers are agitating against lump-sum bidding in their trade.

Demand for sheet zinc continues strong and much business is being done at the recently advanced prices.

If brick manufacturers will sit tight for a few weeks, they may then expect an improved state of affairs.

The market for tin plates holds strong under a heavy demand for all positions. Premiums are easily obtainable by the mills for prompt shipment.

White Pine prices in the Buffalo and Tonawanda markets, for eastern shipment, have been advanced $2 on box lumber and $1 on all grades of No. 1 dressing to No. 3 barn.

Lumber Trade Journal's advice to Eastern manufacturers of Spruce timber: "Keep in touch with representatives at this end and delay shipments as much as possible for the next thirty days."

In the Mahogany and Cedar trade, Mahogany is ruling very firm in prices with a good demand, but Cedar in view of extremely heavy receipts last month has eased off from one to one and one-half cents per foot.

April made a record that effectively settled the question of pig iron for the rest of the year. So much iron was sold last month that at least four-fifths of all the iron that can be made in 1907 is now under contract.

In Hardwoods the wholesale market is practically in the hands of the seller, with all offerings of good well-manufactured stocks of the better grades readily absorbed at extremely stiff prices, and the chief requirement in every detail being the ability to ship. Prices are constantly tending upward, and the range of Hardwoods to-day is higher than it has ever been.

Demand for structural steel continues heavy. The Brooklyn Heights Railroad has placed an order for 1,200 tons of material with McClintic-Marshall Company. This is to be used for reinforcement work on the Brooklyn elevated lines. Interborough Rapid Transit Co. is said to be in the market for approximately 2,000 tons of material for the same class of work. Among the business pending is the Manhattan approach to the Blackwell's Island Bridge. It is thought that this will require in the neighborhood of 4,000 tons.

James Stewart & Co.'s Contracts in San Francisco.

James Stewart, of New York, the contractor who made a reputation in England by constructing the $5,000,000 Midland Railway Hotel in Manchester and the $2,500,000 Savoy Hotel in London, each in fifteen months, when the Britishers estimated the work would take five years, is in San Francisco. Mr. Stewart's company has signed the contract for the rebuilding of the Parrott Building, which is to be done Sept. 1, 1908. He has also secured the contract to build a 10-sty structure for Mose Gunst at the southwest corner of Geary and Powell, to be done January 1 of next year, and an 8-sty building for Gunst at the southwest corner of Mission and 3d sts, to be done September 1. He is to erect an 8-sty building for Thomas Williams on the southeast corner of Mission and 3d sts, to be done October 1; an 8-sty building for Sanford Sachs on the north side of Geary st, between Grant av and Stockton st, to be done April 1, 1908, and is to build the Orpheum, which will be ready a year from next Christmas. Gunst's building opposite the St. Francis and Sachs' building on Geary st may be raised to twelve stories each, now that the height limit has been removed by the Supervisors.

Figuring for the New Lawyers' Title Building.

BROADWAY.—Messrs. Clinton & Russell, 32 Nassau st, are now receiving figures for the handsome new structure, which the Lawyers' Title Insurance & Trust Co., of No. 37 Liberty st, will erect at once on the site of the old Guernsey Building, covering Nos. 160 to 164 Broadway, running through with a frontage at No. 6 Maiden lane. C. H. Southard, Wrecking & Trucking Co., 9th av and 15th st, is rapidly tearing down the old structure, which is immediately opposite the new Singer Building tower and the Broadway entrance of the new City Investing Co.'s building, in Broadway and Cortlandt st. The new building will be eighteen stories high. No contracts have yet been issued. (Official announcement of this project was given in issue of Sept. 22, 1906).

New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Plans New Repair Shops.

Plans are under way by the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Co., for new repair shops to be erected in the Melrose yards, near 156th st, the Bronx, to replace the buildings recently burned. All of the machinery equipment, including the power plant, woodworking machinery, foundry and machine tools was ruined, so that a very large supply of machinery, to meet these requirements will be necessary. No figures have yet been received for the new buildings, and it is understood that the shops will be constructed on a much larger scale.

Isaac A. Hopper & Son Get Library Contract.

115TH ST.—General contract has been awarded to Isaac A. Hopper & Son, Inc., 1170 Broadway, for the new 3½-sty public library, 49.10x80 ft., to be erected at Nos. 201 to 203 West 115th st, for the New York Public Library, Astor, Tilden and Lenox Foundation, from plans by Messrs. McKim, Mead & White, 160 5th av. The exterior will be of limestone, with a mission tile, tar and gravel roof, copper and stone, copper-lined gutter cornices, steam heat, etc. The contract for a similar library, to be erected at Nos. 9 to 11 West 124th st, from plans by the same architects, has not yet been awarded.

Charles T. Barney to Improve Broadway and 86th Street.

BROADWAY.—The whole block front on the west side of Broadway, between 86th and 87th sts, owned by Charles T. Barney, is to be improved by the erection of a high-class elevator apartment house, for which Messrs. Clinton & Russell, 32 Nassau st, have been commissioned to prepare plans. It was learned at Mr. Barney's office on Tuesday, that particulars as to materials, style of architecture and construction, has not yet been worked out, and of course no figures have been taken, or contracts let.

Riverside Drive and 139th St. Improvement.

BUILDING NOTES

Builders have little to thank the weather for this spring.

"Outside of Wall Street the country is all right."—Stuyvesant Fish.

Mr. Lawton, of Mart & Lawton, the non-crazing tile makers, has returned to New York with several novelties in tiles from England.

O'Rourke Engineering Construction Co. has removed its offices to the Henry Corn Building, 345 5th av, occupying the whole fifteenth floor.

Hobson, Houghton & Co., Limited, Frank A. Tasker, general manager, have moved from 98 John st, to Nos. 19-21 Cliff st, where they will carry a complete stock of tool steel.

In April the American Bridge Co. booked 50,000 tons of steel, as compared with 42,000 tons in March, and it is estimated that the business taken by other companies brought the April total up to between 115,000 and 120,000 tons.

The foundations of the Trinity Building and the addition, and the U. S. Realty Building, were designed and carried out to completion by the Foundation Company, and the whole of the special caissons were made at their Greenpoint works.

Work on the new Catholic Home for the Aged, at Belmont av, and 183d st, is now well under way. The cornerstone was laid on Sunday last. The estimated cost is placed at $350,000, and will accommodate about 500. Richard L. Walsh, 100 William st, is general contractor.

The officers of the Engineering of Light and Illuminating Company, 25 Broad st, New York, announce that they have assigned all unfinished engineering work in hand to the Bureau of Illuminated Engineering, 437 5th av, which has facilities for undertaking the most complex and difficult problems in lighting, embracing investigations, specifications and consultations for architects, public utilities companies, municipalities, etc.

Schinasi Bros.' new cigarette factory in West 100th st, near C. P. W., has an exceptionally handsome exterior for a factory. White marble, in combination with polished gray granite columns, beautify the first story, and above that a light brick is used. Next door is the firm's stable, architecturally similar. Six stories on a frontage of 50 ft. comprehend the factory, while the stable also has a frontage of 50 ft. Gillespie & Carrel were the architects.

Central Railroad of New Jersey's new landing wharf and freightyard on the Harlem is nearly finished. Freight is already being received and discharged. A small amount of surface has been utilized to the utmost for trackage which, together with a new bulkhead and ferry landing, has been completed. Snare & Triest have started to build a freight house, which will be a corrugated steel structure on a concrete foundation. The location adjoins the 3d av highway bridge on the east.

For public and semi-public buildings the tower feature has become the architectural fashion of the country. Springfield (Mass.) will probably adorn her new city hall with a tower upon the lines of the Campanile in Venice. A beautiful tower has also been mapped out in plans for the county court house in Pittsburgh, as illustrated in last week's Record and Guide. It has been observed that the top is an adaptation of Trinity Church, in Boston, a work of Richardson. Meanwhile our own Metropolitan and Singer towers are rising.

Contractor John Downey is rapidly pushing the work on the 12-sty "Apthorp" apartment, which occupies the block between Broadway and West End av, 78th to 79th sts. The facing is completed up to and including the 10th floor. It will be remembered that William Waldorf Astor is the owner, and that the estimated cost of the structure was $3,000,000. One of the features of the building is a large central court, with driveway from Broadway to West End av. An entrance to apartments is at each of the four corners. The excavations for the "Apthorp" were completed in five months by Canavan Bros., a record performance for such an amount of work.

Mr. John R. Spellman, consulting engineer, has opened offices at 125 East 23d st. Mr. Spellman has had over fifteen years experience in every class of building construction, during which time he has held positions as chief draftsman, chief estimator and chief engineer in the foremost iron and steel concerns of New York City. Among the buildings for which Mr. Spellman has recently designed the steel work are the new Hoffman House, the 7-sty Fiss, Doerr & Carroll stable, the Y. M. C. A. addition, the E. H. Harriman residence, two 20-sty buildings downtown, and others. One of Mr. Spellman's "stunts" was to design for Thomas A. Edison, a conveyor building 600 ft. long, all designed and detailed in a day and a night.

Those who have daily business with the Manhattan Bureau of Buildings will miss the agreeable personality of Mr. James Grimes, who was Superintendent Edward S. Murphy's Assistant Chief of the Plan Division, and as such enjoyed the goodwill and confidence of the public in a marked degree. He died on Tuesday last after a sickness of three weeks, in his forty-sixth year. He was a New York Public School boy, born on the West Side, who early attracted the attention of former State Senator George W. Plunkitt, when he was a power in city politics, and through his friendship gained political employment. When Mr. Brady organized the old Department of Buildings in 1892, he made Grimes a clerk, and the young man then worked his way to a responsible position. He was quiet mannered, attentive to duties, which were exacting and important, and enjoyed the esteem of his fellow clerks. He was long a member of the Democratic General Committee of the Eleventh District, and belonged to the Associated Employes of the Building Bureaus, and the Department Benefit Society, since its organization. He leaves a widow and two children.

Kings County.

ROCKAWAY AV.—S. Millman & Son, 1778 Pitkin av, will build on west side of Rockaway av, 125 ft. south of Pitkin av, five 4-sty stores and flats, to cost $60,000. J. Konrot, 1709 Eastern Parkway, owner.

72D ST.—City & Suburban Homes Co., 281 4th av, Manhattan, will erect on the north side of 72d st, 100 ft. west of 17th av, thirty 2-sty frame dwellings, 18.6x30.6 ft, 2 families, cost about $65,000.

LONG ISLAND CITY.—A 10-sty brick and steel terminal station and office building is to be erected by the Degnon Real Estate and Terminal Company at the corner of Van Alst and Hunter's Point avs, according to information furnished the L. I. Star from a reliable source. This is perhaps the most startling improvement projected for Long Island City since the tunnels were planned. A 10-sty office building on the edge of a frog-pond and at the intersection of two unpaved, muddy streets that, at the present time are little more than country roads and not as well kept, sounds like a "rabbit dream," but the Star is assured that there is no dream about it.

VERNON AV.—M. Reddington, of 678 Vernon av, will build from plans of Architect C. W. Hewitt, two 4-sty brk tenements, 35x75, to cost $30,000, at s e cor Vernon and Washington avs.—Ulmer Brewing Co., 31 Belvidere st, Brooklyn, will build three 3-sty brk houses, 21x54, to cost $24,000, s e corner of Vernon and Jackson avs.

Miscellaneous.

TARRYTOWN.—Sealed proposals for dredging in harbor at Tarrytown, N. Y., will be received May 31. D. W. Lockwood, colonel, engineers, room 7, Army Building, Manhattan.

WASHINGTON.—Plans are being prepared by Bruce Price & de Sibour, architects, of New York and Washington, for a 9-sty office building to be erected for W. O. N. Scott, at the northeast corner of 15th and F sts, Washington, D. C., which, when completed, will form one of the most important improvements made in the business section. The building complete will cost about $300,000. It is the intention of Mr. Scott, however, to erect only half of the structure at the present time. The building is planned in the Louis XVI. style of architecture. Its exterior will be constructed entirely of limestone, with a roof laid in blue slate with copper PANAMA.—There will be needed on the isthmus a quantity of supplies for office use and a circular proposal is being prepared at the office of the Isthmian Canal Commision which will call for bids for 45 filing cabinets, 10 upright vertical sections of four drawers each, 10,000 manila folders, 2,000 alphabetical guides, cap and letter size; 50 12-drawer units fitted with 12 cap boxes, 10 tops and bases each for above units. The circular will also call for bids for supplies for machine shops and dredges, 1,700 dozen of water gauge glasses and 12,000 gauge glass gaskets.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30 (Special).—There has been a lack of accommodation in residences in San Francisco, but this condition is being rapidly overcome by the erection of hundreds of new residences. Indications point to a reduction of rents. In San Francisco reconstruction work has been going on at a marvelous rate. It is estimated that 50,000 men are engaged in the building trades; 17,000 teams are hauling building material; thousands of other men are engaged in other reconstruction work. In all forms of rehabilitation during the past year, outside of replenishment of commercial stocks and private homes, it is estimated that $80,000,000 has been expended, and of this $30,000,000 was paid to labor. In the cities about the bay and in Los Angeles and many other interior cities there has been a great amount of building. The following summary shows conditions in California: San Francisco building permits, $60,189,923; Los Angeles building permits, $16,639,969; Oakland building permits, $9,666,367.25; San Jose building permits, $2,127,650.

Product and Appliance.

Fireproof Construction.

The General Fireproofing Company has about completed additions to the plant at Youngstown, Ohio, which will double the capacity of the Allsteel furniture factory, and provide for the lug bar and girder frame departments as complete an equipment as has been possessed for some years past by the herringbone expanded steel lath and expanded metal shops.

For the manufacture of pin-connected girder frames, a shop 85 x 200 feet has been erected, with a railroad spur running through the entire length of the building. Adjoining the girder frame shop is the steel yard, piled high with stock lengths of cold twisted lug bars and the square bars used in fabricating the girder frames. This bar yard is covered by an electric crane 320 feet long, having 100 feet span, which has just been erected, and which, because of its unusual size, excites great interest. To accommodate the steady growth of the Allsteel furniture department, a reinforced concrete building, 60 x 160 feet, two stories, has been erected adjoining the old factory. By use of pin-connected girder frames, beams and girders of the same depth are provided, which facilitates hanging shafting. The office building has been enlarged to accommodate the reinforced concrete department by the erection of a two-story and basement addition, 36 x 36 feet. Cement plaster applied over the herringbone expanded steel lath is used for the exterior finish, and instead of woodwork in the addition, all-steel baseboards, moldings, window and door casings and doors finished like mahogany have been used. So closely the rich color and grain of the wood are reproduced that it is difficult to believe that the effect has been obtained on steel.

Tar for Mortar Coloring.

Tar is already a source of a greater variety of commercial articles than any other material known to man, but a mason in East Palestine, Ohio, reports still another use for it.

In erecting a number of brick houses he ran short of black mortar color and was unable to replenish his supply in the time at his disposal. Accordingly he tried a little tar, using a material which had been partially refined and had no difficulty in getting the right color for his mortar for pointing up or beading it between the bricks. Fearing defects from his workmanship, the builder watched his work carefully. After a lapse of several years he still finds that the color is as strong as ever, and the work shows a remarkable appearance of newness, whereas the other buildings where the usual mortar color was used will need repairing and further pointing up before long.

Probably the waterproof characteristics of tar prevent the washing out of the color as is the case with ordinary mortar color.

Useful in City Flats.

The habit most tenants have of fixing cheap hooks into the woodwork in apartment houses and other rented property is a source of heavy expense to the proprietor. When the screws work loose the tenant makes other holes for the hooks, the result being that the landlord is called upon by the incoming occupant to repair and repolish the woodwork, which is oftentimes a very costly item. By the application of a new hardware article, the Clift Folding Hooks, this is avoided and the tenants are supplied with an article of universal necessity. When these hooks are not in use they can be folded away. In some apartment houses the hallways are too narrow for hat and coat stands and in such cases the Clift Folding Hooks can be used, without encroaching on the hall space. Architects and builders wishing further information can address the Clift Company, 212 Cuyahoga Building, Cleveland, O.

The C. H. Wheeler Manufacturing Co., of Philadelphia, has just issued a circular on the Wheeler underwriter fire pump. It describes in detail the difference between the National Standard and the trade pump.

Tablet and Ticket Co.'s New Offices.

Friends of the Tablet and Ticket Company are pleased to note its quick recovery from the effects of a disastrous fire which destroyed entirely the plant and main office in Chicago. For twenty-three years this company had used five floors of the building at 87-89 Franklin st, Chicago, as the main office and factory, and the fire coming as it did, without warning, and spreading rapidly over the structure, consumed the whole plant and left the firm without facilities for filling orders. With characteristic energy, however, new arrangements were soon completed and within a few days the business was moving on without hindrance and with no delay.

In New York they were able to give the service without delay, besides supplying the main office to fill contracts in the West. The users of their Wilson directories, including most of the office buildings in the country, were not even aware that a fire had destroyed their plant. The promptness of the company in filling orders called forth the following testimony from Aldis & Co., managers of nearly twenty of Chicago's largest buildings:

We beg to advise you that although your establishment was destroyed by fire on the 4th instant, our order mailed to you on the same date was promptly installed by you on the 6th. We wish to thank you and congratulate you on your facilities for handling the service in an emergency.

The new Chicago offices and factory of the Tablet and Ticket Company are at 70-86 West Jackson Boulevard, and are more favorably equipped than the old quarters. The New York office is now considering arrangements to have a surplus stock here so that if the house should be burnt out there would be no delay. Mr. W. J. Martwick says the business is increasing rapidly, and it is necessary to add more machinery to supply frames for new buildings, and old ones that are being changed.

Cumberland Tinplate Works.

The open-hearth steel works, rolling mills and blackplate plant at Cumberland, Md., of N. & G. Taylor Co., of Philadelphia, are a good example of a plant designed entirely for a special line of work, namely, the manufacture of tinplates of the highest grade.

This firm, now the largest independent manufacturer of tin and terne plate of all kinds, has been quietly improving and enlarging these works, and perfecting the processes of manufacture, to obtain products suitable for a variety of special purposes. They still retain their old organization as a private firm.

Some admirable results have been secured in special bright tin plates for drawing and stamping purposes, made on a base of soft open-hearth steel.

This firm has always been identified with the sale of tin plates of the best quality, and for a long time has made no coke tin, its works at Cumberland and at Philadelphia being occupied fully with the manufacture of tin and terne plates of the highest quality.

The experience of this firm as American manufacturers of tin plate dates back to the establishment of the industry in this country. The Cumberland Works were acquired seven years ago, to provide the facilities for obtaining special grades of black plate. The experience gained in these years is at the disposal of those users of special tin plates who may have found difficulty in securing a satisfactory quality.

Outlook for Brick Building.

While the utilization of mason's materials is not so great as during the building of 1905-6, yet dealers are running into a steady market and are selling a large proportion of their material. Mr. Orin F. Perry, of the Rockland Rockport Lime Company, remarked, in regard to building work being held up by tight money, that he understood there was a good deal of work built last year, especially in the Bronx, on which the builders or owners are having trouble in obtaining loans.

"But as the price of building material of all kinds now is not excessive, we understand there is plenty of money to be obtained on good legitimate work, only perhaps the owners cannot get quite the percentage on their operations that they would like to get. The busiest part of Greater New York now is in the suburbs and Brooklyn, and there is a good deal of heavy work on Manhattan Island. We think the outlook for brick building is good and, as we understand it, concrete builders cannot compete with the builders that are building with brick at the present price. There is no change in the quotations in the price of our lime; in other words, our prices have not been changed in any way since the first of April, 1906."

Brooklyn's Building Plans.

Brooklyn has planned for a thousand more buildings so far this year than for the corresponding time in 1906, at an estimated cost of seven million dollars more. April was the biggest month for plans filed in the history of the Brooklyn Bureau of Buildings, as plans aggregating in value ten million dollars were passed on, which is an increase of one hundred per cent. over the figures for the same month last year.

Most of the permits issued were for dwellings, of which a good share will be erected, not by speculative builders, but by contracting builders—under contract to those who expect to occupy these homes. Much of the money to build with will come from sources outside of the city, so that the operations will not be delayed through inability to borrow from the close-fisted metropolitan lenders. Brooklyn's activity is the most encouraging phase of the building situation in the greater city, evidencing the prosperity and disposition of the masses.

PRIVATE SALES MARKET

Outside of several unusual transactions, including the notable purchase by Walter J. Salomon of a Broadway block near the Circle, and a large exchange of Fifth av properties, the market has given no additional evidence of improvement over the preceding week. In the lower section of Manhattan, but few sales of consequence were concluded, and although it was persistently rumored that an important purchase was closed in the vicinity of Dey st, in the early part of the week, no details were obtainable. In Harlem a large sale of dwellings constituted the feature in that locality. On Washington Heights the sale of a block front of lots for improvement furnished an interesting topic among builders, and up in the Bronx further proof of the popularity of the two-family house is evidenced by the announcement that a syndicate is to erect forty in the vicinity of West Farms road. The total number of private sales reported is 138, of which 54 were below 59th st, 47 north, and 37 in the Bronx.

A Notable Transaction.

BROADWAY.—Walter J. Salomon and Paul M. Herzog purchased on Thursday from the United States Realty and Improvement Co. the square block bounded by Broadway, 8th av, 57th and 58th sts, in all about 33,000 sq. ft., for which they are reported to have paid nearly $2,000,000. The block in question with the exception of a few small parcels fronting on 8th av, was at one time owned by the Hoffman estate. In 1902 it was conveyed by the late Dean Hoffman to the New York Realty Corporation for about $900 000. Unlike some of the recent large transactions it is said that no element of exchange entered into the present deal. It will be recalled that Mr. Salomon bought a few weeks ago 1539 to 1549 Broadway and 202 West 46th st, later enlarging the purchase by the acquisition of Nos. 204 and 206. Mr. Salomon also owns the fee of the southwest corner of 49th st and Broadway, the leasehold of the "Flatiron" building at 47th st, Broadway and 7th av, and many other important parcels in the central section of Manhattan. A few years ago there was a movement on foot to induce the city to purchase for park purposes the small parcel bounded by 58th st, the Circle, Broadway and 8th av. This was considered by property-owners at the time as an important improvement and if now carried out will add immensely to the value of the block just acquired. It is understood that Mr. Salomon has no immediate plans for improvement under consideration, but it is thought likely that some important alteration will be undertaken. Edwin Q. Bell, of the Bell-Wiley Company, negotiated the sale.

LEXINGTON AV.—The Price estate sold 118 Lexington av, southwest cor of 26th st, 3-sty and basement stone front dwelling, 19.9 x75.

1ST AV.—Max Dorf and others sold 93 1st av, 5-sty tenement, 24.3x100.

1ST AV.—Enrico V. Pescia & Co. sold for Schmeidler & Bachrach, the two 4-sty tenements, with stores, 659-661 1st av, adjoining southwest cor 28th st, 40x75.

3D AV.—Max Leyersohn sold 281 3d av, a 3-sty building, 22x75, at southeast cor 22d st.

Fifth Avenue Leasehold Purchased.

5TH AV.—S. Osgood Pell & Co. sold for Mrs. Robert Plant-Graves the Columbia College leasehold property, 586 Fifth av, to Morris Lowenbein, of A. Lowenbein's Sons. The plot will be improved with a large mercantile building. Five of the eight houses in this block, between 47th and 48th sts, have been converted to business use.

Ratio of Assessed Valuation to Actual Value.

Extracts have been published from a letter written by Comptroller Metz to the Hon. Lawson Purdy, President, Department of Taxes and Assessments, giving the assessed valuations of certain properties in the five boroughs of the city which have been acquired by the City of New York either by purchase or by condemnation proceedings, stating also the cost of these properties to the city and the percentage which the assessed valuations have borne to said cost. These percentages appear to be absurdly low, as, for example, in Manhattan, 57%; in the Bronx, 49%; in Brooklyn, 27%, and in Queens and Richmond, 53%. The conclusion which the Comptroller draws from these figures is, either that property is being assessed far below its market value, or that the city pays too much for the property which it acquires.

To this the Commissioner has indirectly replied that an investigation of a thousand sales in Manhattan disclosed that the assessed valuations were on an average about 82% of the prices paid. A further contribution to the discussion is from President Levey, of the Title Insurance and Trust Company, in a letter to Commissioner Purdy, in which he says:

As every one conversant with real estate values knows that the ratio of assessed valuation to actual value is very much higher than that stated in the Comptroller's letter, the conclusion must be that the city is mulcted in its purchases of real estate.

Some time ago I had occasion to investigate the question of the ratio of assesed valuation to actual value, and directed the preparation of certain statistics bearing on this subject. The details of this investigation I enclose herewith. It covers all auction sales and all conveyances from executors and trustees in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx from January 1 to July 1, 1905. I do not think it can seriously be denied that the very large increases in assessed valuations since that date have resulted in raising, rather than lowering, the ratio of assessed to real value.

The statistics show that out of 481 conveyances by executors and trustees of real estate in the Borough of Manhattan during the period stated, 47 separate properties were assessed at more than the amount which they actually sold for, and that the average ratio of assessed value to selling price was 75.9%; that out of 284 separate pieces of real estate in the Borough of Manhattan, sold at auction during this period, 42 were assessed for more than they brought, and the average ratio of assessed value to selling price was 80.2%; that out of 132 conveyances by executors and trustees of real estate in the Borough of the Bronx, during the period stated, 12 were assessed for more than they sold for, and the average ratio of assessed value to selling price was 67.1%; and that out of 178 separate pieces of real estate in the Borough of the Bronx, sold at auction during said period, 13 were assessed for more than they brought, and the average ratio of assessed value to selling price was 65.8%.

Legislative Digest.

Senate bill No. 1,067 (Allds), having passed the Senate, is now in the Rules Committee of the Assembly. The measure requires the true consideration to be given in deeds. It is favored by the Tax Reform Association and the Tax Commissioners, but is opposed by the Allied Real Estate Interests of the State of New York. The bill provides, among other things, the following:

The deed or other instrument of conveyance may contain the certificate of the grantor that the consideration expressed in such deed or other instrument is the true consideration for such conveyance, and in all cases where such certificate is not contained in such deed or other instrument of conveyance the grantor shall, as a condition precedent to the recording of such deed or other instrument of conveyance, make, subscribe, and deliver to the recording officer an affidavit in the form to be prescribed by the State Board of Tax Commissioners, stating the true consideration for such conveyance. The recording officer to whom such affidavit is delivered shall immediately file the same in the office of the State Board of Tax Commissioners, and shall not disclose to any person, except such State Board of Tax Commissioners, the true consideration set forth in such affidavit. The making of any false certificate or affidavit as to such consideration by any person shall render such person liable to a penalty of $100, to be recovered by the District Attorney of the county, for the benefit of the county, in an action brought in the name of the people.

The Bills which were introduced at the present session of the Legislature to cure a defect in the Mechanics' Lien Law, by so amending it that a bond filed to discharge a mechanic's lien might be discharged in the same manner as the mechanics' lien itself, have been passed by the Assembly and are now before the Senate. The Bills above referred to are Assembly Bills Nos. 1881 and 1882; they were introduced in the Assembly by Hon. William Young, and in the issue of the Record and Guide, dated April 6th, was printed a communication from Messrs. Thompson & Warren, the attorneys who drafted the Bills, explaining their objects more in detail. We are advised that the Bills, if passed, will cure a defect in the law which has been a source of annoyance to contractors and builders for a long time.

The Real Estate Board of Brokers of New York opposes the enactment of the Tenement House Department's amendments to the tenement code, and in an official statement says that the general objection to the bill at this conference was its manner of introduction, and changing the law without conferring with any of those interested, or having a chance to be heard. In the amendments the committee has noted changes which conflict with other amendments of the bill, and an attempt to stop the erection of four-story and basement flats, as particularly applied to in sections 75, 91 96, etc. This is particularly bad, as four-story tenements have done much to alleviate the suffering of the tenement house dweller, giving them larger and lighter rooms at a lower price than has been prevailing in five and six-story houses.

A Good Enough Bargain.

Mr. J. Clarence Davies says that while he would not advise purchasing a large amount of unimproved Bronx land, which would be costly to carry, still one can purchase on the leading thoroughfares or in newly opened sections where lots are selling below the value of $1,000 and $1,500 without any risk whatever, and with the assurance that within the next four or five years the property is bound to increase in value and show a good profit.

An Encroachment Case.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

I have entered into a real estate transaction by putting down $500 as a binder on a house, but upon further investigation I found that the house I intended to purchase has one of its independent walls encroaching 3 ins. upon the neighboring parcel. The intended purchase deeds for 25 ft. and the survey shows 25 ft. 3 ins. What I would like to know is, can the owner of this neighboring parcel in any way compel the owner of house which encroaches 3 ins. to remove said wall, which has been up and in the same condition for 17 years, and can this owner of neighboring parcel compel owner of encroaching house to buy 3-inch strip of land upon which this house encroaches? Also, if I, as owner of encroaching house, wanted to buy said 3-inch strip of ground, could owner of neighboring parcel charge any exorbitant price for same, or is he limited in his asking price according to the valuation of his property and can only charge in proportion to this valuation. Also, is there any way of getting a clear title of this encroaching parcel since this house has stood with 3-inch encroachment for the past 17 years?

Answer.—Our correspondent is referred to section 1499 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which provides, that if upon both lots buildings are erected which abut on each other, no action can be maintained so long as the encroaching wall stands. If, however, one lot is a vacant lot, the owner of the vacant lot is entitled to his full lot, to obtain possession of the 3-inch strip or to sell it; and the price for the same would be fixed by negotiations between the parties as in other real estate transactions, and in no other way could a clear title of the 3-inch strip be obtained. Not a Field for Cheap Operations.

A broker in the West Tremont section, discussing the realty situation in that locality, remarked that while there has been an appreciation in the value of lots north of 173d st and west of the elevated road, it was due almost entirely to the steady and natural northward growth of the city, rather than to the boom which affected so materially the value of vacant property lying further toward the east. It is true, he affirms, that Tremont has failed to attract the speculative builder, and seems to be due in a measure to high prices, but this he believes will prove a blessing, since it precludes the probability of cheap operations and leaves an open field for the more substantial undertakings of the investor.

Broker Wins.

A verdict of $310 and interest, amounting to $373.71, was rendered this week in the City Court before Judge Haskell in favor of Lewis B. Crane, a broker, and against Charles E. McManus. The broker claimed that through his services as such an agreement was reached between Mr. McManus and one Lubelsky for the purchase by the latter of the property 1405 5th av, at the price of $31,000, but that after such agreement had been reached, Mr. McManus refused to make the sale. Mr. McManus sought to prove that the property belonged to his mother as well as to him, and that she had refused to sell. Lawyer Jacob Friedman, of 302 Broadway, New York City, for the broker, objected to the proof of the part ownership of the mother, contending that as Mr. McManus had employed the broker to find a purchaser, it was immaterial who was the owner of the property. The proof of part ownership by the mother was thereupon excluded. The case then went to the jury, Judge Haskell charging the jury that if through any other interest in the property the defendant was unable to make the sale, that that could not deprive the broker of his commissions. The jury thereupon rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $310 and interest.

Demand in Cuba for Cement.

A correspondent writes that cement is in good demand in Cuba. One dealer at Cienfuegos receives 600 barrels monthly.

During the fiscal year of 1905-6, 31,749 barrels of Portland cement were imported through Cienfuegos, 29,389 coming from the United States, 1,279 barrels from France, 639 from Germany and 442 from Spain. Concrete is not yet extensively used in the construction of buildings. It is becoming popular, however, in bridge building and in the construction of pavements, sidewalks and sewers. Last year this city contracted for a modern system of waterworks and sewers. The $2,376,157 bid of a New York City contractor was accepted. Something like 50,000 barrels of cement will be required for this contract, and I understand that a commission merchant has already sold for the purpose 15,000 barrels. The present selling price per barrel ranges from $3.75 to $4 Spanish gold, worth 91 per cent. at present. Cement comes in wooden packages only. The duty on a barrel of 100 kilograms from the United States, including the cost of the barrel, is 30 cents. The freight rates from New York, New Orleans, or Mobile are alike and range from 48 to 50 cents per barrel.

Manufacturers desiring to introduce a new brand of Portland cement in that market should, first of all, appoint an active local agent who is thoroughly acquainted with the conditions there, then assist him by quoting lowest prices and easiest terms possible.

Mr. McKnight's Prediction.

In discussing the present demand for property on the north shore of Long Island H. S. McKnight, of the McKnight Realty Co., said:

"The records of the Building Department of Queens Borough show that in Bayside, Flushing, Whitestone and Murray Hill 425 dwellings and stores were built in 1906. I expect that this record will be broken this year, and is safe to predict that in the above places over a thousand houses will be erected. The Bayside-Flushing Co. have recently purchased the Bell property at Bayside and 1,500 lots in this tract will be sold by the McKnight Realty Co. As soon as the improvements are completed the company will erect fifty houses—a fair illustration of the demand for homes."

South Brooklyn Waterfront Improvement.

The piers that the city intends to build at South Brooklyn will be more than twice the length of those of Manhattan.

They will each be 150 ft. wide with a depth of water 35 to 40 ft. in the slips. The piers will be constructed in the main of reinforced concrete with cantilever steel trusses for roof supports. There being accordingly practically no combustible material in the piers, they will be absolutely fireproof. According to the plans of the Dock Department there will be ten of these great piers, five north of the Bush Terminal and five south. They will be divided by slips from 250 ft to 275 ft. in width. Since much of the area to be taken is under water and since there is a lack of proper depth to the main channel the construction will involve a tremendous operation of dredging and filling in.

Condemnation proceedings have been authorized.

Queens Real Estate Market on the Wane.

During the first four months of the year 1907 there was a falling off in the number of papers filed in the Queens County Clerk's office in comparison with last year. In 1906, during the months of January, February, March and April, 10,769 deeds and mortgages were recorded, but this year there has been filed but 9,862, making a decrease of 907. This cannot be accounted for as many of the transfers made last year were large farm tracts, and one paper was sufficient to cover many acres in some cases, while this year a large number of these farms are laid out, cut up and are being sold in lots. This condition should increase the business instead of decrease it, and those interested hold that the real estate market of this borough is at present on the wane.

REAL ESTATE RECORDS

Key to abbreviations:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

4th.—The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

5th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

6th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

7th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

8th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction. Valuations are from the assessment roll of 1906.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list

May 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8 and 9.

Real Estate Notes.

Clement H. Smith, 736 Tremont av, Bronx, says that full inside lots on east side Webster av, in vicinity of 184th st, are worth from four to five thousand dollars, according to location.

For sale: Block front west side Broadway, between 131st and 132d sts, 199.10x100. Block front east side Wadsworth av, between 174th and 175th sts, 189.8x100. See adv. in Wants and Offers.

Rubinger, Klinger & Co. announce that Louis Klinger has withdrawn from the firm, and that the brokerage business will be continued under the firm name of Rubinger & Sternlicht, at the same offices, No. 98 2d av.

Webster B. Mabie, George M. Gillies, and Arthur R. Bastine, recently incorporated as Mabie and Gillies, succeeds to the real estate and mortgage firm of Webster B. Mabie. Offices have been taken in the Hicks Building, northeast cor of 28th st and Broadway.

The exodus from the west to the east side of the financial district has started. Tenants are being easily found for the new office buildings, and from among the leading firms, too. One reason is more reasonable rents, but many firms who have made the change consider it the most advantageous side of the town.

President Lawson Purdy, of the Tax Board, says that a list of 1,018 real estate sales made recently showed that the assessed value was in the neighborhood of 82 per cent. of the price paid by the purchaser. This is for Manhattan alone, but Mr. Purdy believes that Manhattan prices are a fair estimate on which to figure land values all over the city.

Real estate men say that while vacant property on Webster av, between Tremont and Bedford Park, has practically undergone no improvement worth mentioning during the past five years, it is, nevertheless destined to become a business thoroughfare. The section regarded as possesing the greatest prospective value is that portion of the avenue in the vicinity of Fordham road.

A young process server in the Tenement Department, when detected in the act of blackmailing a property owner, made a serious allegation against the probity of his colleagues in the department, one that should not be permitted to pass without a thorough investigation. In this connection it may be said that reports from Albany are to the effect that the department's bill of amendments to the code will not be enacted.

William Wicks, who for eight years was associated with Geo. J. Stricker in the real estate business at 3050 3d av, Bronx, died after a brief illness, at Napanoch, Ulster County, N. Y. Mr. Wicks was 38 years old and the son of Jacob and Barbara Wicks, of Yorkville. His father was an extensive builder in Yorkville and Harlem in the years from 1868 until 1885, when he retired. Funeral services were held at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Geo. T. Stricker, 3050 3d av, Wednesday evening, May 1.

Some conception of the magnitude of transactions in vacant property, which have been effected in Queens Borough of late may be formed by a statement made by an officer of one of the most successful operating companies in that zone. He said that in compiling a reference memoranda the statistics gathered exhibited total sales of 35,000 lots, averaging $500 each, all of which represented purchases made within a year. By a slight computation it will be seen that this foots up the enormous sum of $17,500,000.

The movement for a permanent congress of realty interests which the Real Estate Board of Brokers of New York is organizing in connection with their legislation committee is progressing, and the following societies will appoint delegates to confer and issue a call for permanent organization: House and Real Estate Owners' Association, Taxpayers' Association, West Side Taxpayers' Association, Real Estate Owners' Protective Association, Harlem Property Owners' Association, Real Estate Owners' Protective Association, Eighteenth Ward Taxpayers' Association, and Washington Heights Taxpayers' Association. In speaking of the proposed organization, Mr. Gitterman, who represents the Manhattan Real Estate Board of Brokers, said that its purpose is to guard against the passage of iniquitous bills and to further the interests of the real estate fraternity in ecuring needed legislation on all matters of vital concern to the property owner as well as the real estate broker.

Estimates of Population.

In the latest bulletin from the United States Bureau of the Census are found estimates of the population of Hudson River cities, towns and villages, together with other localities of interest. The figures in the 1900 column are from the Federal census, and those in the two other columns are Federal estimates, which, it will be observed, give Yonkers only 61,414 population in 1905, whereas the total, according to the state census in that year, is 61,716:

	1906.	1905.	1900.

Broadway Then and Now.

Trinity Building, just north of the old churchyard, in Broadway, New York, pays returns on a valuation of $5,000,000, according to the Commercial. In 1857 the land with the building on it, which stood until a few years ago, was bought for $200,000. Farther up Broadway, for the site on which the Astor House stands with the original building on it, John Jacob Astor paid $60,000. The land alone is now worth $3,000,000.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

Principles of City Land Values

By RICHARD M. HURD, President of the Lawyer's Mortgage Insurance Co., of New York

Size, 6 x 9½ inches, 160 pp., bound in cloth, fully illustrated

Price, $1.50. Postage, 15 cents

¶ This is the first book written on this most important subject. As the title indicates, it deals with the fundamental influences which determine urban values. The position which the author occupies has given him unusual facilities for collecting and classifying the necessary data

MR. HARRIMAN has occupied the centre of the Wall Street stage this week and there have been mixed sentiments regarding him, for among the numerous notable American financiers who have more or less dominated Wall Street, Mr. Harriman certainly stands in the first rank. No one, therefore, was surprised when the counsel to the Interstate Commerce Commission came out with a recommendation that there should be an annulment of certain mergers and that legal proceedings should be initiated to dissolve the union between the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific railway companies. This was not all, as the recommendations included the cancellation of the agreements for the acquisition of control of the Illinois Central. Stocks promptly went down on the publication of the report, but subsequently recovered. Second thoughts seemed to influence operators when they called to mind that after all the report consisted of recommendations only, and that the existing conditions so far as the Harriman deals are concerned cannot be changed for some time to come, as there is absolutely nothing new in the spirit or letter of the recommendations of counsel. It is not, however, pleasant to hear the "Alton deal" referred to by the commission's counsel "as one of the most remarkable cases of manipulation and stock watering ever known," a decided reflection on Wall Street methods. Mr. Harriman is certainly not popular for the moment and many who recognize his ability assert that it would be better for the railroads if he paid more attention to their physical condition than to scheming in Wall Street in connection with them. Commission houses complain that business is dull and believe that there will be little activity during the summer. Union Pacific, however, has been well bought and much of the stock is now in stronger hands than heretofore. The general public has, during the week, been absolutely indifferent as to the course of prices. Mercantile business has not been so good, largely attributable to the unseasonable weather. We do not hear so much about crop scares. They did their work, however, but the excitement in grain subsided, wheat falling considerably and actually developing weakness. Call and time money showed a tendency to advance. Some say it is being kept low in order to market prospective issues of bonds and other securities by Delaware & Hudson, Baltimore & Ohio, Reading and Wabash. New York Central also will soon ask for $60,000,000, so investors will thus have an ample choice as to the disposition of their savings. Whether reasonable rates for money which now obtain will be beneficial to real estate and building interests during the summer, it is a little too early in the season to predicate on.

ONE of the most noticeable features of the building activity of New York continues to be the number of loft buildings erected. The construction of tenements, apartment houses and office buildings has diminished in volume; but there has been no diminution in the number of buildings projected for the wholesale trade. The whole of Fifth Avenue below Twenty-third Street is or soon will be occupied by new structures of this class; and the same statement is true of the side streets, below Twenty-third Street, between Fourth and Sixth Avenues. A large number of old brownstone residences on Twentieth and Twenty-first Streets are now being torn down, and when the new structures on those streets are finished there will be very little space left south of Twenty-third Street for operations of this character. In view of this occupation of the existing wholesale district, the question of the range of territory to be used for its further extension becomes of great interest. Of course a new wholesale district will have to come into being north of Twenty-third Street; but what line will it follow? And how far east and west will it extend? The value of real estate on Fifth Avenue north of Twenty-third Street is too high to be available for the purpose of wholesale business. It looks as if the retail trade will also occupy Madison Avenue and the side streets off Fifth Avenue. There is a certain amount of room on Broadway, but the recent improvements on that thoroughfare have been more in the nature of office than of loft buildings. Sixth Avenue might seem to be available, but here again real estate values have been increased to such an extent of late years that the erection of loft buildings seems to be wholly improbable. The level of prices on Sixth Avenue, between Twenty-third and Thirty-second Streets, is adapted to its use for department stores. On the whole it looks as if the values which the retail trade has given to real estate between Twenty-sixth and Thirty-fourth Streets, Madison and Sixth Avenues, would force the wholesale trade farther west and farther east. It will be found cheaper for business firms, needing a large amount of well-lighted floor space, to follow lines of Fourth Avenue on the east and of Seventh Avenue on the west. Cheaper grades of loft and light manufacturing buildings have already been built in many cases on or near Fourth and Seventh Avenues, but it looks as if hereafter more expensive fireproof buildings would also be driven farther away from the central Broadway and Fifth Avenue line by the wedge of the retail trade. The retail trade itself will not be pushed farther uptown, because the superior transportation facilties of this district, derived from the Pennsylvania and trolley terminals, will make it more valuable for retail purposes than for any other. The operation of these novel conditions will be awaited with great interest, and will necessarily produce important changes in the distribution of business in Manhattan.

COMPTROLLER METZ is a man of many excellent ideas, who is really trying to introduce business principles into the administration of the important department of which he is the chief. His idea, for instance, of organizing a central purchasing bureau for the whole city, which would have power to buy the necessary municipal supplies in large quantities and at the lowest possible prices, is admirable, and if put into practice it would save the city many hundreds of thousand dollars every year. But the Comptroller is a resident of Brooklyn, and in his attitude towards rapid transit he is more alive to the interests of his own borough than he is to those of the whole city. He apparently believes that whatever money the city has to appropriate for purposes of rapid transit construction should be devoted to Brooklyn; and he argues that a subway built to the outlying portions of that borough would increase the local assessed valuations to such an extent that the city could then afford to build subways for Manhattan and the Bronx. In other words, the 2,700,000 people living in Manhattan and the Bronx should wait for their improved means of transit until the needs of the 1,300,000 residents of Brooklyn have been satisfied. Surely the argument would look more plausible when turned upside down. Why not afford the 2,700,000 residents of Manhattan and the Bronx the transit service they need, and use the proportionately larger increase in assessed valuations in order to help out the very much smaller number of people living in Brooklyn? Moreover, this revised version of the argument is still more plausible when we consider what is already being done for Brooklyn and Queens, and what is being done for Manhattan and the Bronx. The city itself is now building two bridges across the East River at an expense of over $40,000,000, and it is just completing a subway to Brooklyn, which will alleviate the existing congestion. Furthermore, it is about to spend $10,000,000 for a subway in Manhattan, connecting the terminals of the two existing bridges, which is intended chiefly for the benefit of the residents of Long Island. Finally, it is improving the existing terminal of the Brooklyn Bridge at a huge expense, which again will chiefly benefit Brooklyn. Besides these municipal improvements, the Pennsylvania Co. is building a four-track, and the Interborough Co. a two-track tunnel under the East River. On the other hand, neither the city nor any private company is at the present time spending a dollar to improve the service in Manhattan itself or between Manhattan and the Bronx. Doubtless, even with all the money that is being spent to provide additional means of communication under and over the East River, the service will still be lacking in certain respects, particularly in the matter of improved connection with the outlying parts of the borough of Brooklyn. But surely under the circumstances Manhattan and the Bronx have a valid claim for any money which can be immediately appropriated by the city for purposes of new transit construction.

THE ENACTMENT of the provision for the optional payment of the recording tax on old mortgages removes a serious defect in the law. In the recording tax bill prepared by the New York Tax Reform Association and introduced in the Legislature of 1904, provision was made for the recording of old mortgages, and a similar provision was contained in the bill vetoed last year by the Governor. As a compromise it was omitted from the second bill which became law. It is a matter for congratulation that the present Legislature so promptly remedied the omission. Credit is due also to the Allied Realty Interests for their co-operation with the Senate Committee in the preparation of the various amendments. Had this recording of old mortgages been provided for last year many cases of hardship would have been avoided. Holders of past-due mortgages have called them solely because they wished to re-lend under the recording tax law, and secure exemption; and borrowers have been put to expense and inconvenience. Undoubtedly if the law had not been amended many more borrowers would have been seriously affected, especially in the present state of the money market. Mortgagees assessed this year for mortgages have refrained from calling them, in the hope that this relief would be granted. As outside the City of New York assessment day is generally July 1, up-State borrowers have been spared the expense to which many in this city were put. But the benefit of the amendment is not confined to borrowers. Holders of mortgages not yet due have been paying, in many cases, a quarter or a third of the income from the mortgage as a personal property tax. They can now, by making a comparatively small payment, secure exemption from such excessive and unjust taxation.

The Future of the Real Estate Market.

AT the present writing it appears probable that the Public Utilities bill introduced into the Legislature at the instance of Governor Hughes will be passed. It has been accepted in substance by the Republican majorities in the two houses; and even if amended, the amendments will not be radical enough to justify the Governor in vetoing the bill. This result may or may not be in general a matter of congratulation, but there can be no doubt that their effect upon the situation in New York in respect to rapid transit will be unfortunate. The work of the present commission will be thrown away, and the new commission will have to begin once again the tedious process of laying out new routes, obtaining the consents of property-owners and of the courts, and of satisfying the scruples of the Board of Estimate. After the preliminaries have been gone over again the routes will again be subject to public competition, and if no private bidder is obtained, the question of municipal construction or of some modification of the terms of contract will have to be settled. At the same time the existing difficulties connecting with the borrowing capacity of the city will have to be faced. Altogether what with the bad credit of the Interborough Co., the debt limit of the city, the possibility of disagreements between the Board of Estimate and the new commission, and the indisposition of private capital to embark in an enterprise under such rigid public control—what with all these adverse conditions, it looks as if New York would be very lucky in case the construction of new subways were started at any time during the next three or four years.

What will be the effect of such a delay upon the real estate market? In considering this question, it must be remembered that, although there will be a stoppage of subway construction, the means of communication possessed by the inhabitants of New York and its vicinity will none the less be very much increased from other sources. During these years New Jersey will be connected with Manhattan by the trolley tunnels and by those of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. Queens will be connected with Manhattan by the Blackwell's Island Bridge, the Belmont tunnel, and those of the Long Island Railroad. Brooklyn will be connected with Manhattan by the new subway, by the Manhattan Bridge and by a terminal subway in Manhattan. With all these increased means of communication the augmenting population of the city will have an abundance of new territory opened up for settlement, but these increasing means of communication will run exclusively east and west rather than north and south. It may be expected consequently that the number of inhabitants living in Brooklyn and Queens and in Hudson and Essex counties will increase at a much higher rate than they do now. Their accessibility will be much improved, compared to the accessibility of the upper regions of Manhattan, the Bronx and Westchester; and when the national census is taken in 1910 it will be found that a very considerable displacement of population has taken place.

On the whole it looks as though the Bronx would be the chief sufferer from the coming changes in transit conditions. Washington Heights and the Dyckman tract will be served by the existing subway and will obtain a share of the increase in population, although a smaller share than it ought to have. The territory to the west, east and north of the Central Park will probably hold its own, in spite of the fact that the proportion of vacancies in the tenement houses and in the lower grade of apartment houses is likely to be larger than it is at present. The business districts of Manhattan will be positively benefited by increased ease with which the inhabitants of New Jersey and Long Island can reach the offices, theatres and shops in Manhattan. But the Bronx will have no compensation for its comparative inaccessibility. The electrification of the Central and New Haven lines will do something for its residents, but inasmuch as these lines cannot carry passengers to the wholesale and financial districts in Manhattan, their effect will be limited. The whole western half of the Bronx, except a small section near the subway terminal, will be unprovided with rapid transit, and the populous eastern section will have to put up with its existing inadequate means of communication. Of course the Bronx will continue to grow, but its growth will be stunted by a virtual transit discrimination against it and in favor of Queens and Brooklyn.

In view of these conditions, the general lines of real estate and building activity during the next few years will become tolerably plain. Brooklyn and Queens will continue their new prosperity and will not only get the most of the increase in population, but will probably rob Manhattan and the Bronx of some of their existing inhabitants. This growth of Long Island will be accelerated by the increased industrial opportunities resulting from the Connecting Railway and other similar improvements. On the other hand, activity in the Bronx will be limited to a small region and will be so hindered that its growth will be much slower than it should be. In Manhattan there will be a steady although a moderate building of cheap apartment houses on Washington Heights and of more expensive ones on the West Side. But most of the activity in Manhattan will be in the central business and speculative district. It is the area betwen Twenty-third and Fifty-ninth Streets, Fourth and Eighth Avenues which has been most active during the past year, and it is this area which will continue to be active. The delay in building new subways will eventually hurt this region very much, because of the lack of sufficient means of local transit; but this condition will not be felt any more than it is at present during the coming three years. During all that period the retail, wholesale, theatre and restaurant districts will be active and prices will be advancing. No one yet realizes the increased trade which the new tunnels will bring to this part of Manhattan, and the effect of these local conditions will probably be sufficient to counter-balance the influence of a period of declining business.

True Consideration in Deeds.

To the Editor Record and Guide:

The purpose and scope of the bill now before the Legislature relating to the "statement of true consideration in deeds" seems to be generally misunderstood. The bill requires recording officers to furnish local assessors a list of conveyances of real property recorded, describing the parties and property and giving the consideration as expressed in the deed. The assessors are then required to set down opposite each parcel the asssed value as it last appears on the rolls and forward the list to the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

If the deed does not contain the certificate of the grantor that the consideration therein expressed is the true consideration, then before the instrument can be recorded the grantor MUST FILE AN AFFIDAVIT STATING THE TRUE CONSIDERATION. This affidavit must then be filed by the recording officer with the State Board of Tax Commissioners, and he MUST NOT DISCLOSE this true consideration to anyone else.

The purpose of the bill is to supply the State Tax Commissioners, only, with information upon which they can base an estimate of the percentage of full value at which real property is assessed in each tax district. It is a companion bill to one amending the tax law in regard to the assessment of special franchises. This latter bill empowers the State Tax Board to place a tentative assessment at full value upon each corporation or person liable to a special franchise tax, and to reduce such assessment (as certified to the local assessors) to what in their judgment is the actual percentage of real estate assessment to full value in any tax district.

At present the assessments made by the State Board are held by the courts to be at full value, and the corporations so assessed are entitled by judicial decision to have that assessment reduced through certiorari proceedings to the same proportion of full value at which other taxable real estate is assessed in any tax district. This dispute as to full value and partial assessment is mainly responsible for the present litigation in regard to special franchise taxes, and for the great amount which is still in arrears in this city. The State Tax Board is endeavoring to remove this source of litigation.

THE BILL DOES NOT APPLY TO NEW YORK AND KINGS COUNTIES or to the City of Buffalo, and it does not give any information to the assessors that they cannot now obtain by examining the records, except possibly the assurance in some cases that the sum named is not a true consideration. The only amounts they will be told about by the recording officer will be those in the deed, that now go on the records.

However, the requirement that if the true consideration is not expressed in the deed an affidavit must be filed may lead, in many cases, to a statement of the true consideration in the deed itself. This it seems to us would be advantageous, not merely to dealers in real estate and prospective purchasers, but to the community at large, since it would increase the information at the disposal of the assessors as to the actual amount paid for real property.

The custom of omitting the true consideration from deeds has become so prevalent that the assessors are seriously hampered in their efforts to accurately assess real estate and avoid discrimination between taxpayers.

Assessment of Real Estate.

To the Editor Real Estate Record and Guide:

Sir—I note that in your issue of May 11th you characterize as "not entirely candid" my statement in reference to Senator Allds' bill requiring the true consideration of deeds to be furnished to the tax assessors. The basis of your criticism seems to be the following portion of my statement:

> "There is no reason why dealers in real property should be required to permit their customers to find out at what price they buy and at what price they sell to other customers."

This extract should have been read with its context. In the statement preliminary to the one referred to, I said:

> "The apparent purpose of this bill is to furnish assessing officers with facts on which they can base their assessment of real property in the various tax districts of the State."

In a later portion of the statement, and immediately after the extract you quoted, I said:

> "If tax officers were properly equipped they could find out the true values of real property better than can be ascertained from the statement of consideration in conveyances."

It is quite true, as you say, that the purpose of the Allds' bill is to enable the tax collectors the better to perform their duty, but once the Legislature establishes the principle that a person can be compelled to disclose the details of his personal business for any purpose, it will be comparatively easy to enact a law compelling every one to disclose his private affairs generally for the public's information. The principle is wrong, in my judgment, and in objecting it would seem proper to refer to the possibilities which might follow its enactment into law.

Your editorial has brought the whole question of assessment on real estate into the open, and I take this opportunity to answer some of the arguments you make therein. The increase or decrease in land values which takes place in the larger cities within comparatively short periods of time would render worthless any appraisal based on considerations of deeds recorded before such increase or decrease takes place. If the consideration of the deed becomes the basis of the tax, we should have continual under-appraisement where land values are rising and continual over-appraisal where land values are falling. It is difficult to see what this law would accomplish, since notwithstanding its enactment into law, appraisals based on other considerations than that of purchase price would still be necessary. Appraisals are defined in the Statute as being such amounts as would constitute "payment of a just debt due from solvent debtors." In construing this Statute the courts of this State have long since discarded the theory that the cost of real estate is the proper criterion of its value for assessment purposes.

In People ex rel Albany & Greenbush Bridge Co., vs. Weaver, 34 Hun, 321, the Court said: "The property in question is business property created for the purpose of earning money. With respect to such property this Court has decided that in ascertaining its "full value" its cost may be considered, but the more controlling consideration is its earning capacity." In the case of People, etc., vs. Pond, 13 Abbot, N. C. 1, the Court said: "To take the cost of a piece of real estate as a criterion of its value in very many cases would be unwise and oppressive as a basis of taxation. . . . The value of the property is to be measured by . . . the amount of money the property would sell for at a fair, free and well-advertised sale. The price it would bring would largely depend upon the use to which it could be applied and the profits of such use." In the following cases the earning capacity of the property is held to be largely the test. People, ex rel, the Wallkill Valley Railroad Company, vs. Keator et al, 67 Howard 277; and People ex rel, Pres., etc., D. & H. Canal Co., vs. Roosa et al, 2 Howard Practice, N. S., 456.

In view of the uniform decisions of the courts on this question, it would seem inadvisable to enact into law a principle, the operation of which would constitute a violation of the personal and private rights of the citizen. Very truly yours,

ALLAN ROBINSON,
(President Allied Real Estate Interests of the State of New York.)

Co-Operative Building.

IN what is now being talked about as the "Reconstruction of New York," it seems assured that the co-operative building will figure most importantly. Despite the fact that co-operation of itself is not at all a new idea in real estate, it looks as if only just now was this principle really coming into its own and really starting in to be worked out on broad, successful and progressive lines. One able group of financiers has taken up this idea, modified it in a most practical way, and has not only started in upon the first of their buildings—an apartment house—but has plans in detail to launch very speedily other apartment houses of all prices of apartments, all co-operative, co-operative office buildings and hotels, and later, very possibly, co-operative flats of very low price.

Walter Russell, the artist, whose home is 15 West 67th st, is the head of this financial group. He was one of the nine artists named "the Dreamers," who several years ago erected in West 67th st the first co-operative studio building, and much to the amazement of practical builders and real estate men made a most pronounced success of it. Later, on the same block, Mr. Russell with yet another body of men, only a few of whom were in the first group, built another co-operative studio building, trying a new experiment here, announcing that "Art would pay in dollars and cents," and adding thousands of dollars in decoration. Their judgment was emphatically verified, for this second building has, ever since the day it was finished, paid as much more in annual revenue as the whole original extra expense in decoration.

Mr. Russell has had in his mind the development of these ideas along broad business lines and on a large sized scale for a considerable length of time. He sailed for Europe late last summer to elaborate and carefully think out his ideas. Upon his return a few months ago he at once started to put these ideals into practical form, to get into construction one after another, as rapidly as possible, a series of co-operative structures of all types that should have decorative art as their foundation stone. He had studied carefully the co-operative problem and had seen that, as it had hitherto been carried out, its weak point was in the management of each building. This objection he has ingeniously overruled by establishing first of all a parent company for the management of all the edifices—apartment houses, office buildings, hotels—that he may erect co-operatively.

THE PARENT COMPANY.

This parent company is the "Stuyvesant Co-operative Buildings," Incorporated. It has its offices at 437 5th av, and the first structure it will erect is already under way—the "Manhattan Square Studios." This splendid new building is in West 77th st, facing the American Museum of Natural History, a structure of 100 feet frontage and 14 stys high. It will be one of the most remarkable in New York, both decoratively and in its wealth of large and magnificent studios. One of these, for example, to be occupied by Frank V. Du Mond, the mural artist, will have dimensions of 44x30 feet. Mr. Russell himself is to have a triplex apartment in this building, occupying three floors, and Karl Bitter, the sculptor, will be another of the co-operative owners. Already, though the Manhattan Square Studios are only just started, large investments have been made in this building, and at least 50 per cent. of its space has been contracted for on the co-operative plan. Thus is to be seen a concrete instance of the way the co-operative movement along proper lines and run upon a business basis is commencing to sweep New York.

FOR A CO-OPERATIVE OFFICE BUILDING.

The cost of this initial building is to be about one million dollars. It will take about a year to finish it. Meantime Walter Russell and his associates will keep on along the same lines, putting up one building after another, some exceedingly costly, some of low price. They already have the site fixed for a co-operative office building, and are working upon the plans. One special idea that they are developing is that of a large apartment building of small suites, each of which will sell for from $5,000 to $10,000 outright. These are intended for people who have country places outside of New York, and who like to come into the city frequently for a night, or for a day or so at a time. Now, when they do come to New York, they put up at a hotel. Russell believes that there are a large number of people who will welcome having a place of their own of this sort, right in the heart of New York, that they could turn the key on at any time, feel that it was perfectly safe and under guard and also was not costing them too much.

This new idea of co-operation has been worked out so that it is of distinct financial benefit to the people who want to live in apartment houses in New York, whether they can pay $5,000 a year, or $1,000 a year. The entire story is told very entertainingly in a pamphlet Mr. Russell has just had printed, called "The Simple Life—Co-operative." It is an ingenious little romance of how the co-operative idea really originated in New York, and it tells in its pages how the co-operative plan, modernized, makes the co-operative investor an owner and gets "the other fellow to pay his rent."

The architects on these buildings are Harde & Short, of 3 West 29th st, who have made very novel and ingenious plans for the various suites and most picturesque elevations for the facades.

Residential Construction.

Reports of the Tenement House Department disclose that in the years 1904, 1905 and 1906, apartments for 82,095 families were added to the existing supply in Manhattan. (By "apartment" is meant a suite of rooms in a multi-family house.) During that same period only 243 dwellings were erected in the borough. In the case of dwellings the building records do not distinguish between those for but one family and those intended for two. In the whole city apartments were erected in these years—which were the three best in history—for 172,932 families, and dwellings for 37,722 (estimating that one-half as intended for two families), a total of 210,654 families. Counting four persons to a family, this implies accommodations for a population of 842,616. The Board of Health estimates the present rate of growth at 135,000 a year.

Amount of Stone for Macadam Roads.

The Commissioner of Public Roads of New Jersey, Mr. E. C. Hutchinson, gives in an appendix to his annual report for 1906, a table of the amounts of stone, in tons per mile, required to build roads of widths varying from 8 to 20 ft. and depths of from 4 to 12 inches.

This table can be reproduced by any one, or the amount for any special case calculated, by multiplying the constant 273.44 by the product of the width in feet and depth in inches, the result being in tons per mile. For example, a mile of 15-foot roadway, 8 inches deep, will require 15x8x273.44, or 3,281.28 tons of stone. These results will, say the report, approximate the number of tons of thoroughly rolled stone necessary to construct each mile at the designated depths and widths. The basis is 3,000 tons of loose stone, or 3,500 tons of compressed stone, for a road one mile long, 16 feet wide, and 8 inches deep.

Riverside Drive Awards

COMPTROLLER METZ has recently called attention of the public to the great discrepancy between the assessed valuations of property acquired by the City in condemnation proceedings and the awards made by the commissioners in such proceedings. At a recent banquet he said that there were in Brooklyn a combination of real estate men who bought up property as soon as it was known that property was to be acquired by the City for public purposes. President Coler, of the Borough of Brooklyn, openly charged in a meeting of the Board of Estimate that the methods of acquiring title to property for such purposes was open to grievous abuses, specifying instances of such favoritism.

The Appellate Division very recently reversed an order of confirmation in the matter of the approach to the Blackwell's Island Bridge, where it appeared that commissioners had awarded damages largely increasing the price paid by the claimants only a few months before for the same property. In the daily papers within the past week there appeared an account of the action of Judge Giegerich in refusing to confirm report of commissioners in the matter of a pumping station.

All these are welcome signs—evidently the publicity which this class of proceedings is receiving at the hand of the public officials is productive of good results—especially when these public officials, like Comptroller Metz and Corporation Counsel Ellison, make war upon honest graft in the acquisition of property needed by the City. Only recently Mr. Ellison overhauled the Bureau of Street Openings in the Borough of Brooklyn, and later published a letter in the newspapers in which he expressed his intention to prevent the perpetration of like injustice in the future.

Among the most important proceedings now pending and which have attracted public attention is one known as the Riverside Drive assessment, from 158th to 165th streets. The commissioners have filed their report, from which it appears that they have awarded for the property taken, this being only a narrow strip for the Riverside portion of the land, the sum of $1,142,263. On one of these parcels a building is taken, which estimating its value at $25,000, leaves for land alone the sum of $1,117,263.

The following tabulated table shows the Damage No., the area of property taken, the owner's name, the amount of the award, the rate per square feet, and the rate per city lot:

*The award for parcel 2, land and improvements, is $77,992. Allowing $25,000 for the improvements, the award for the land would be $52,992.

The commissioners have decided upon an extensive area of assessment, running from 72d street on the south, Dyckman street on the north, Hudson River on the west and Broadway on the east. While this large area will lessen the amount of each individual assessment, it will also relieve the adjoining property for whose benefit this improvement was devised from paying any large amount in the shape of the assessments on the part remaining. Mr. John P. Dunn, the head of the Bureau of Street Openings, has filed objections to these awards on the ground:

(1) That the awards are greatly in excess of the value of the property. (2) That the commissioners adopted an erroneous theory of value in assessing these damages. (3) That the commissioners disregarded the evidence of the appraisers called by the City.

It would appear, therefore, that these proceedings will meet with much opposition from the city authorities. Very likely the large number of property owners which will be assessed in this matter will unite with Mr. Dunn in his efforts to reduce the awards and prevent the confirmation commissioners' report and the payment of these large sums.

THE REALM OF BUILDING

Points on the Material Market.

An advance of two cents per gallon has taken place in the price of Linseed Oil. This is not due to the demand in this country, as it is estimated that the American requirement is 25% less than it was last Spring.

Throughout the United States the Portland cement trade is in good form this spring. A great amount is being taken in the West, and another great quantity in the South, so that quotations continue normal and about at the same level as for some weeks past.

Raw materials used in manufacturing products for the heating and plumbing trades have advanced in price from 5% on some grades of iron to as much as 75% on brass and bronze, since Jan. 1, 1905. The cost of raw material used in making electric light and gas fixtures has advanced about 65% in the same period, and labor about 12%.

A prominent New York machinery man who returned recently from Europe declares that European manufacturers are crowded with work, and he gives it as his opinion that the reason for prosperity there is the fact that manufacturers in the United States have not been bothering a great deal of late about export trade, and, consequently, have left the competition largely between English and German manufacturers.

Army War College Ready for Use.

WASHINGTON.—In little more than three years since President Roosevelt laid its cornerstone, the War College of the United States Army has been finished. Designed by McKim, Mead & White, the War College is the most striking feature of a great military improvement scheme. It occupies a prominent site in the Washington Barracks reservation, overlooking the Potomac. To this college will come the picked men, the cream of the army, to receive instructions in the broader and more advanced problems of warfare. In architecture and in construction the War College is a remarkable creation. The cost was nearly $700,000, and the entire work was done by day labor under the supervision of Maj. John S. Sewell, of the Engineer Corps. The building is in the form of a cross, with a dome at the intersection. The whole is after the Roman basilica style. Brick and Indiana limestone form the exterior walls, and the roof is dark slate. In front and at each end is an entrance pavilion, gable above and massive piers and Ionic columns beneath. On the front, flanking the central pavilion, are pilasters several feet lower than the Ionic columns.

—Mosaic floors are easily figured if they are of the ordinary patterns, such as a plain field, with simple isolated ornaments and line borders of different colors. The prices for field, borders and ornaments are practically standard, and thus making a price for a mosaic floor simply resolves itself into the number of square feet of field and border, at their respective prices per square foot, plus so many ornaments at so much apiece, plus so many square feet or square yards of concrete foundation, of a given thickness at its price per square foot or square yard. Terrazzo floors also are laid at standard prices with which the architect or builder can easily acquaint himself.

Mortgage Law Changes

THE BILL amending the Mortgage Recording Tax Law, which was signed by the Governor May 13, went into effect immediately. This is the bill introduced by the Senate Tax Committee embodying the various suggestions of the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

The most important change in the law is the insertion of a provision which allows the owners of old mortgages to have them exempted from assessment as personal property by paying the recording tax. This is optional, however, not compulsory.

This amendment provides that the record owner of a mortgage recorded prior to July 1, 1906, or his agent, may file with the recording officer of the county in which the real property (or any part) on which the mortgage is a lien, is situated, a sworn statement giving the date of mortgage, liber and page of record, names of the parties, and the amount still unpaid. Upon payment of the recording tax (50 cents on each $100) on such principal amount it is exempt from the personal property tax. The recording officer is to note the payment of the tax on the margin of the record, and also on the original mortgage if that is presented to him.

Unrecorded mortgages executed and delivered prior to July 1, 1906, may be recorded by the owner upon the filing of a statement as above described and payment of tax on the amount still unpaid.

Another beneficial amendment provides that the recording tax need not be paid upon a supplementary mortgage or instrument recorded for correcting or perfecting any recorded mortgage; or upon an additional mortgage increasing the security but not increasing the amount of principal indebtedness. But a contract or agreement increasing the amount of indebtedness secured by any mortgage is made taxable on such increase.

Section 301, relating to prior advance mortgages, has been altered to correct an injustice not contemplated by the framers of the section. They intended to prevent escape from taxation by a trifling payment under the annual tax law, during the few weeks it remained in force. But the section compelled the payment of a tax on the entire amount secured by such a mortgage when any further advance was made. One effect of this was to tax the whole $10,000,000 of a trust mortgage if $1,000,000 of new bonds were issued, though $9,000,000 might have been issued ten years ago. The amended section bases the tax on the amount of each advance as made.

Most of the other amendments are technical and intended to correct administrative defects. Among the changes are: A minimum tax of 50 cents on mortgages under $100 recorded after July 1, 1907; taxing mortgages for indefinite amounts or contract obligations upon the value of the property covered, unless a statement is made of the maximum amount secured, which statement shall be binding on claimants and is the basis for the tax; requiring annual reports of amounts issued or outstanding on trust mortgages.

PREPARATION AT THE REGISTER'S OFFICE.

The amendment to the Mortgage Tax Law, although it went into effect only a few days ago, did not take Register Gass unawares, as he was prepared with the proper forms of statement and affidavit and stamps for the proper reception and receipt of old mortgages, the owners of which were desirous of taking advantage of the new law.

As soon as Register Gass was informed from Albany that the amendment to the Mortgage Tax Law had been signed by the Governor, he immediately instructed Special Deputy Register Stephen J. Stilwell, who has charge of the Mortgage Tax Department, to prepare a form of a statement and affidavit required by the new law and to order the necessary stamps required, which was done, and upon the presentation of the first mortgage under the new law everything was in readiness for its proper reception.

By Section 293a of the Mortgage Tax Law, the owner and holder of all mortgages made and recorded prior to July 1, 1906, may file with the Register a written statement under oath, verified by the owner, agent, or officer of the owner, describing such mortgage, by giving the date and the liber and page of the record thereof, together with the names of the parties thereto, specifying the amount then remaining unpaid, and electing that it shall become subject to the tax prescribed by the Mortgage Tax Law, and upon filing such affidavit and paying the tax of fifty cents on every hundred dollars of the amount unpaid at the time of the filing, shall be entitled to the exemptions and immunities the same as though the mortgage had been presented for record for the first time, and it shall be the duty of the recording officer upon receiving such statement and the payment of such tax to attest his signature, which shall be conclusive evidence of the payment of the tax. Heretofore it was necessary in order to obtain the benefits for a mortgage recorded prior to July 1, 1906, to have the same cancelled and a new mortgage for a like amount made and recorded, which necessitated a search, the drawing of a satisfaction piece and a new bond and mortgage, and in some instances even this was impossible, for the reason of subsequent mortgages and liens.

This is the main feature of the new law, the rest of the amendments being merely technical, and affecting the mode of procedure of carrying on the affairs of the department.

Development of East Tremont.

RAINBOW chasing to distant parts is less furious than last spring, and more attention is being paid to nearer opportunities. Bronx Borough is decidedly more in favor with homeseekers than a year ago, since more pains are being taken to attract them. Could something certain and favorable be promulgated concerning the imminence of either an underground or elevated road in Jerome av, and reasonableness continue to control lot prices, the city would see one of the prettiest developments in its history.

Meanwhile, there is East Tremont on the other side of the borough, brought to mind by a timely address by President Becker of the Taxpayers' Association (John A. Steinmetz, Secretary), a body which has given the region a powerful uplift. It is said there has been more local and costly public improvements made here than in any other equal-sized district in the city, State or continent, and, what is more, the assessments therefor have been promptly paid. Rock piles, ice ponds, swamps, barren wastes and muddy lanes have vanished, and "metropolitan values have been placed on vacant lots by our energetic tax assessors—more so than we consider desirable." The ice ponds and trout or eel streams have been diverted into sewers, the muddy lanes into boulevards and parkways, and rocky roads into paved streets. Said President Becker:

While much work has been done on lines indicated much greater efforts are required for the future extensions of transit facilities to Jersey, Long Island and Westchester farm lands are about to bring their worthless acres into competition with the solid rock lots of the Bronx.

Outside locations are not in the same class with this district; provided the city authorities do justice by us. This organization is on record pledged to have all streets in the district paved and the sooner the better. It also is on record to have all residential streets tree lined. Our needs are manifold and wants numerous from the city treasury.

First and foremost is additional transit facilities—any scheme of rapid transit that does not provide for a four track system between the municipal building and the City Hall, means only partial relief for this rapidly growing section. It is of much more importance than any extension east or west of present system to city line. This latter would largely be for benefit of outside communities at our expense.

Present accommodations hardly suffice for local needs. When the thousands of visitors to the section viewing the Botanical Garden and Zoological Society's attractions are added, it is readily apparent that express service is needed between here and City Hall.

Another need of the district is that of additional school accommodations; we do not believe in waiting until one-half time classes are in vogue, we want additional sites secured and buildings erected. In connection with this subject we hope to have, as it is both a need and a want, a technical school on the lines of the Cooper Institute located here in the center of the borough. This project is up to Andrew Carnegie and John D Rockfeller for their consideration, and we are still anxiously waiting to hear from them.

All these requests are reasonable, and all necessary to grant. Another subway to the Bronx—which is taken to be the meaning of "additional transit facilities"—is imperative, but the public feeling is strong that the next line should be built on the west side. The suggestion for a technical school is particularly deserving of the consideration of the authorities.

Obituary Notices.

Thomas C. Smith, of 135 Broadway, Manhattan, who died suddenly on Saturday last, was one of the best known real estate appraisers in the city. For about 18 years Mr. Smith maintained offices at 111 Broadway. Among the fraternity he was regarded as a conscientious worker, and enjoyed an enviable reputation as a thoroughly impartial expert. On many occasions he acted as an appraiser for the city. During 1880 he sold 5 and 7 Monroe st to Weinstein & Mandelbaum (now Mandelbaum & Lewine), which was one of the first purchases made by that firm on Manhattan Island. Mr. Smith was a member of the Real Estate Board of Brokers.

Franklin R. Wallace, whose death occurred last Sunday, conducted a real estate business at 949 Broadway. After spending many years in mining and land operations in Colorado and Montana, he returned to this city about four years ago. He dealt principally in suburban property.

Edward B. Tompkins, president of the Astoria and the Manhattan Marble Companies, died on Saturday at his home, 51 West 76th st. He was also president and a director of the Emerson Troy Granite Company and of the Robert C. Fischer Company, vice-president of the People's Surety Company and of the Union Bank of Brooklyn. Mr. Tompkins was born in England and came to this country at the age of 17. He was widely known in the stone trades as one of their most successful representatives.

—President Haffen advocates a bridge to be built between Ferry Point, in the Bronx, and Whitestone, in Queens. But while favoring a bridge, he would not oppose a ferry. Whitestone is set in a beautiful country for homes, but is now not easily accessible from Manhattan.

Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, will sell by auction Tuesday, June 4, at 11 a. m. sharp, 216 lots just north of Washington Bridge, on Aqueduct av, Featherbed lane, Nelson av, East 175th st, Macomb's road. Every lot is ready for immediate improvement, situated on high ground lying at or about the grade of the streets and avenues they front upon and are curbed, sewered, regulated and graded. This section has rapid transit now in operation, within 30 minutes from City Hall. (See advertisement in another page of this week's Record and Guide.)

Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, will sell at auction at the Exchange Salesroom, 14 and 16 Vesey st, Tuesday, May 28, 11 a. m. sharp 305 lots of the Bailey estate, about 10 blocks immediately north of the Ogden estate, 189th st to Kingsbridge road, Sedgwick av, Bailey av, Heath av, Kingsbridge place, including 26 lots at corner of 189th st, Tee Taw av and Park View place. Seventy per cent. can remain for two years at 5% on bond and mortgage. The land, with few exceptions, lies well and is ideal for homes. Send for booklet to attorneys, or Joseph P. Day, 31 Nassau st. See advertisement in this week's issue for further particulars.

The budget of private sales for the week, while not lacking in interest, contains little of note except the sale of the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital at the southeast corner Park av and 41st st, which site is to be immediately improved with an office structure. Other sales included the purchase of block front in Hamilton pl and a corner on Riverside drive for improvement. In the Bronx, flats are selling more readily, several having recently been purchased from the plans. The feature in that locality is the increasing number of acquisitions of vacant lots by builders who announce their intention of improving their purchases with 2-family dwellings. The total number of private sales reported is 139, of which 48 were below 59th st, 45 north, and 46 in the Bronx.

Levis Brothers, real estate operators, have moved their offices from 49 Wall st to the Fahy's building, 31 Liberty st, 9th floor.

Conway & Corduke, real estate operators, have changed their offices from 80 William st to the St. Paul building, 220 Broadway.

Pocher & Co. were the brokers in the leasing of entire building at 154 West 31st st for a term of years for the owner to E. Strout.

Walter C. Wyckoff, of the firm of Moore & Wyckoff, real estate brokers, with offices at 546 5th av, has been elected a member of the Real Estate Board of Brokers.

A real estate business with valuable agencies is for sale in the Bronx. Growing neighborhood and splendid opportunity for one or two energetic young men. See Wants and Offers.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the New York Mortgage and Security Company, 135 Broadway, it was voted to increase the rate at which dividends shall hereafter be payable from eight to ten per cent. per annum, and that dividends shall hereafter be payable quarterly instead of semi-annually. It was also voted to transfer the sum of $100,000 from undivided profits to surplus.

F. R. Potter, manager branch office F. R. Wood & Co., 3592 Broadway, Manhattan, says that although many persons have looked at apartments on the Heights this spring the net results have proven unsatisfactory. He called attention to the fact that some of the Broadway apartments are largely tenanted by Western people. Mr. Potter predicts a good fall business and believes that the era of cheap flat construction has passed.

David Rousseau, the owner and builder of the 7-sty factory building, situated at Nos. 261-263-265 Walton av, has leased through Paul Bultmann, a real estate broker in the Bronx, for a term of ten years, premises with an area of over 40,000 sq. ft. to C. F. Splitdorf, formerly at 17 Vandewater st, and 1679 Bowery, Manhattan. Mr. Splitdorf is a manufacturer of electrical goods. Mr. Bultmann hopes that many more of such high esteemed concerns will follow Mr. Splitdorf's example to make the Bronx the place for their enterprises.

Staggered by the enormous sum that will be needed for acquiring property now under condemnation, Controller Metz wrote to Corporation Counsel Ellison this week that a number of the proceedings ought to be discontinued. Mr. Metz states that he has found the entire awards, in many cases, going to the lawyers concerned, and the city paying very largely in excess of what the land can possibly be worth. The Controller believes that a number of the proceedings could be discontinued "with great advantage to the city," and he has accordingly asked for a list of all proceedings now pending in the various boroughs.

B. T. Rogers, of Layton & Rogers, 3487 Broadway, Manhattan, says that old-law apartments without elevators situated on Washington Heights bring from $4 to $7 per room; with elevators, from about $7 to $9 per room. New-law apartments bring on the average $9 per room, and with elevators from $12 to $15 per room. Mr. Rogers observed that the district west of Amsterdam av bids fair to become a very active locality. In this connection it can be stated that several brokers who for some time maintained offices on Amsterdam av have found it to their advantage to rent quarters on Broadway.

Many vacancies are noticed in the new brick rows of dwellings through Bay Ridge, east of Third av. The first of May brought many tenants, but the percentage of vacancies remaining is considerable. West of Third av there have been three recent building operations, including a row of four two-family brick dwellings in Second av, west side, near 67th st. In the sales department property in this section has been quiet for a year or more. There are many inquirers but few buyers. The minimum price for a cottage east of Third av is $7,500, while on Second av properties are held at ten to twenty thousand for small improved plots.

The Auction Market.

INTEREST was largely centered in the auction room this week, the chief attractions being the offerings of the Harrington and Benson estates. The former sale, which took place on Tuesday, was conducted by Jas. L. Wells and was a success. The parcel sold comprised 112 lots on and near Fort Schuyler road, which brought a total of $82,930. Prices at which the more desirable Harrington lots were sold averaged higher than those paid last year for similar lots. On the north side of Harrington av, east of Mapes av, the successful bids ranged from $535 to $630 a lot, and on the south side of Harrington av, lots near Fort Schuyler road brought $825 each, while farther east lots 90 feet deep were sold at from $500 to $530 each. On the north side of Harrington av, between Fort Schuyler road and Mapes av, prices ranged from $1,275 down to $900. F. A. Selje paid $2,050 for a lot at the southeast corner of Fort Schuyler road and Dudley av, and between Fort Schuyler road and Mapes av, lots brought from $925 to $975 each.

A larger gathering was in attendance at the sale of the Benson estate tract and Tremont Terrace, on the following day. This offering consisted of about 150 lots, which were successfully and rapidly sold by Auctioneer Bryan L. Kennelly, whose skill resulted in a total yield of $110,905. On Mayflower av, between Middletown road and Tremont av, lots brought $900 and $925. On Pilgrim av, between the same thoroughfares, prices ranged from $775 to $850. On Edison av lots sold at from $750 to $810 each.

Of the smaller parcels disposed of on Wednesday the greater part were bid in, among them being the 12-sty brick and stone unfinished hotel at the northeast corner of Lexington av and 30th st, which has been in litigation for some time. The structure in its present state is an eyesore to the community, but it is now believed that its present owner will proceed with its completion without unnecessary delay.

Prices obtained at succeeding sales on Thursday and Friday were fair considering the character of the offerings. Mr. Day sold a vacant plot on the Grand Boulevard, running through to Wells av, south of 176th st, 102x90, for $14,500. Also a vacant plot on Crotona av, 100x140, near Fordham road, for $12,200. (For other auction prices see another page.)

The 305 lots from the Bailey estate which Joseph P. Day will sell on Tuesday, May 28, are free from rock, and the regular improvements are all in. Situate in the West Bronx, the lands lie on 189th st, Kingsbridge road, Sedgwick av, Bailey av, Heath av, Kingsbridge pl, Tee-Taw av and Park pl. They are only 800 ft. or more from the subway station at the Ship Canal via Muscoota st. Trolley lines and steam railway stations are also close at hand. Altogether the site is pleasant and convenient. Seventy per cent. of the purchase price will be permitted to remain on bond and mortgage.

On June 4th Mr. Day will sell 216 lots north of Washington Bridge on Featherbed lane, Nelson av, East 175th st and Macomb's road.

The Situation on Washington Heights.

The continued dull market for building lots on Washington Heights is a cause of anxiety among investors who are awaiting an opportunity to release at a profit purchases which were made during the recent boom. The causes ascribed by brokers for this prolonged period of stagnation are an overproduction of flats and the difficulty which attended the financing of recent building operations in that section of Manhattan.

While this condition is admitted to exist, brokers have no doubt about the outcome.

With a population increasing more than one hundred thousand a year, builders and brokers understand that the surplus of rentable apartments must after a while be absorbed. An estimate heard this week was that it will take twelve to fifteen months to effect the change. In the meantime the buildings to be erected are likely to be mostly of the type known as elevator apartments, for which the demand is perceptably on the increase. A well known expert upon being asked for an opinion on the lot situation in that locality said: "It is merely a question of holding on for a short time, when the speculator will be able to dispose of his investments at a handsome advance."

Legislative Digest.

Senator Carpenter, of Westchester, has in the Senate a bill requiring the Board of Statutory Considerations (created by chap. 664, laws of 1904), to consider and inquire into the question of adopting one law form or instrument to take the place of the separate bond and mortgage of the real property, and thereon, if it be found practicable, to draft and devise or cause to be, or report, such a law form or instrument.

2—Thereon, to prepare such amendments and extensions of the real property law, as may be found necessary and expedient, in order to incorporate such proposed instrument therein, and to provide for a distinction between the recording fees therefor and those for the separate mortgage of real property, to the end, that the use of such proposed instrument may be encouraged, in preference to that of the separate mortgage.

3—To consider and report upon such other matters within the purview of the real property law, as relating to mortgages, as said board may deem wise and expedient.

Regarding this a correspondent at Mount Vernon, which is Senator Carpenter's home city, assures the Record and Guide that "the bill seems to further a thoroughly practical measure, which facilitates real estate transactions, simplifies the procedure and lessens the expense. The question of land transfer reform is now before the public, with the discussion of the merits of the Torrens system, proposed in a bill now before the Legislature. The Torrens act is meeting with strenuous opposition from certain interests which would have no cause or inclination to oppose this reform to bonds and mortgages."

The Tenement law amendments are not expected to pass, nor is the Torrens bill. The Utilities bill, which was passed this week by the Assembly, cannot appear on the Senate calendar before next week; and in the Senate an effort will be made by the opposition to have a provision inserted making the Commissioners removable only by consent of the Senate.

A joint meeting was held at the rooms of the Real Estate Board of Brokers of New York between the Hon. Ezra P. Prentice and the Board of Governors with the Legislation Committee, at which the Prentice Bill for Land Title Registration was fully discussed. The Board urges the appointment of a commission to gather further data in reference to this measure, provided the Judiciary Committee is unable to satisfactorily pass on the merits of this bill during the present session. The Board, through its Legislation Committee, has voted to oppose the Cassidy Bill No. 1515 which provides for the listing of assets and liabilities of all individuals and corporations doing business in the State of New York. This measure is said to work an unnecessary hardship and is inquisitorial and unjust in its provisions. The opposition of the Board to Senator Allds' Bill, No. 1067, relating to the Publication of all Prices of Real estate in either the deed or affidavit, is based on the principle that all real estate dealers must have a right to keep prices private the same as any other merchant.

Artistic Stables.

Oakland Farms, the country seat of Alfred G. Vanderbilt, six miles from Newport, is a fine estate of 700 acres, upon which, in one capacity and another, 100 men are employed. The cottage is simple and unpretentious, but near it are the stables and training ring, recently completed at a cost of $200,000. The structure follows the old English plan, the interior being of butternut wood. The riding ring is 200 ft. long and 100 ft. wide. It is surrounded by a vast promenade, where 2,000 people can walk conveniently. At either end is a stairway leading to the upper boxes, where the ring can be viewed in all its completeness of detail. The riding ring is illuminated at night by fifteen arc lights and 600 incandescent lamps.

Off one end of the riding ring is the trophy room which holds the cups and blue ribbons won by Mr. Vanderbilt's horses at the various horse shows. This room is 100x60 ft., the walls are stippled in a deep cream, paneled in white, with German figures and scenes in relief. The frieze and deep wainscoting are of elaborately carved butternut wood. The furniture is covered with plain leather, of a neutral shade bordering on a faint olive. The wood, which is of butternut, is carved to match the frieze. At either end of the room is a huge fireplace.

The building abounds in cloak rooms and dressing rooms. There is a swimming pool 22x30 ft. This is of white marble with marble floor and tiled walls and ceilings. All forms of baths are provided.

Not far distant is Sandy Point Farm with its fine stable and riding ring. This is the home of Reginald Vanderbilt, and is situated directly on the ocean front. The riding ring, which cost a round hundred thousand dollars, was finished last winter. The ring, which is 120x82 ft., can be covered over with parquet flooring and can be used as a ball room or skating rink. The promenade around the ring is 16 ft. wide and there are boxes in

The Building of a Skyscraper.

Six essays by Theodore Starrett, on "Modern Building Construction and the Tendencies Thereof," have been collected in a book for private circulation. One is tempted to say that it is a brand new vein of literature which Mr. Starrett has opened, so distinctive are these building essays. In "The Building of a Skyscraper," Mr. Starrett refers to the difficulties imposed upon builders through having no place near the building where they can gather their material, so that it will be handy. In other places builders are allowed to assemble their bricks, beams, sand, lime and cement, and do much of their mixing and shaping of materials on the spot, but in Manhattan, as Mr. Starrett relates, a building is constructed in "hand-to-mouth" fashion. Little can be stored on the job, even if a builder does take up a third of the street, as the law allows. But it is right here that a good system scores.

If the stuff which is enwrought into a building were translated into truck loads, the number of them would surprise you. If you could build on a prairie with vacant lots for storage all around you and would pile all your materials up beforehand, it would take a ten-acre lot to hold it all.

It is interesting for any one to note the progress of a great work. Every day certain men from neighboring offices stop for a moment to look down into the pit where the foundations of the 600-ft. "Metropolitan Tower" are being laid on Madison sq. They will continue to give a minute every day or two to watch the great thing rise, and when the "roughnecks" raise their banner on the pinnacle, they will have learned a great deal more about building construction than they knew before. After the foundations of a building are finished, it is said in "The Building of a Skyscraper" that—

The first material on the job is the steel, the foundation girders and the heavy columns, weighing sometimes fifty, sixty, seventy tons, drawn by as many as twenty teams of horses hitched to one truck. These come first.

This looks like the hardest part of the job, but really from the point of view of the modern constructor, it's the easiest, because you've got the site practically all to yourself, or rather you're only dealing with one of the components of the building. Wait till you're juggling twenty or thirty components at once along toward the end and then you'll see a real man's job.

Another essay is entitled "Building Materials," and it concludes with the remark that "it's the innards of the building that count, just as it is what's inside of a man that makes you love him or not. It's the people who look out of a building who know whether it's right. Those who look into it have no vote."

Suburban Developments.

Mr. T. B. Ackerson says the subject of suburban development is most important because it involves great problems connected with the growth and advance of cities, the betterment of humanity, the improvement of the home for the thrifty toiler, as well as the cultivation of society along the lines of art, comfort and health. Statistics show that during the ten years from 1890 to 1900 the population of Manhattan increased about twenty-eight per cent.; that of Queens County was seventy-five per cent., and Brooklyn a little more than thirty-nine per cent. Up to the present time the borough increase of population of the Bronx is very much in advance of either Brooklyn or Queens. The subway has helped Bronx. Brooklyn and Queens are responding rapidly in prospect of better transportation communication with the business section of New York. These communications are being very rapidly improved and tending to make Brooklyn and Queens with cheaper land and nearer by in location more attractive than the Bronx as a place of residence.

Mr. Ackerson says suburban development is exclusively a business of itself, for which special training is required; but it is a most pleasing occupation because it is popular among all classes of the community. When the resident of the city moves out into the suburbs he seldom if ever returns to the crowded life of the city.

There is probably no one in the greater city of New York more capable of giving a sound opinion on methods of suburban development than Mr. Ackerson. The company bearing his name took Fiske Terrace, in Flatbush, on the Brighton Beach Railroad, when it was a mere wilderness, and within a very short time transformed it to one of the most beautiful suburbs of New York. Its proximity to the city and the seashore makes Fiske Terrace one of the most attractive sections to which operators, architects, builders and landscape gardeners of the first order have given the benefits of their highest conceptions and broad experience. It is admirably situated on high ground, and has many natural advantages, not the least of which is its number of old trees. The property has been on the market less than eighteen months, and in that time a large part of the original tract of four hundred and thirteen lots has been sold to home-seekers and improved with beautiful modern buildings.

A Trend Toward Equalization.

The increasing exodus from the East Side tenement district of Manhattan to the rapidly transforming Williamsburgh section of Brooklyn is becoming a topic of much interest and of no little concern among operators in that class of property. The cause of this migration is said to be due to the general attractiveness and low rentals offered by the tenements across the East River, which in most instances are superior to those of Manhattan. Since these buildings have been and are now being constructed under the new law, and with all modern improvements, they obviously offer the tenant much better household advantages than are contained in the Manhattan type of structure.

While it is not at all likely that this condition will result in a depreciation of East Side tenement property, it serves to indicate the strong probability of an early equalization in values which sooner or later must take place. The disparity in values on the east shore compared to those on the Manhattan side is not justified when environment and transportation facilities are taken into consideration, and that builders and speculators are not unaware of this fact is proven by the large increase in the purchase of land for building purposes in the vicinity of the plaza in Williamsburgh. On good authority it is stated that lot values there have risen from $2,400 to $12,000 and $15,000.

In the Delancey st section of Manhattan the average value of a full lot is said to be from $25,000 to $32,000. This rapid rise in Williamsburgh valuations applies principally to property within a half mile radius of the bridge plaza, and increases from about 300 to 500 per cent., according to the distance from the new bridge terminal.

Why There Are No Low Cost Homes.

A director for a development and construction company now operating within the Metropolitan district, advanced the opinion that "not enough attention is being paid to the requirements of the middle class of home purchasers in the way of building a medium price dwelling, which, when taken together with the cost of the ground, will not require an ultimate outlay of more than $5,000—this sum being the accepted limit above which the average home buyer is seldom prepared to go."

The reason assigned by one building company for not marketing low-cost homes was this: "They cannot be sold at a large enough profit over and above the cost of land and the expense of production, including brokerage, to warrant their construction. The profits are in the building and sale of more pretentious homes, which command fancy prices when planned for comfort and elegance."

Objections to New York Central Plans in the Bronx.

A BILL has been introduced in the Assembly by Mr. Cuvillier that involves abolishing of the 138th Street Station on the New York Central Railroad. It authorizes the city to grant to the New York Central and to its lessors, rights, interests and easements in certain streets and avenues in the Borough of the Bronx, including the full width of 149th st from Park av to Spencer pl, Spencer pl from 149th to 144th st, 144th st from Park av to a point 100 ft. east of Mott av, Mott av for half a block north and south of Cheever pl, 50 ft. of Cheever pl, and 138th st from Park to Mott avs.

The object of this legislation is to enable the company to carry out plans for the proposed new station north of the Harlem River, which, according to these plans, will be an overhead structure located on the south side of 149th st, extending from Park av to Spencer pl, with the main facade and waiting room on the Spencer pl end. From the railroad tracks underneath the station it is proposed to run extension platforms to the Mott av subway station, a block and a half to the west. A loop is shown south of 144th st, which would seem to indicate an intention to run many of the local trains of the Harlem & Hudson River divisions no farther than 149th st, transferring the passengers there to the subway which runs to the west side of Manhattan. This scheme, as indicated on the preliminary study prepared by the company's engineers, involves the elimination of the present Mott Haven or 138th st station.

For more than half a century there has been a station at this street, which is the principal crosstown thoroughfare in the lower end of the Bronx, and in 1886 the frame station then existing was replaced by a handsome red brick terra cotta and tile roof structure having an imposing clock tower in the Romanesque style of architecture, at a cost of about $70,000. The company heralded this station by issuing hand bills, saying that the fast express trains, excepting the Chicago Limited, would stop at the 138th st station for the benefit of passengers to or from the north or west who do not desire to start from or arrive at the Grand Central Station. In 1893, when the company spent $3,000,000 in changing the railroad bridge over the Harlem to provide 25-ft. clearance above high-water mark, and the consequent raising of the tracks, the Mott Haven Station was shifted and run to meet the new grade. The business men of the south Bronx do not take kindly to the proposition to abolish the 138th st station, which is embodied in the New York Central's plans for a new station at 149th st. Albert E. Davis, founder and former president of the North Side Board of Trade, who has made a study of the transit situation in the Bronx, said yesterday:

"To provide a station at 149th st where the subway crosses the New York Central is a good idea, but to abolish the 138th Street Station is quite another proposition. Very curiously when a committee called upon President Newman of the New York Central several years ago concerning the proposed new station above the Harlem and some of them advocated 149th st, President Newman said that while he was not at liberty to state the site selected, he could state positively that it would not be at 149th st.

"There is room for a station at 149th st, as well as at 138th st, but if the company is to provide but one, in my judgment, the best location would be on the site of the present station at 138th st. Mr. Wilgus has stated that the new track grades are not favorable to a station here, but that ought not to be an insurmountable obstacle. The plans as proposed seem to have been prepared in the interests of the west side of Manhattan rather than of The Bronx, since it would not be as convenient to reach the new location as the present one from Bronx points.

"When Jordan L. Mott, the elder, deeded the ground for a station at 138th st in 1852, it was upon the stipulation that a station suitable for the accommodation of passengers and freight would be built and maintained thereon, and in case of the nonperformance of this condition the property was to revert to Mr. Mott and his heirs. A most determined effort will be made to retain a station at this important crosstown thoroughfare."

Allied Real Estate Interests and the Torrens Bill.

The president of the Allied Real Estate interests, Mr. Allan Robinson, explains that the silence of the body with reference to the Torrens bill can be attributed to a need for fuller information on this subject than is at present available before committing itself to a definite stand on this important matter:

I have talked with several members of the board of brokers most active in the Torrens' agitation, and they agree with me that the matter should have been more carefully investigated before it was advocated before the Legislature. One of the speakers in Albany representing the board of brokers has told me that on the information he now has he advises against any other than a mandatory system. He stated to me that it was clear that the Torrens system had not been successful anywhere in the United States.

In the real estate and building world appreciation is expressed for the spirit of alertness that the Real Estate Board of Brokers of New York has generated, which no doubt is founded on a desire to be an efficient instrument and representative before the public of the most important lines of business in New York. A good service has been performed by the giving of an opportunity for discussing a new way of recording land titles, and probably most of the members of the board feel in common with most men that a little more light on the question would do no harm. One fair thing about the measure before our Legislature is that it is optional. Wherever the system is adopted the statute is optional; which is to say that an owner may bring his land under it or he may not, as he chooses; and this fact alone amply warranted the Real Estate Board to prepare a bill and institute a forum in which the pros and cons could be heard.

The board is also to be commended for its effort to organize a congress to be composed of representatives from all the other real estate boards and societies of property owners in the city for the purpose of deriving the advantage of a natural law—in union there is strength. All of the interests depending on or allied to real estate should be coordinated behind a good "warhead" when it is necessary to contend with the Legislature or any other solidified body.

When a Commission is Earned.

BROKERS who have had the experience of devoting time and labor to produce an agreement between buyer and seller, who have finally caused the parties to arrive at a satisfactory understanding, and who have then been unable to get the parties to execute a contract because one of the parties at the last moment refuses to sign, will find comfort in a judgment just recovered in the City Court by the Ernst-Cahn Realty Company.

An intending seller requested the Ernst-Cahn Realty Company to effect an exchange for premises owned by the seller, and in accordance with that request the broker procured a party willing to exchange certain premises on Pleasant av, which he had under contract to purchase for the parcel owned by the proposed seller. The parties agreed upon the terms of the exchange and an appointment was made to meet at a lawyer's office to draw contract. At the appointed time the owner from Pleasant av attended at the lawyer's office, but the intending seller put in no appearance, and subsequently refused to sign any contract, claiming that there had been misrepresentation as to the terms of the mortgages on the Pleasant av property, etc. It appeared that while the owner of Pleasant av had agreed to sell his property subject to certain mortgages, the terms of which were given just as they were set forth in the contract under which the owner of Pleasant av was to get title, yet in reality a mistake had been made in the original contract for the purchase of Pleasant av, and as a matter of fact the mortgages on record at the date of the proposed exchange here in question were different in material particulars from the mortgages subject to which the Pleasant av premises were to be sold to the intending seller. It appeared that the contract-owner of Pleasant av, however, was a man of some standing and of considerable financial ability, so that, as contended by the attorneys for the broker, he would have been able to adjust all mortgages in accordance with his contract if necessary.

The contention advanced by Parker & Ernst, the brokers' attorneys, seemed to be that a broker is entitled to his commissions when he has brought about an agreement between the parties, that his work is completed at the point when he has produced a party ready, able and willing to perform upon the terms which had been previously furnished to the broker by his principal, and that any evasion by the principal or any refusal to sign a contract after the production of a purchaser, will not deprive the broker of his commissions. The case was tried before Judge Green and a jury in the City Court and a verdict for the brokers, in full, was rendered.

Growing Margin of Security.

One important element of security for loans on North Harlem, Washington Heights and Bronx properties is the growing equity therein, and consequently the greater protection for the mortgage loan. Mr. R. E. Simon, vice-president of the Henry Morgenthau Company, maintains "that there has been no overproduction of well-built properly-planned flats or apartments in any part of Manhattan or the Bronx."

For example, Mr. Simon recalls, in the course of an interview in the Times, that during the extensive building operations in Harlem less than ten years ago lots on the side streets between 110th and 124th were selling at $6,500 to $8,000, and finished buildings for $26,000 to $29,000.

To-day the lots are worth from $16,000 to $20,000 each and the same buildings are selling for from $33,000 to $38,000 and show a good income on these valuations. On the avenues still greater increases have taken place, so that not only has the lender had the original equity to secure his mortgage, but the equity has been steadily increasing and making what was already safe doubly and triply secure. The property I speak of was really for a time overproduced, and all sorts of inducements were offered tenants to occupy the houses, but no similar state of facts exist to-day either on Washington Heights or in the Bronx.

—Brokers in general, while admitting that there are plenty of buyers in the market, say that it is unusually difficult to effect sales because of the extremely high prices which owners have placed on their properties. They further assert that what little property is to be had at attractive figures is largely tied up by leases, the nature of which renders the property affected practically unsalable.

REAL ESTATE RECORDS

Key to abbreviations:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

4th.—The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

5th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

6th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

7th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

8th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction. Valuations are from the assessment roll of 1906.

THE BEST PEOPLE USE IT: C. Oliver Iselin; W. Butler Duncan, Jr.; Capt. Charles Barr; Capt. Rhodes; Capt. "Lem" Miller; Capt. Robert Wringe; Capt. Archie Hogarth; William Fife, Jr., etc.

NONALYKE preserves the famous Yachts,—Reliance, Defender, Constitution, Shamrock, etc., and adorns and preserves the walls of many famous buildings, including THE METROPOLITAN LIFE BUILDING.

C. OLIVER ISELIN says: "The Paint supplied by you is the best I have ever had."

THE IDEAL ENAMEL PAINT!

"NONALYKE" can be applied to bare wood or plaster without using White Lead, Zinc, or other primers. It makes an enamel surface which never cracks, and is impervious to germs of disease.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

May 10, 11, 13, 14, 15 and 16.

THE BEST IN TELEPHONE SERVICE

is the system that brings to each desk or room of an establishment a telephone which may be used for intercommunication within the building, local communication in the city and suburbs, or long distance communication with any one of the 3,000,000 telephones reached by the wires of the Bell system. The above is a description of our

Private Branch Exchange System of Telephone Service

In New York City on the 1st of January, 1907, there were 10,000 private branch exchange systems in operation, with an aggregate of over 110,000 telephones.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

New York State.

SCHENECTADY.—The Schenectady Railway Co. will erect a large building, two stories, in Brandywine Park for repair shops. $125,000 will be expended.

NEW PALTZ.—The contract for erecting the State Normal School here has been awarded to Morris Kantrowitz, 78 State st, Albany, at $160,800. The contract calls for a fireproof structure, including gas and electric fixtures.

WEST ALBANY.—New York Central & Hudson River R. R. Co. will enlarge its power plant at West Albany. About $150,000 will be expended. C. H. Quereau, New York, is superintendent electrical equipment.

NIAGARA FALLS.—John Lennon, Son & Co., 1328 South av, have been awarded contract for construction of the Holy Angels Academy, at $150,000.

NORTH TONAWANDA.—North Tonawanda Musical Instrument Co. will receive bids about June 1 for constructing a brick and stone boiler house, 42x100 ft. John George Siener, 76 Thompson st, Buffalo, N. Y., is architect, and will have charge of the construction.

FISHKILL.—Some purchasing of machinery has been done of late by the Dutchess Tool Co., manufacturers of bakers' machinery and ovens, Fishkill-on-the-Hudson, whose plant is being considerably enlarged. The company is building a new foundry, 114x120 ft., and a 2-sty addition is being made to the machine shop, which will be 54x120 ft.

ALBANY.—A stone colonnade of 28 Corinthian columns, each 65 ft. in height, and the row extending more than 500 ft., facing the Capitol Building, will be the unique feature of the new State Education Building, the design for which was adopted this week. This will be, it is said, the longest Corinthian colonnade in this country. The main building, 600 ft. long and 4 stories high, will be of pure classic design, and cost upward of $4,000,000.

Connecticut.

NEW HAVEN.—Announcement is made that a stock company has been formed for the purpose of building and operating a large metropolitan hotel in New Haven. Senator Frank S. Butterworth is at the head of the company, which will be capitalized at $700,000.

NEW LONDON.—Plans for the new Swedish Congregational church have been practically completed and are in the hands of builders for estimates. Dudley St. Clair Donnelly is architect.

NORWICH.—S. Kronig & Son, proprietors of The Manhattan, will build a new structure which will be connected with their Main street store and double its capacity.

MERIDEN.—Bids are asked until 3 p. m., June 13, by James Knox Taylor, Superv. Arch., Washington, for building U. S. postoffice at Meriden.

GLASTONBURY.—Dr. W. S. Kingsbury has purchased from his father the building lot north of where he now lives and will build a residence on it this spring. Plans have been drawn by Brocklesby & Smith.

WEST HARTFORD.—A. B. Alderson, Town Engr., writes that the proposed Trout Brook Valley sewer system will cost about $100,000. It is to be built on the separate system with pipe sewers 8 to 21-in. diameter. Will probably not be ready to let contracts until July.

BRISTOL.—Plans are being drawn by Architect T. H. Peck, for a 6-room addition to High School on Center st, Bristol.

HARTFORD.—Plans for the new State Bank will be ready for figures next month. Geo. H. Burt, cashier. Architect, Benjamin W. Morris, 5 West 31st st, New York. Site, present building.

BRIDGEPORT.—Contract will be awarded soon for St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Rev. J. B. Nihill, pastor. Architect, J. J. Dwyer, Hartford. Site, North av.

WALLINGFORD.—A 4-sty brick addition to R. Wallace & Son's plant will be erected. Contract awarded. Owner, R. Wallace & Son, Wallingford, Conn. Architect, W. E. Becroft, Wallingford. Contractor, C. F. Reading Co. Composition roofing, mill construction.

MIDDLETOWN.—A granite and limestone alteration to the Middlesex County National Bank, Middletown, is being figured. Architects, Brocklesby & Smith, Hartford, Conn.

BRISTOL.—E. Ingraham Company, 334 North Main st, clock manufacturer, Bristol, is to erect a 2-sty brick building, 75x125 ft., which will be devoted to kiln dry and facilities for planing. The company states that it is not in the market for machinery.

NEW HAVEN.—Bids are asked by C. W. Kelly, city engineer, until 2 p. m., May 27, for constructing reinforced concrete girder bridge at Humphrey st over Mill River. The approximate quantity of work is as follows: Concrete, 1,638 cu. yds.; concrete fence, 328 lin. ft.; steel reinforcement, 73,000 lbs., and 654 piles.

Massachusetts.

BROCKTON, MASS.—A site has been selected for a new First Baptist Church, Brockton. Architect not selected. Site, West Elm and Warren av.

BROCKTON.—Plans are being drawn for a 2½-sty brick and granite schoolhouse, 35x65 ft., 2 wings, 35x13 ft. Owner, city. Architect, W. A. Penniman, inspector of buildings, Brockton. Site, Keith school.

BOSTON, MASS.—An $85,000 3-sty brk and terra cotta bathhouse, 60x80 feet, will be erected. Owner, City. Architects, Maginnis, Walsh & Sullivan, 100 Boylston st. Site, North Bennett st. Bidders are Maguire & Penniman, Mack & Moore, 22 Chapman pl., J. J. Flynn, 95 Milk st.; B. F. Carroll, Brookline; Wm. Crane, 7 Water st., Henry McGahey, Cambridgeport.

BOSTON.—Revised plans for a $600,000 office and bank will be ready for figures. Owner, Commonwealth Trust Co., 86 Summer st., Boston. Architects, Peters & Rice, 20 Pemberton sq., Boston. Engrs., Densmore & LeClear, 15 Exchange st. Site, cor Devonshire and Summer sts. Structure will be two stories high.

WORCESTER.—City Council adopted the order for additional filter beds at the purification works, to cost about $100,000. John P. Holmgren, chairman committee on sewers.

GREENFIELD.—It is proposed to construct a new holder, water gas set, purifiers, coal shed and trestle and 15 miles of mains for the Greenfield Gas Light Co. George H. Priest is superintendent; G. M. Rossinan, of Keene, N. H., is engineer.

Reiter & Newman leased for a Mr. Murphy the block bounded by Forest, Jackson and Westchester avs, at Jackson av subway station, to the Forest Leasing Co., which will erect on the property a building containing stores and meeting rooms. The lease is for 63 years, at an aggregate rental of $375,000.

Faults in Cement Sidewalks.

CEMENT paving is a manufacturing industry whereby cement stone slabs are framed in place on the job. Paving of this description has various uses. Its principal use is a permanent path for pedestrians. Among the other uses are driveways for vehicles, a floor wearing surface for buildings, platforms in the stations of transportation lines, wharf coverings, cellar floors, curb and gutters. The principal objects to be accomplished in manufacturing these cement stone slabs for the above named purposes are permanency, durability and neatness.

To accomplish permanency it is necessary that these slabs remain hard, tough and in the original position for the average life of good construction work. To achieve this object, correct methods of manufacture must be employed which will avoid settlement cracks, upheaval by frost and roots of trees, crumbling due to work having been laid in freezing weather, contraction cracks, expansion cracks, separation of top from base and disintegration. How to lay a cement sidewalk or pavement so as to have no faults appear in the work is the subject of a pamphlet by Albert Moyer and just published by the Vulcanite Portland Cement Co. ("Cement Sidewalk Paving—Suggestions as to Methods of Construction.") Portland cement concrete expands and contracts in practically the same ratio as steel; it is therefore necessary to cut joints which will allow for this expansion or contraction. The method suggested by Mr. Moyer is this:

The concrete must be cut entirely through with a cleaver, or other instrument, from ⅛ in. to ¼ in. wide, the blocks thus formed not to exceed 6 ft. square. I am fully aware that very excellent work has been done, the blocks being as large as from 12 ft. to 14 ft.; that good results were obtained with such large slabs is due more to favorable circumstances than to correct method. By figuring the expansion and contraction per degree between the heat of summer and the cold of winter, it will be found that we are only within the region of safety when the slabs do not exceed 6 ft. with an ⅛ in. joint between each slab.

Expansion cracks are not due so much to the expansion of the cement stone slabs as to the expansion of other material bearing against these slabs; it is therefore advisable to cut the concrete away from the manholes, iron posts, etc., leaving about the same space in the joints as between the slabs themselves. This space may be readily waterproofed by using felt paper painted with a good waterproof paint.

Separation of top from base is another fault that appears in concrete paving when errors are made. In the past it was a common practice to allow the base to set hard before laying the top coat, which was utterly wrong. But there are other causes pointed out by Mr. Moyer which prevent the top from adhering permanently to the base:

The principal cause is carelessness in allowing men to walk over the base carrying with them dust and dirt, also failure to protect the base, allowing the surface of the base to be exposed to the rays of the sun and thus dry the surface prematurely, at the same time allowing dust and dirt to blow over the surface, coating the concrete so that the top when placed fails to adhere permanently. It is also absolutely necessary that the top be cut directly over the cuts in the base; otherwise the top coat will crack along the line of the joint in the base. To obtain good and permanent results whereby the top coat becomes a permanent part of the base, the same brand of cement should be used in the top as in the base. The difference in time of setting, the characteristics of one brand being different from another, will often cause a separation of top from base.

As an alternative and instead of using a top coat, make one slab of selected aggregates for base and wearing surface, filling in between frames concrete flush with established grade. Concrete to be of selected aggregates all of which will pass through a three-quarter-inch mesh sieve, hard tough stones or pebbles graded in size, proportions to be one part cement, two and a half parts crushed hard-stone screenings or coarse sand (all passing a quarter-inch mesh), and five parts crushed hard stone or pebbles all passing through a three-quarter-inch mesh, and all collected on a quarter-inch mesh; tamp to an even surface, prove surface with straight edge, smooth down with float or trowel, and in addition a natural finish can be obtained by scrubbing with a wire brush and water while concrete is "green" but after final set.

DON'T GUESS

A Real Estate Information Service is as necessary in a Real Estate Broker's office as the ticker in the office of a Stock Broker.

A personally maintained Service is inefficient and inordinately Expensive compared with a Big Central Co-operative Service. The Biggest Service is the best, because the advantages of Co-operation are centered there on the biggest Scale.

The RECORD & GUIDE to-day supplies thousands of Brokers and others with information—has been doing so for a generation. Its own records cover the history of ALL transactions of every kind in New York for forty years, and in addition to these it has a COMPLETE PLANT that includes the previous period.

Obviously, the RECORD & GUIDE possesses FULL information covering ALL particulars concerning real estate. Other systems are necessarily either partial or mere second-hand abstracts of the records which the RECORD & GUIDE has been gathering and publishing in the course of its forty years' history.

If you need Real Estate Information don't guess. Don't use personal Systems. Don't use partial Systems. Don't use temporary Systems that must be fragmentary and Second-hand. Don't use Systems built for the use of a Few, and that offer you scarcely any of the advantages of co-operation.

USE THE RECORD & GUIDE BUREAU OF REAL ESTATE INFORMATION. The oldest, the largest, the most permanent, the best equipped—a Service that can serve you TO-DAY and TO-MORROW on a progressive plan.

REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS GUIDE.

THERE has been during the week a distinctly better tone in Wall Street. After apparent demoralization in prices and an unpromising and gloomy outlook, the market hardened and stiffened under "short" covering and indications of the bargain hunter being around. Another contributing cause to the improved feeling were the remarks of Secretary Oscar S. Straus, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, at the dinner in the Waldorf of the twelfth annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers. Secretary Straus spoke of commerce combinations and labor. He pointed out that the simple publication, after laborious investigation of the great system of rebates enjoyed by favored corporations, was followed by the voluntary cancellation by the railroads without a single court process. Mr. Straus dwelt on the fact that at one stroke the most sweeping and necessary reform was achieved in railway management. Such utterances emanating from so important an authority would indicate that it is not the intention of the National Administration to urge such legislation as would disturb vested rights or the natural and normal channels of trade. The Secretary further said that the Government could not equalize competitors, but it could equalize the opportunities of competitors and prevent the use of unfair means to diminish or destroy such equal opportunity. As a whole, the speech tended to insure more confidence in the future, which has undoubtedly suffered of late. Several stocks made new low records for the year, among them New York Central, while Reading went to 98½. The grain market has been easier. Trustworthy advices were to the effect that the Northwestern farmers had been more successful with their planting than was thought from the tenor of former reports. Corn was weaker and all this news aided in steadying the security market. Money was slightly firmer because of the possibility of the Secretary of the Treasury calling for at least $25,000,000 of deposits, of which less than half might be taken from New York banks. The cheap rates for money are, under present conditions, of little use to real estate and building interests, as there is no disposition to lend freely even with gilt-edged security. This state of things will continue until confidence is more fully restored.

THE PROPERTY-OWNERS on Sixth and Seventh avenues have done well to ask the Board of Estimate for a southerly extension of those thoroughfares. Of all the street improvements proposed for Manhattan, these particular extensions promise a maximum of benefit for a minimum of cost. South of Fourteenth Street the city is provided with only one avenue west of Broadway which is available for vehicular traffic. Sixth and Seventh avenues terminate in brick walls a few blocks south of Fourteenth Street; and this lack of free means of communication has handicapped the growth in population and business of the whole of the Greenwich district. The needed extensions can be obtained easily and cheaply. Both of these avenues can be continued south for comparatively short distances until they meet Varick Street, and Varick Street can be widened, so as to accommodate the inevitable increase of traffic and prolonged to Broadway. The property needed can be bought at low prices, and only a very few modern buildings will have to be condemned and destroyed. The area benefited will be very large and the amount assessed against individual property-owners correspondingly small. It is one of these street improvements which, in case the city had the power to condemn adjoining property, could be made an actual source of profit to the municipality, because of the increased value which will inevitably be given to real estate in the neighborhood. In fact, the extension of these avenues fits precisely into the niche provided by the resolution of the Board of Estimate asking the City Engineer to consider what part of the plans of the City Improvement Commission could be most cheaply and profitably carried out. Moreover, the whole of the Borough, as well as the immediate neighborhood, would be benefited. The increased capacity obtained for longitudinal traffic would be useful to all West Side business operations. The street cars on the lower West Side could use the new avenues, and would be able to make very much better time, while the task of planning lower West Side rapid transit extensions would be made very much easier. The property-owners on the avenues should not rest until they secure the active consent of the Board of Estimate to this promising street improvement. Its need has been recognized for years, and its postponement should be no longer delayed.

The Revision of the Building Code.

WHEN the building laws of a city like New York are to be revised the people interested in the revision naturally divide themselves into two groups. There is one group who either from interest or conviction favor the establishment in the law of a higher standard of construction, so that the city as a whole will be less exposed to loss by fire. On the other hand, there is always another active and powerful group of property owners and builders whose interests look in the opposite direction. The speculative operator and the builder engaged in supplying rentable and salable residential and business buildings are naturally afraid of an improvement in the standard of construction that will make their operations more costly and restrict the demand for their output. At the present time in New York one can remark plainly the effect of these two divergent interests. Most of the architects, the fire underwriters and some of the large builders favor on the whole a severer law, while a larger number of smaller builders are using their influence in favor of confining the revision to certain details, that will not affect the general standard of construction.

In this controversy there can be no doubt as to the side on which the public interest lies. What New York city needs is on the whole a higher rather than a lower standard of construction, and the reasons in favor of a higher standard of construction are the same that have been active and decisive in the past. Every new building law the city of New York has adopted has made for safer and better buildings than the preceding law. The revision now under way should be no exception to this rule. As the city increases in population and business its commercial interests need the protection of safer buildings, while at the same time its inhabitants can better afford to pay the expense of such protection. Since the last revision of the code, in 1899, New York has been relatively as prosperous as during any similar period in the history of the city. It has been a time of enormous building operations, during which the number of "skyscrapers" in Manhattan has probably trebled, and during which they have been extending over a much larger area. This tremendous increase in the number of tall buildings and this alteration in their distribution has been the fact of dominant importance in the building history of these years, and the condition which has been created by the erection of so many skyscrapers all over Manhattan is the fact which will afford the Revision Commission cogent reasons for a general improvement in the standard of construction.

If the skyscrapers in Manhattan were concentrated in a limited area, so that they would protect one another from the disastrous effects of a general conflagration, the need of a higher standard of construction would not be so manifest, but the difficulty with the existing situation is that in the central part of Manhattan the skyscrapers are only comparatively uninflammable islands in a sea of inflammable buildings; and the experience of Baltimore and San Francisco conclusively shows how dangerous such a condition is. Under a test these tall buildings, while not entirely destroyed by fire, are so far destroyed that nothing but their shell remains; and the danger of this state of things cannot be entirely remedied by any precautions taken by the owners of such buildings. The use of wire glass and the other devices for the same purpose are of great value in protecting the contents of a fireproof building, but such devices, useful as they are, do not necessarily avail in the case of a general conflagration. The investment of such large amounts of capital in the structure and in the contents of these buildings demands that the general standard of construction be raised so as to diminish the general fire risk. The danger is too great. The insurance companies would be unable to afford the community any sufficient protection from such enormous losses. The public interest absolutely demands a general standard of construction which would offer an effective bar to the rapid and fatal spread of a general conflagration.

Perhaps some of the readers of the Record and Guide will believe that in case the general standard of construction is raised for the purpose of protecting tall buildings the community will be paying for these buildings more than they are worth. It will be hard, however, to make such an opinion prevail. The general impression is that the skyscraper causes an economical concentration of business operations, and a lower scale of rents on the expensive streets and avenues, and there is much truth in this impression. The concentration of business is of less importance than it was before the telephone came into such universal use, but it is still of considerable importance. It is improbable that trade opinion will ever countenance any severe restriction on the height of skyscrapers, and if anything of that kind is proposed it will look in the direction of forbidding forty rather than twenty-story buildings. The only general economic advantage of a restriction on the height of tall buildings would be its tendency to spread fireproof construction automatically over a larger area. It would require three twelve-story buildings to supply the floor space which could be obtained in two eighteen-story buildings. It may be doubted, however, whether a restriction of the height of buildings even to twelve stories would automatically supply the necessary protection except at the end of a great many years, and any further reduction than that would be a great strain on the business development of the city. It looks as if a sufficient measure of safety could best be obtained by raising the standard of fireproof construction for all business buildings, whether they be six or more stories high. It is essential that the enormous masses of property situated in all the important business districts of Manhattan should be protected, and the most efficient means of protection is to require the erection of an intrenchment of fireproof buildings.

THE announcement that a corner of Fifty third Street and Fifth Avenue has been bought for the purpose of building a co-operative apartment house adds a new variation to the current movement in favor of this type of improvement. Hitherto these houses have been intended for the benefit either of artists or of other persons of moderate means; but apartments erected on the corner of Fifty-third Street and Fifth Avenue would, of course, be so costly that they could be sold only to very rich people. In fact, the new building will be intended for the same class of tenants that occupied the co-operative buildings which were erected in the eighties, and which were financial failures. But there is, of course, no reason why the financial plan which has proved successful in the case of the cheaper apartment houses should not serve equally well for residents of Fifth Avenue. By means of this plan purchasers of apartments in these buildings have been able to buy for prices ranging between $15,000 and $30,000, living accommodations which will rent for from $2,200 to $4,000, and these accommodations are situated in neighborhoods where private houses cost anywhere from $30,000 up to $70,000. It is probable that a scheme can be worked out for a Fifth Avenue corner whereby an apartment can be purchased for less than $100,000, and that would look like a good business enterprise in a neighborhood where houses cost several times as much. Of course, in all these cases the owners of the apartments assume a contingent liability for the expenses of running the building, taxes and interest, but hitherto at least the income from the apartments which are rented has covered such expenses. It remains to be seen whether the market for these buildings is now being over-supplied. There are almost a dozen buildings of this character in the course of erection, and every new enterprise is somewhat more expensive than the last one. On the other hand, the demand has been increased by the abandonment of the studio idea, and the planning of ordinary duplex apartments. The possible increase in the supply is also limited by the fact that available sites are rare. The tenement house law forbids the erection of buildings of sufficient height except on extra wide streets or on avenues, so that the ground cost is necessarily very high. For this reason the purchasers of apartments in the first buildings erected are in a much safer financial position than subsequent purchasers will be. The comparative cheapness of their buildings will enable them to stand better the competition caused by an excessive supply.

Value of Services of a Real Estate Appraiser Established.

On Tuesday last a three days' trial of a suit brought by David Stewart against Frederick A. Libbey in the U. S. Circuit Court before Judge Charles M. Hough and a jury, was concluded by a verdict in Mr. Stewart's favor for $4,500. The suit was brought by Mr. Stewart to recover for general services rendered to Mr. Libbey as expert and appraiser in assisting him in procuring a division of the tract on Broadway, between 192d and 194th sts, and running to the Hudson River, upon which the famous "Libbey Castle" is situated.

It appears that Mr. Libbey, who owned this property in common with his brother, Jonas M. Libbey, was anxious to get it divided, and had begun a suit for that purpose in the New York Supreme Court. Mr. Stewart testified that in October, 1902, Frederick A. Libbey had called upon him for his special knowledge of property in the Washington Heights district, to assist him in securing an equitable division of the property between him and his brother, and in connection therewith to testify in the partition suit, which had been referred to Hon. John J. Delaney, former Corporation Counsel of this city.

Mr. Stewart's services extended over a period of five months, until the end of April, 1903, and during the course of the employment Mr. Stewart made several elaborate reports embodying schemes of partition and subdivision supported by maps and tabulations. When Mr. Stewart made his charge of $5,500, his client (Mr. Libbey) contested it and set up as a defense that Mr. Stewart was simply employed under a definite contract to testify in support of an actual partition of the property, that he had failed so to do, and therefore his services should go without compensation.

The issue on this point was sharply contested, and many novel questions of law arose during the trial, among which one of special interest to real estate appraisers is, that the Court held that even if Mr. Stewart's services, i. e., the result embodied in his maps and tables of appraisment and schemes of subdivision, had not been in fact used by his client to accomplish the partition which thereafter was actually made between the part owners, nevertheless Mr. Stewart was entitled to recover for the services which were not dependent upon whether the result was ever adopted or not.

The jurors by their verdict in plaintiff's favor rejected the defense that the employment of Mr. Stewart was upon the narrow contract that he was to furnish testimony in support of an actual partition of the property, but on the contrary found in favor of Mr. Stewart that he was employed generally as adviser to supply Mr. Libbey with his expert knowledge of values and methods of partitioning the large tract in question. There was an array of well-known appraisers called to testify in the case, among others Bryan L. Kennelly, Charles Griffith Moses and Pierre G. Carroll for Mr. Stewart, who estimated his services as being worth various amounts from $6,000 to $7,500; while Samuel Goldsticker, Solomon De Waltearss and William H. Folsom, on behalf of defendant, sought to value the services of Mr. Stewart according to a claimed custom upon the basis of five dollars a lot for the 324 lots comprising the tract.

The Court held that the custom had not been established, and the jurors were required to value the services at an amount which they considered fair and reasonable in view of their nature and extent. The result should be encouraging to those called in an advisory capacity to give their advice and assistance to property owners holding undivided interests in large tracts of property. Alexander & Ash, 92 William st, New York, tried the case for the plaintiff, and William C. Prime, of 120 Broadway, appeared for Mr. Libbey.

Analysis of the Riverside Drive Awards.

A MEETING under the auspices of the Allied Real Estate Interests will be held next week on the upper West Side at which there will be a consideration of the awards in the Riverside Drive case. An opportunity will then be given for both sides to be heard. One of the city appraisers is expected to speak on this occasion. A meeting of Washington Heights taxpayers was held on Monday night at the branch office of L. J. Phillips & Co., 157th st and Broadway, in protest against the levying of assessments for the widening of the Drive from 158th to 165th st. Speeches were made by Mr. Samuel L. Goldsticker and others. It was said that the assessed valuation of all the lands and improvements between the streets designated is very much less than the total of awards for the 40-foot strip. A committee consisting of Messrs. Isador Jackson, Samuel Goldsticker, William Prager, Augustus Fleischmann, Mayer S. Auerbach and Thos J. O'Connell waited on Corporation Counsel Ellison as the result of this metting, and placed before him a series of resolutions saying in effect that it was the opinion of those present at the meeting that this project for widening Riverside Drive could be easily abandoned, for, in their opinion, the plan was neither a necessary nor a popular one. If the project must be carried out, then the awards, they said, should represent the market value of the property.

The following analysis of the awards will supplement one which appeared in the Record and Guide last week. It gives besides the award in each case the estimate of value of four experts, two of whom were called by the city and two by the owners.

The average award amounts to over $33,000 a city lot. The area of assessment extends from 72d st on the south to Dykeman st on the north, the Hudson River on the west, the Harlem River to 8th av., 8th av. to 125th st., Broadway from 125th st. on the east.

A meeting will be held in the Lincoln Trust Company Building, 72d st and Broadway, on Monday evening, May 27, at eight o'clock, to discuss the matter of the awards lately made in connection with the widening of Riverside Drive, between 158th and 165th sts. Comptroller Metz and Mr. Joseph L. Buttenweiser will speak, and expert appraisers from the Allied Real Estate Interests will submit reports.

Reasons for Limiting the Height of Buildings.

THE question of the limitation of the height of buildings, which is now being considerably agitated, deals not with present conditions, these are bad enough, but are largely irremediable; the question is—will the unlimited exaggeration of these conditions make for the welfare of our city?

It is a well understood fact that one skyscraper provokes another.

The average skyscraper of to-day is erected in self-defense, for the man whose property is made almost valueless by the proximity of tall buildings, has no alternative but to erect a taller building. Where this sort of thing will lead is hard to predict.

Public opinion is certainly on the side of restriction, for the many evils arising from erecting buildings to prodigious heights need hardly more than be stated to be recognized. These evils may be briefly summarized as follows:

The already too congested condition of the streets in the districts where excessively tall buildings pour into the thoroughfares throngs of people and make necessary increasing vehicular traffic for service.

The unhealthfulness of lower stories, due to lack of natural light and ventilation.

The inability of transit facilities to handle at present or to keep pace with the requirements necessary to carry increasingly great numbers of persons to and from a comparatively small area.

The impossibility of quickly emptying very tall buildings in case of fire or panic, and the difficulty of coping with fire in such structures.

And, finally, the ugly and heterogeneous appearance consequent upon unrestrained height.

By reason of the strong sentiment amongst all who have given this matter thought, it seems quite probable that the Commission for the Building Code Revision will frame statutes looking toward a reasonable limit being imposed. This commission submits the entire revised code to the Board of Aldermen, which body has charter rights to provide a building code and regulate the height of buildings. There is therefore no lack of authority, and since the present code legally restricts the horizontal dimensions of buildings, there is no reason to doubt the legality of limiting also vertical dimensions.

The enactment of such a law can only be otherwise accomplished by the State Legislature, but why should the State be called upon to do what has clearly been delegated to the city authorities? It is a local matter and can be best handled by local officers. Moreover, the State Legislature is exceedingly loth to take action of this kind, as evidenced by the fact that there has recently been introduced into the Senate an act to regulate the height of buildings, known as the Mullaney bill, which lies effectually smothered in some pigeon hole, and a like untimely end came to a similar act called the Pavey bill, which was introduced in 1896 with the indorsement of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, the City Club and other representative bodies.

The Mullaney bill mentioned is in many ways an excellent measure, but errs in the judgment of many in yet permitting buildings of too great height. In general, it limits the height of all buildings to twenty times the square root of the width of the street, i. e., about 150 ft. on the average cross street of 60 foot width, and 200 feet on avenues or streets of 100 feet.

It further provides that buildings facing parks or open squares, or on streets of greater width than 100 feet may be carried to such height as may be permitted by a board specially appointed, to consist of the Superintendent of Buildings, the President of the Board of Health and a member of the Council of the Fine Arts Federation.

This provision which gives such ample discretionary powers, and such wide opportunity for favoritism is open to serious objection. It might be better to set an ulterior limit of say 250 ft. not to be exceeded in any case.

Another possible variation might be a permission to build on corners 25 ft. higher than otherwise permitted.

The Mullaney bill will, however, never pass the State Legislature, will probably never be heard of again, but its provisions somewhat modified would form an excellent basis for a new provision of the revised building code.

The opportunity was never better, nor the prospects brighter than at the present time for the amending of the law by the proper authorities and in the proper way.

WM. O. LUDLOW.

Foreclosure Sales in the Bronx.

A SHARP blow has been dealt the Vesey st auction room by the passing through both branches of the Legislature of a bill which decrees that hereafter foreclosure sales of Bronx property must be held in that borough.

Auctioneers and others whose interests are identified with the Vesey st auction room can see no sufficient reason why the bill should become a law, particularly since the majority of mortgage lenders on Bronx realty maintain downtown offices. Moreover, it is affirmed that any division of auction interests will exert a marked influence on prices by lessening the attendance at the sales. Several members of the Real Estate Auctioneers Association, headed by Jas. L. Wells, attended a public hearing on the bill on Wednesday afternoon at which time the Mayor indicated his approval of the decree.

Those real estate interests which exclusively belong to the Bronx have for several years been pressing for the enactment of this measure, which simply adds the words "AND BOROUGH" to the existing law, which now provides that sales under foreclosure shall be held in the COUNTY where the property is situated. A broker and auctioneer, who represents the views of the proponents, points out, in the first place, that Bronx Borough is in fairness as much entitled to have legal sales as Richmond, Queens and Brooklyn.

The members of the Vesey street association knew when they took over the lease from Mr. Meyer that this bill would be introduced. Sixty per cent. of the parcels of Bronx property sold under foreclosure proceedings in the last five years have had deficiency judgments entered against them. But does any one know of any section of the Bronx where values have receded within that period of time? Mortgages run from three to five years, and lenders always consider the property a sufficient guarantee of the loan. Notwithstanding that the margin of security has steadily advanced, sixty per cent. of the Bronx parcels sold under foreclosure in the downtown salesroom failed to bring the amount of the mortgage against them. The owner lost all his equity and more besides. We ascribe that to the fact that such sales are conducted in an obscure manner, that they are not sufficiently advertised, and if offered for sale in this borough the opportunity would be a matter of general knowledge and more equitable prices would be obtained.

Inverted, the same argument is used by downtown interests against the Bronx as a place for legal sales, it being held that Vesey st has more of the elements of a real estate centre than has 149th st, that sales attract more bidders, and that in the new and pleasant chamber especially there is less probability of property being sacrificed. As for the geographical argument, it is replied that reasons which required Kings, Queens and Richmond to be separate counties did not exist and have not arisen in the case of the section of Old New York now called "the Bronx"; but until Bronx Borough is presented with all the toys that Father Knickerbocker's adopted daughters have, his natural heiress will not silence her clamor.

Bryan L. Kennelly, of the Vesey Street Association, said that in his opinion such a law would have a tendency to prevent money lenders loaning freely on Bronx property. It would without doubt greatly inconvenience lawyers and interested parties, whose headquarters are likely to be located downtown, causing confusion and waste of time, not to speak of a probable falling off in attendance at sales, which latter will show its influence in lower prices. "Personally," said Mr. Kennelly, "I fail to see the need of such a law."

THE REALM OF BUILDING

The New Building of the Importers and Traders' National Bank.

(See Illustration.)

The new building will occupy the site situated at No. 247 Broadway, on a lot 25'x102'. It will be used exclusively for the business of the bank, and all of the floors will be occupied by its various departments.

The scheme of a bank erected on a 25' lot, with its tellers, bookkeepers, discount and loan clerks, etc., on different floors is entirely a novel one. As a rule most banking institutions are planned with a main floor only, on which all of the public business is done. In the Importers & Traders, the first floor will contain the departments of the receiving teller, note teller and collection clerk, while the paying teller will be on the second floor.

In the plans book vaults are located in the basement, and extend under the sidewalks at this level. The whole sub-basement is devoted to the machinery plant, consisting of the most perfected type of heating and ventilating apparatus, electric light installation, vacuum sweeping system, ice water refrigeration, etc. The boilers are installed in the rear of the sub-basement, which is lit by means of vault lights in the sidewalk. The building from the sub-basement up is to be artifically ventilated with a continuous supply of fresh air.

Concerning the exterior, the facade is classic in design, with columns on the Broadway front and pilasters on Murray st. It will be built of South Dover marble, with rubbed face. Window frames and the main entrance door on Broadway will be of bronze. The base will be of granite.

The building is to be entirely fireproof, with steel skeleton construction, and tile floor arches. The decorations of the interior will form a special feature of the bank. The first floor will be of marble, with marble and bronze counter screens, and elevator enclosures. The disposition of the rooms is as follows:

Sub-basement.—Plant and storage vaults. Basement.—This floor will contain locker, lunch and toilet rooms, book storage and stationery vaults. First Floor.—Will contain departments of note teller, collection clerk and receiving teller; all to be served by private passage in rear and public corridor in front 7 ft. wide. The main entrance to building is on this floor and faces Broadway. The large vestibule at entrance, which runs the width of the building, is 14½ ft. deep x 21½ ft. wide. Second Floor.—Will contain the departments of paying teller, balance bookkeepers, individual bookkeepers, and office of the assistant cashier. These departments, like those of the first floor, are to be served by a private passage in rear and a 7-ft. public corridor in front, which allows ample circulation space. Third Floor.—Will contain the departments of discounts, loans, general bookkeepers, room for four typewriters, book vaults and officers' room, with private passage in rear of all, with 7-ft. public corridor in front. The officers' room, 21 ft. 6 ins. x 31 ft., is located in front of the building, and will be divided from the rest of this floor by 7½-ft. marble and bronze screen with two doors in it giving an entrance to public and private passages. The toilet for officers is placed in rear of this floor. Telephone, bath and coat closets are also provided. Fourth Foor.—This floor contains a spacious toilet and wash room in rear. The rest of the floor is open clerking space, and on south wall will be placed the individual lockers. Fifth Floor.—This floor is devoted to 661 sq. ft. of clerking space, and to the directors' suite, comprising board room, anti-room, coat room and toilet, with elevator serving same. The sixth floor, like the fourth, will be an open clerking space.

The general contractors for the building are Marc Eidlitz & Sons, No. 489 Fifth av, and the sub-contractors are as follows: Exterior marble, B. A. & G. N. Williams; steel work, Hinkle Iron Co.; granite, Woodbury Granite Co.

ACCEPTED DESIGN FOR IMPORTERS AND TRADERS' NATIONAL BANK.
Broadway and Murray St., Manhattan. J. H. Freedlander, Architect.

Points on the Material Market.

High-class, non-speculative work in nearly all lines is of fairly satisfactory dimensions, so far as Manhattan goes.

Round edge native New England pine box boards at $19.00 at Boston points indicates the strength of demand for that particular class of lumber.

Stocks of hemlock on metropolitan yards are found to be "unseasonably heavy," as deliveries from the yards have been unusually light. The base price is $22.

Cut-stone work continues at rather slow speed in sympathy with speculative building, but marble can be obtained scarcely fast enough, and granite interests are doing well.

Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co., 8 Bridge st, are purchasing heavily of power equipment for the Hudson Companies' terminal building and another large power project near New York.

Cast-iron-pipe dealers are not delivering in quantities equal to last Spring's trade. Quotations are firmly maintained on the basis of $37 to $38 per net ton, tidewater, for carload lots of 6-in.

List prices of North Carolina pine are quite generally maintained, particularly on the lower grades, and there is little disposition to shade prices on any of the grades except where large orders are available.

This market has taken 50,000,000 spruce lath in the last six or seven weeks, the buyers being attracted by the most favorable prices in a year. Distributors here incline to the opinion that future receipts will not exceed the demand and will bring present or better prices for some months to come.

Brick building is increasing, and the demand for Hudson River brick is now taking out about 80 cargoes a week, which is a high average. In the wholesale market the best grade of Hudson Rivers brings $6.75 to $7.25 per M., with Light Hards at $3.75 to $4.25, and New Jerseys at $5.75 to $6.

A reform proposal that is to have some attention from lumber merchants would permanently stop lump-sum bidding in figuring prices upon schedules at retail yards. In several cities they have ceased doing this, by general agreement, "to the end that a normal profit may be secured on each item called for."

Mr. Young, of the Manhattan Lime Co. (with yards at 141st st and East River, Bronx; Ridgewood and Kensington, Brooklyn), notes a fine run of business in Brooklyn, but much less in the Bronx this year than last. Hydrated lime is getting the best call on New York side, but Brooklyn still clings to lump lime.

The hardwoods are very strong, with the matter of prices entirely in the hands of the shippers. With possible exception of mahogany the market is not quotable higher on any particular item, as poplar continues to be sold here on a basis of $60 for inch 1s and 2s, and quartered oak occasionally finds a buyer at better than $80, though that seems to be the prevailing quotation.

W. H. Knight, chief engineer of the Long Acre Electric Light & Power Company, with offices at 74 Broadway, is buying equipment for a power plant to generate 100,000 HP., to be located at 120th st and the East River,, and the contract has already been let for a Wilkinson steam turbine, which is to be the largest ever built.

Spruce is still moving evenly, with demand taking care of receipts about as fast as they put in an appearance with quotations held at practically last month's figures. The Lumberman's Review quotes: "Random cargoes shipped in on consignment are being held at a range of anywhere from $17 to $22, according to the quality of stock and sizes in the cargo. This is for strictly random shipments, and schedule orders cannot be placed materially below $25, and where the sizes are difficult the price goes as high as $28."

The large resources of the Pacific Coast redwood forests have been little used up to the present time. Until recently this timber only had use locally, but now it has become a competitor of many woods in the Eastern markets. It is being much used in the East for shingles instead of cypress, and to some extent for flooring, siding, laths, and finishing work. There is reason now to believe that its field of usefulness as a structural material will become extensive in the East also. The U. S. Forest Service informs the Record and Guide that it intends to make a comprehensive study of the physical and mechanical properties of redwood lumber.

Brick Making Season Opens.

Brick manufacturing has begun along the Harlem River, one month and seven days later than last year; for the Haverstraw district alone this means 75,000,000 fewer bricks; a number of manufacturers have withdrawn from business, and on the lower reaches of the river the sheds are almost empty. When these several facts and conditions are added together the total seems to read to the eye of the manufacturer: "Good prices the rule instead of the exception." The Rockland County Messenger considers the outlook good when properly focused:

The report or statement of five-days-a-week moulding, or trouble coming, is the result of brainstorms of people unacquainted with the brick business. In regard to the reduction of wages on the yards it will be better to wait and see how plentiful brickyard men will be this year, as report has it that quite a number of men who come annually from the South are employed at the Jamestown Exposition and will remain there. There are other things to be considered, ordinary laborers are in demand all over the country and good wages is the result. It is predicted that when the first monthly pay day arrives a change for the better will be seen and arrangements to suit the conditions will be made. As far as the season is concerned, with the start a month and seven days later than last season and empty sheds all along the river, conservatively it can not be seen where the calamity howl comes in.

With brick building normally active in New York, nothing could be subtracted from the foregoing. But thus far projects are twenty millions of dollars' worth behind last year's sum in Manhattan—and eight millions short of the 1905 projects. A peculiarity of the time, however, is that building statistics have not preserved the usual alignment with building operations A number of heavy works for which plans were filed last year will not be calling for material and the principal mechanics for some time. Thus, the four million-dollar plan of the Pennsylvania Railroad was filed more than a year ago, but as yet has not called for the work of stone or brick masons. Likewise the plans of the Singer, City Investing and Metropolitan buildings, were all filed last year, and the principal parts of these buildings have yet to be worked. Still another stupendous job, the main building of the New York Central terminal, is yet to be undertaken, so that most of the fruitage of these plans are yet to be gathered by the building trades.

During the first three months of this year the number of buildings commenced in Manhattan, as noted by the Statistical Clerk of the Bureau of Buildings, was 100; new buildings completed, 383; alterations commenced, 587; alterations completed, 597. In the year 1906, during the first quarter, the number of new buildings commenced was 354; new buildings completed, 340; alterations commenced, 670; alterations completed, 773.

—A builder's connections may be splendid, but his trade paper can still add to his reputation. If a frog be put in cold water, and the water be gradually heated, the frog will remain until he is scalded to death. The water at no time is enough hotter than it was a moment before to budge him. Most of us are like that frog in some things. We wait too long—sometimes until friends and business fade away. Our trade paper can help us to keep both.

Spring Building Statistics.

Building statistics from leading cities throughout the country officially reported and tabulated, show a gradual increase, as the season progresses, over similar reports for the same period last year, confirming the reports from cement companies of general activity. With reports from 54 cities to consider, there is a gain in plans filed as compared with April, 1906, a trifle over 5 per cent. Twenty-six cities show gains ranging from 6 to 199 per cent., and 28 show a loss varying from 2 to 77 per cent. Greater New York (including Richmond and Queens, as well as Brooklyn), is rapidly recovering her wonted building activity, while falling behind during the past few months, the figures for April show a gain by these reports of 17 per cent. over April of the previous year. The percentage of gain in other cities is shown by the following figures:

Baltimore 6, Bridgeport 99, Denver 7, Harrisburg 44, Louisville 35, Milwaukee 46, Minneapolis 28, Memphis 6, Mobile 42, Newark 63, Philadelphia 69, Paterson 74, Portland 199, San Antonio 78, Scranton 28, Spokane 16, Syracuse 52, Tacoma 48, Worcester 50. The principal losses fall on the following-named cities: Atlanta 20, Birmingham 27, Chicago 56, Evansville 35, Fall River 77, Grand Rapids 22, Indianapois 20, Kansas City 20, Los Angeles 27, Nashville 28, New Haven 25, New Orleans 26, Pittsburgh 67, St. Louis 42, Seattle 31, Wilkesbarre 34, Winnipeg 45. Many of the latter can afford this loss and still show a great building activity as compared with several years ago.

The following tables show the new construction planned on Manhattan Island for the first four months this year, and that for the corresponding period last year:

Building Operations.

Contracts for Two Broadway Skyscrapers.

BROADWAY.—The Record and Guide was informed on Friday that in all probability the George A. Fuller Co. would receive the general contract to erect the new 23-sty Knickerbocker Trust Building at the Northeast corner of Broadway and Exchange pl, on plot 60x131, on which now stands the southerly part of the Consolidated Exchange, although at the Fuller Co.'s office it was learned that no papers have yet been signed. The property now extends along the northerly side of Exchange pl to and including the corner of New st. The Knickerbocker Co., in September, 1906, paid for the site, which contains 8,371 square feet, about $200 a square foot, or $1,700,000. The Exchange occupies the site under a ground lease. Chas. T. Barney is president of the company. Plans were started by Messrs. McKim, Mead & White about ten months ago. (See also issue Sept. 22, 1906.) Another large contract which it is understood will go to the Geo. A. Fuller Co. is that for the new 18-sty building which the Lawyers Title Insurance & Trust Co., of No. 37 Liberty st, is about to erect at Nos. 160 to 164 Broadway, on the site of the old Guernsey building, running through with a frontage at No. 6 Maiden lane. This structure is designed by Messrs. Clinton & Russell, 32 Nassau st. (See issue of May 11, 1907.)

The Downtown Flatiron Building.

The contract has just been awarded to the Foundation Company, 115 Broadway, for constructing the pneumatic caisson foundations for the 21-sty German-American Insurance building, corner of Maiden lane and Liberty st. This building will occupy a lot trapezoidal in shape with a frontage of 137' 7" on Maiden lane, 128' 6" on Liberty st, 19' to the east and 62' on the west wall. The foundation work will be the cofferdam or closed caisson type similar to that used for the Seligman building on William and Stone sts and for the Royal Queen Insurance building on cor of William and Maiden lane. The perimeter of the lot will be enclosed by sinking 15 caissons to an average depth of about 42' below curb. This method will provide a water-tight enclosure around the entire lot permitting the utilization of floors at five different depths, to be known as low-basement, mid-basement, and basement, engine-room floor and boiler-room floor, the latter being at a level of about 32' below curb, or about 22' below water level. Owing to the peculiar shape of the lot some of the caissons required will be the largest ever constructed for any building in this city. Work will be started within a week. Hill & Stout, 1123 Broadway, are the architects, and A. R. Whitney, Jr., & Co., 135 Broadway, the builders.

New Warehouse for Colwell Lead Company.

LAFAYETTE ST.—Lafayette Building Co. (Sonn Bros.), will erect an 8-sty fire-proof warehouse at the northwest corner of Lafayette and Walker sts, to be completed about April 1st, 1908, and occupied by the Colwell Lead Company, of 63-65 Center st. The ground floor will contain a handsome show room, retail and shipping department. Company's offices will occupy the entire first story, the remainder of the building, including vault under Walker st, will be used for storage purposes. There will be three electric passenger and freight elevators, and an electric lighting apparatus will be installed. The facades will be of polished granite, limestone and brick. Messrs. Schwartz & Gross, B. N. Marcus, 35 West 21st st, have been commissioned to prepare plans and supervise the construction.

George A. Fuller Co. Starts Superstructure for Pennsylvania Terminal.

The George A. Fuller Company started work on Monday last for the superstructure of the Pennsylvania Railroad terminal at 7th av, 32d and 33d sts, which is to cover 433.4x771.6¼. About 1,750,000 cubic yards of rock and earth have already been quarried away in preparing the site, leaving about 950,000 cubic yards to come. The structural steel in the substructure is being put up by the Jobson-Hooker Co., of 1170 Broadway. Other sub-contractors are: Batterson & Eisele and Traitel Bros., marble work; Norcross Bros. Co., interior granite work; the Hecla Iron Works and J. B. & J. M. Cornell Co., ornamental work.

Palmer & Hornbostel Plan $3,000,000 Educational Building.

Plans of Messrs Palmer & Hornbostel, 63 William st, Manhattan, have been accepted by the Board of Awards of the Trustees of Public Buildings, for the new Educational Building to be erected at Albany, N. Y. The structure will be 4-stys and basement, 585 ft. long, and to be constructed either of granite, marble or limestone. It will be of classic design, with a Corinthian colonnade facing Washington av. When completed the building will contain the State Library, State Museum and offices. The estimated cost is placed at about $3,000,000. Contractor M. F. Dollard, of Albany, has received the contract to clear the site.

To Modernize Broadway Block.

BROADWAY.—The block bounded by Broadway, 8th av, 57th and 58th sts, on which there are twenty old brick buildings, purchased by Walter J. Salomon, and Paul M. Herzog, 500 5th av, will be renovated and modernized, bringing them up to the requirements of the neighborhood for more store and office space. No plans for a new building or theatre of any sort have been drawn to cover this plot, as was reported in the general press. The estimated cost of these improvements, it is said will figure about $100,000. No contracts have yet been completed.

Geo. Vassar, Jr., Co. Will Build Jay Street Stable.

JAY ST.—Contract for the 3-sty hard-burnt brick stable and laundry building, 25.4x53.6 ft., which the New York Hospital, West 15th st, is about to erect at No. 9 Jay st, has just been awarded to the firm of George Vassar, Jr., Co., of No. 1170 Broadway. Tile and plastic slate roof, steam heat, electric lights, etc. Messrs. Robertson & Potter, 160 5th av, are the architects.

Miscellaneous.

4TH AV.—New York Billiard Table Manufacturing Co. has purchased Nos. 121-123 4th av, on which to erect a 10-sty mercantile structure, on plot 30x90 and irregular. No plans or contracts yet.

5TH AV.—No plans have definitely been settled upon or architect selected for the improvement of the southeast corner of 5th av and 53d st, a plot 60x125. A 12 sty studio building is to be erected on the site.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of Williams, Proctor & Potts, Inc., Consult. Engrs., 17 Battery pl, Manhattan, for constructing about 28 miles of pipe sewers, sewage disposal plant, etc., at Morristown, N. J.

Plans of Edward L. Tilton, 32 Broadway, Manhattan, have been accepted for constructing a public library in Springfield, Mass. The structure will be built of stone, and will cost, complete, about $360,000. Nathan D. Bill is Pres. City Library Association.

R. Napier Anderson, 63 5th av, Manhattan, is preparing plans for a 12-sty hotel, with a theatre at the rear, to be built at 520 to 526 Broad st, Newark, N. J. The hotel will cover the plot 100x125 on Broad st and will contain 375 rooms. An arcade will provide an entrance to the theatre which will have a capacity of about 1,800. It is estimated the cost of the buildings will reach $800,000, making a total investment of $1,050,000. The Newark & New York Improvement Co. is the owner.

HELL GATE BRIDGE.—Plans for the huge East River bridge of the New York Connecting Railroad were filed this week with the Municipal Art Commission for its approval, in accordance with the provisions of the charter granted to the company. Only a part of a great steel viaduct, the new bridge, will surpass all ever built or planned to cross the East River, and will be the longest and heaviest steel bridge in the world. There will be a steel arch span of more than a thousand feet across the turbulent Hell Gate between abutments. The abutments will be monumental stone towers, dividing the bridge proper from the steel viaduct which forms the approaches. They will be of granite at the base and moulded concrete above, reaching up some two hundred feet.

Estimates Receivable.

SHERIFF ST.—Plans are ready for estimates at the office of W. Greenberg, No. 12 White st, or architect Frank Straub, 10 East 14th st, for alterations to Nos. 51-53 Sheriff st.

BUILDING NOTES

More painters were idle this spring than in five years past.

There is a growing suspicion that the weather man is on strike.

Business confidence strengthens. The railroads are resuming work on betterments.

Bronx builders should forget about cheap tenements for awhile and go in for dwellings.

The building season of 1907 is a little late in getting into a good stride, but it is now going some.

Brick building both in Manhattan and the Bronx is multiplying, and brick prices are mounting again.

The numerous lot sales in the Bronx ought to boom house building this summer—if the money comes along.

The Pennsylvania Steel Co., will furnish 6,000 tons of steel, required for the Manhattan approach to the Blackwell's Island Bridge. Snare & Triest Co. have the building contract.

George A. Fuller Co. will have the Plaza Hotel ready about the first of October, under contract to the Plaza Operating Company in which a majority of the stock is owned by the Cedar Street Company.

Borough President Coler proposes that the new court house be built at Flatbush av and Sterling pl, Brooklyn. The city already owns part of the property.

The total number of office and loft buildings for which plans were filed during the first four months this year is 58, work to cost $12,983,500. The 1906 record for the corresponding period was 47 buildings to cost $9,866,000.

Ichabod T. Williams & Sons have received the contract for the mahogany for the Hudson Terminal Building, Church and Dey sts. Three-quarter million feet of mahogany will be required for this structure and it will all be East India mahogany.

Our builders and real estate men generally are coming to the front in public affairs. No class of men is more competent and dependable. Mr. Henry S. Thompson's appointment as Commissioner of Public Works is a step in the direction of good, or better, government.

Standard Concrete Steel Co., 31st and East River, is about to issue a wall pocket containing "filing blanks" for the Bureau of buildings. On the face of the pocket is a schedule showing various floor arch systems (spans, capacities, etc.) and just what use can be made of them.

On page 894 of the 1907 edition of "Sweet's" Indexed Catalogue of Building Construction a list of buildings is given, with architects' names, in which Standard Plunger Elevators have been installed. The architect of the Marbridge Building, New York, should be Townsend, Steinle & Haskell, and not Robert D. Kohn as given.

Financial men say they are satisfied with business conditions, except as affected by the weather, which during the winter and spring has been unpropitious. In manufacturing, retailing and the higher grades of building construction there is a good current of trade, and confidence in the permanence of the present prosperity is strengthening.

On Broadway, Washington Heights, northeast corner 158th st, work on the 6-sty apartment house, which the Fluri Construction Co. is erecting, from plans by Neville & Bagge, 217 West 125th st, is rapidly rising. The limestone is up two stories, and carpenters are setting the floor beams. The estimated cost is about $225,000.

The entire plant of the Orford Copper Company, at Bayonne, N. J., has been remodeled by Curtin, Ruggles & Co., who have designed, engineered and constructed thirteen of the buildings. Nine of these buildings are reinforced concrete and four of steel construction. By the first of November they will be completed and in use for smelting and refining purposes.

The 12-sty loft building, at Broadway, northwest corner of 12th st, is now about ready for interior terra cotta partitions, plaster and all outside window glass. The roof cornice was set in place on Wednesday. Harris H. Uris, Iron Works, 525-535 West 26th st, has this contract. Ravitch Bros., 81 Mangin st, are the builders, and Samuel Sass, 23 Park Row, drew the plans.

The United States Realty and Improvement Co. is at work on construction contracts amounting to $27,521,357. Nearly all the work undertaken is on a basis of cost plus a net percentage. The regular income from the real estate owned amounted this year to $1,128,010, as against $993,301 for the previous fiscal year. The "Trinity" addition and the "U. S. Realty Building" will add to this income.

There is profit in improved methods. Names which sound strange to your ears, materials you never have used, become in a brief time parts of your business; and if you have taken hold of them at the right time they have made money for you. We could name many things that builders once had no use for, but now are of the utmost importance in the building trades. Simply because a thing is new to you should not be a reason for turning it down.

The Royal Insurance Building, Maiden lane and William st, has been trimmed with genuine East India mahogany. The officers' rooms on the 16th floor are superb with deep panelling in this beautiful product on both walls and ceiling. The exquisite coloring and figuring effects of this work are worthy the investigation of architects as proving that it is equal in appearance to the Old San Domingo mahogany which can no longer be obtained.

One of the most recent of the contracts announced by the Frank B. Gilbreth organization, calls for the erection of a new factory building for the H. C. White Co., manufacturer of stereoscopes and stereographs, at North Bennington, Vt. The building, which will be erected under the Gilbreth Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Sum contract, will have brick walls, with concrete floors, beams, roofs, girders and columns at a cost of approximately $35,000. The engineer is W. F. Dean, of Boston.

The much-discussed question as to which is the best mahogany for fine buildings may be settled by a visit to the U. S. Realty Building, which is trimmed in African mahogany, and the Royal Insurance Co.'s Building, corner William st and Maiden lane, trimmed in East India mahogany. In each instance the wood has been chemically fireproofed by the electric process and they are being finished in a similar manner.

Henry Corn, 320 5th av, has obtained building loans amounting to $1,075,000 from the Title Guarantee and Trust Co., with which to erect three 12-sty store and loft buildings. One at Nos. 34 to 36 West 18th st, plot 50x92 ft., Maynicke & Franke, 298 5th av, architects, to be completed Feb. 1, 1908. (See issue Mar. 9, 1907). At Nos. 22 to 28 West 21st st, plot 100x92 ft., Maynicke & Franke, architects. (See issue Jan. 12, 1907).

John W. Rapp has received the contract for all the exterior window frames and sash in the Metropolitan Tower. These frames are all copper covered and proof against fire and weather. The tower will be 47 stories high and contain about 1,250 windows. It was designed by Napoleon Le Brun and is being built by the Hedden Construction Co. Mr. Rapp has also been awarded the contract for the exterior copper covered windows of the City Investing Co.'s building, which will adorn the corner of Cortlandt and Church sts. This building, which will be 34 stories in height, was designed by Francis H. Kimball, architect, and also being built by the Hedden Construction Co.

Two handsome improvements adjacent to each other on Riverside Drive, will be ready for occupancy in September. At the southeast corner of 97th st, Robt. T. Lyons, of 31 Union sq, as owner, architect and builder, has a 6-sty apartment in the second stage of construction. This building has ground dimensions of 96x97.10, and is planned after the new style with a recess in the front, which lets light into the middle of the building. Two hundred thousand dollars is being spent on the work. At the northeast corner of 95th st, a big red brick and stone trimmed apartment is being reared by the George W. Levy Building Company from the plans of Schwartz & Gross, with a frontage of 108 feet and a depth of 173, to cost $350,000. It will have apartments of four to eight rooms. Both of these houses belong to the best type of new century construction and they have a sightly location.

Developments Around Van Cortlandt Park.

Plots of 50 feet frontage in the well known sub-division, "Van Cortlandt Terrace," between Riverdale av, Broadway, the city line, and Valentine lane, bring $5,000 and upwards, according to location. The property is owned by Van Cortlandt Realty Co., in which David Stewart, of 203 Broadway, Manhattan, is largely interested. Among the recent purchasers of sites are J. Romaine Brown, and Horace Anderson, of Title Guarantee & Trust Co. Plans are being prepared by E. M. Child for 10 new dwellings, which are to be erected on the property this summer.

The managers of the New York Realty Owners' Company are developing their property at "Belmont." It is on a high plateau north of Van Cortlandt park on Jerome av at its junction with Yonkers av, including corners at the intersection of Central Park and Yonkers av. The main thoroughfares will be devoted chiefly to business purposes, and on the inside streets back from the avenues residences will be located. Houses of seven or twelve rooms, equipped with all modern conveniences on plots of two city lots, are now being offered for sale on easy terms. Houses and detached cottages can also be rented by the month.

Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, will sell by auction Tuesday, June 4, at 11 a. m. sharp, 216 lots just north of Washington Bridge, on Aqueduct av, Featherbed lane, Nelson av, East 175th st, Macomb's road. Every lot is ready for immediate improvement, situated on high ground lying at or about the grade of the streets and avenues they front upon and are curbed, sewered, regulated and graded. This section has rapid transit now in operation, within 30 minutes from City Hall. (See advertisement in another page of this week's Record and Guide.)

Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, will sell at auction at the Exchange Salesroom, 14 and 16 Vesey st, Tuesday, May 28, 11 a. m. sharp 305 lots of the Bailey estate, about 10 blocks immediately north of the Ogden estate, 189th st to Kingsbridge road, Sedgwick av, Bailey av, Heath av, Kingsbridge place, including 26 lots at corner of 189th st, Tee Taw av and Park View place. Seventy per cent. can remain for two years at 5% on bond and mortgage. The land, with few exceptions, lies well and is ideal for homes. Send for booklet to attorneys, or Joseph P. Day, 31 Nassau st. See advertisement in this week's issue for further particulars.

John S. Mapes, auctioneer, will sell at auction Saturday, June 1, at 2 p. m., on the grounds, 114 lots and a fine modern residence, on the Wallace property, situated on the Fort Schuyler road and La Salle av, Westchester, New York City. The lots are finely situated and are ready for immediate improvement. Titles are guaranteed free of cost. Seventy per cent. may remain on mortgage. For maps and particulars apply to H. C. Mapes & Co., auctioneers, 55 Liberty st, New York. This section of the city has been prominent in the real estate market for a couple of years, and is being rapidly developed. In a few years it will be one of the choicest settled parts of the city.

The private sales market for the past week shows improvement both in character and tone. Among the transactions closed were several in the Pennsylvania and New York Central terminal sections, and a notable acquisition by a syndicate of artists of a large 5th av plot, which will be improved with a million-dollar co-operative apartment house. During the latter part of the week a large purchase was concluded by Mr. A. Hollander which completes his ownership of a block front on the east side Broad st between Front and Water. North of Columbus Circle several plots were sold which foreshadowed building operations. In the Bronx, besides the usual number of vacant lot sales, interest was aroused by the purchase of a corner on Tremont av, which will at once be improved with a modern bank building. While the sales of the week are less numerous than those reported for the same period last year, their quality and size amply make up for this deficiency. The total number of sales reported is 115, of which 43 were below 59th st, 37 north and 35 in the Bronx. The total number of Manhattan conveyances recorded this week was 254, to compare with 339 in the corresponding week last year. Plans for 30 new buildings were filed in Manhattan and 66 in the Bronx.

Bryan L. Kennelly, auctioneer, will sell at auction at the Exchange Salesroom, 14 and 16 Vesey st, on Monday, May 27, 129 lots and villa plots, being a portion of the Powers estate, situated on Broadway, West 193d st, Fairview av, Wadsworth terrace and Broadway terrace. The property to be sold lies at about the highest point on the island of Manhattan, and overlooks the Dyckman tract and the surrounding country. Builders will find that the lots situated on Broadway will be attractive for business and apartments. That part of the property lying on Fairview av and Broadway terrace is particularly suitable for improvement with dwellings, for which there is a growing demand in that section of the borough. The entire property is accessible by trolley and subway at a five-cent fare. Grading, curbing and flagging on Wadsworth av, Broadway terrace and West 193d st have been paid for, and since the title of the land in the streets mentioned has been dedicated to the city, purchasers will not be assessed for street opening. The terms of this sale admit of 70% of the purchase money to remain on bond and mortgage for 1, 2, 3 or 5 years at 5%, and the purchaser will be allowed the convenient privilege of paying off his obligation on 30 days' notice. The liberality of these terms and the splendid situation of the Powers estate will doubtless attract a large gathering of buyers to this sale. (See advertisement on another page of this week's Record and Guide.)

57TH ST.—Parish, Fisher & Co. sold for Jahial Parmly, 4-sty brownstone dwelling 134 West 57th st, 20x100.5; for Adolph L. Gondran, the similar adjoining property, 136; for Emily B. Potts, the similar adjoining property 138; for Elizabeth S. C. Burke, the similar adjoining property 140 and for Harriet Frances Quackenbush, the similar adjoining property 142 West 57th st, in all, five houses, on plot 100x100.5, to Robert W. Vonnoh. These properties immediately adjoin the 80-foot plot at 126 to 132 West 57th st, sold by the same brokers to Mr. Vonnoh about 6 weeks ago. Mr. Vonnoh will erect upon plot 12-sty duplex apartment house similar to the one designed for first plot purchased. All the apartments that were for sale in the structure originally projected have been disposed of, and subscriptions have already been received for many of those salable in the new building. Information is at hand which warrants the statement that several large undertakings along similar lines are now under consideration.

AV C.—Max Fabricant and Max Kershenblatt sold to Abraham Levenstein northeast cor Av C and 9th st, 5-sty tenement, 23x58.

BROADWAY.—Jacob Le Roy and others sold 343 Broadway, 6-sty building, 30.8x107, with an "L" to 90 Leonard st. Mary B. Brandegee is the buyer.

LEXINGTON AV.—The Henry Morgenthau Company resold to a client of M. Morgenthau, Jr., & Co., southeast cor 57th st and Lexington av, 5-sty flat, with stores. The selling company purchased the property a few weeks ago and has not yet taken title.

MADISON AV.—Horace S. Ely & Co. sold for Ida C. Bracher to a client 512 Madison av, northwest cor 53d st, 4-sty brownstone dwelling, lot 20.5x95.

1ST AV.—L. Stockell & Co. sold for M. Dlugasch the southwest cor of 1st av and 10th st, 6-sty tenement, with stores, plot 46x72.

2D AV.—R. J. Jacobs & Co. sold to Fred Picker southwest cor of 23d st and 2d av, known as 395 and 397 2d av, and 248 East 23d st, 5-sty brick building, with three stores. The property has not changed hands in 50 years.

2 AV.—Weintraub & Westintzer sold to S. Kirschbaum 7-sty tenement 55 2 av, 24x100.

2 AV.—James Kyle & Sons sold for Lottie Deutsch 960 and 962 2 av, northeast cor. 51 st, two 4-sty flats with stores, 40.5x70.

Deal for Third Avenue Corner.

3 AV.—S. L. Cooper sold to New Amsterdam Realty Co. northeast cor. 35 st and 3 av, 19x62, and the immediate adjoining parcels, 203 and 205 38 st, 38x74. The site is at present covered with 4-sty brick store buildings.

A Notable Invasion.

5TH AV.—Through the combined efforts of Parish, Fisher & Co. and Albert B. Ashforth, the holdings of Harry J. Luce, President Acker, Merrall & Condit Co., at southeast cor 5th av and 53d st, including 667 to 671 5th av, 60x100, and the adjoining property, 2 53d st, 25x100.5, were sold to a syndicate of artists during the week. The parcel contains about 8,500 sq. ft. It is the intention of the purchaser to erect upon the site a co-operative studio apartment, and since the parcel acquired is one of the few in that locality unaffected by restrictions the new owner is enabled to proceed at once with the undertaking. It will be remembered that Mr. Luce purchased the property in September, 1906, from Robert Scoville at a figure approaching $850,000. The plot is diagonally opposite the mansions of the Vanderbilts and close to the site recently acquired by E. H. Harriman at northeast cor 5th av and 52d st. It is conceded by those who have made an intelligent study of the studio or co-operative apartment idea that no more suitable location for such an undertaking could be found. The structure planned is of the duplex type and will contain 12 stories with stores on ground floor and is estimated to cost $1,000,000. The announcement comes in the nature of a disappointment to the owners of realty in the immediate vicinity who have for so long a period successfully thwarted the invasion of business and apartment buildings by purchasing all similar unrestricted parcels. No definite price in the present transaction is stated, but it is known that the holding price was $1,250,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

61 ST.—The New Amsterdam Realty Company bought, through John P. Kirwin, southeast cor. Amsterdam av and 61 st, 5-sty triple flat with stores, 25.5x75.

66TH ST.—L. Stockell & Co. sold, in conjunction with L. Rice, for Kramer & Rockmore, the two new 6-sty flats on north side of 66th st, 100 ft. east 3d av, together with two similar abutting houses on south side 67th st.

In Lenox Library Block.

70TH ST.—The Trustees of Lenox Library sold, through Henry D. Winans & May, plot 33x102.2, on north side 70th st, 175 feet east 5th av, and plot 65x102.2, on the south side of 71st st, 175 feet east of 5th av. Both plots adjoin Henry C. Frick's holdings on the 5th av front of the block.

70TH ST.—Frederick Zittel sold for Thomas Mulholland, 4-sty brownstone dwelling 114 West 70th st, 18.6x105. The buyer will occupy the house.

143D ST.—Paul Halpin, as executor of the estate of Hannah M. Halpin sold 506 West 143d st, 3-sty dwelling, 18.9x99.11. Maurice W. Halpin was the broker.

AMSTERDAM AV.—Henry Harburger bought through G. W. Cahen northeast corner of Amsterdam av and 91st st, 5-sty double apartment house, 28x100.

AMSTERDAM AV.—New Amsterdam Realty Company bought 35 Amsterdam av, southeast cor. 61st st, 5-sty triple flat, with stores, 25.5x75, from Mrs. Ida C. Stoge. John P. Kirwan was the broker.

BROADWAY.—Jesse C. Bennett & Co. sold for George W. Kruse, Christian H. Kruse, Charlotte S. Kruse and Anna M. Muller, 239 W. 83d st, Nos. 2300, 2302, 2304, 2306 and 2308 Broadway, comprising the northeast cor. 83d st and Broadway, 102.2x114, 5-sty buildings.

Broadway Apartment in Trade.

BROADWAY.—J. P. Leo sold Clare Arms, 6-sty apartment house, 100.11x75, at northeast cor. Broadway and 124th st, to Max E. and Simon E. Bernheimer, who give Bronx property in exchange. Harry W. Hopton was the broker.

LENOX AV.—Joseph Burke sold to Hyman Goldfarb 587 to 591 Lenox av, northwest cor 140th st, 7-sty apartment house, known as "Gresham Court," 99.11x110.

LENOX AV.—A. F. & H. A. Koelble bought from George V. Baldwin 5-sty double flat, with stores, 363 Lenox av, 25x75, and resold it to a Mr. Weber.

LEXINGTON AV.—Montgomery & Seitz sold for Wm. F. Donnolly northwest cor Lexington av and 60th st, 5-sty apartment house with 9 stores, 22x100.5. The same brokers also sold southwest cor Lexington av and 60th st, a similar building, 22.6x100.5.

MADISON AV.—H. Rawak sold for Baumann Brothers southwest cor Madison av and 117th st, 5-sty flat, on lot 25x90. This is the fourth sale of this property through the same broker.

MADISON AV.—Sam. J. Redlich sold for Mrs. Mary C. Sniffin, 776 Madison av, 4-sty dwelling, 20x80, between 65th and 66th sts. The buyer is Mme. Busse, who will remove the present house and erect 6-sty business building on the site, occupying a part of it for her dressmaking establishment. Other undertakings of the same character will shortly be commenced in vicinity of 65th st.

PARK AV.—Alexander A. Olsen sold for Milton C. Henley to Moses Ochs northwest cor Park av and 95th st, 5-sty flat, 25.2x100.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE.—The Westcott estate sold lot 28.5x111.8x irregular on east side of Riverside Drive, adjoining northeast cor. 93 st, to Samuel G. Bayne, who owns the corner, and now controls a plot 57.7x97.10x50.8x125.2.

LEASES.

Edward N. Crosby & Co. leased for Rutgers Estate 33 and 35 Catherine st, 3-sty brick dwelling, with stores, one of the oldest buildings in Seventh Ward.

M. & L. Hess leased for Estate of Henry Bruner to Frank & Lambert the 6-sty and basement building, 115-17 Wooster st, containing 35,000 sq. ft., for a term of years.

The McVickar-Gaillard Realty Company leased for F. S. Godfrey, of Scranton, Pa., for term of years, to W. R. Innis, general manager of Studebaker Company, 2-sty garage, at 729-733 7th av.

Duff & Brown have leased for T. I. O'Connell 6-sty stable 405 W. 126th st, to Solomon Peshkin for term of years; and for G. D. Sherman the 3-sty stable 409 W. 150th st. Also the following dwellings: For F. R. De Lacey, No. 621 W. 138th st; for R. J. Hoguet, No. 3690 Broadway; for Paul B. Pugh, No. 474 W. 145th st; for W. P. Prentice No. 467 W. 144th st; and for Mary Cottrell No. 311 Convent av.

Bell-Wiley Co. leased the "Garfield," a 7-sty elevator apartment house on a plot 50x100 at 338-340 West 56th st, almost directly opposite the new building of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, for a long term of years at an aggregate rental of about $160,000 for the term. The same brokers recently sold this property to the present owners, who will now hold it as an investment. The lessees expect to alter the building into an apartment hotel, the location being especially well suited for such an improvement.

STATEN ISLAND.

Cornelius G. Kolff, of 50 Broadway, Manhattan, sold for Jane D. Kane to H. M. Davis, of Manhattan, the well-known Vreeland farm, 25 acres, on Freshkill road, near Rossville. The farm was recently sold by above broker to Mrs. Kane.

The Butler Farm of 40 acres on Beach av, Tottenville, has been sold through Cornelius G. Kolff to Eugene Bernheimer, of Manhattan. The property is better known as Ocean View Farm, on account of the fine view which it commands, and is situated near new engine works of Lewis Nixon, at foot of Church st.

The Spring Auction Market

By JOSEPH P. DAY

THE spring auction market opened up with the announcements of several large lot sales. If there was any question of the real estate buying public lacking interest in lot sales, it was decisively settled at the Ogden estate auction sale, when the property went considerably better than experts considered it would go; and another good feature is that those who bought have either sold considerable of their holdings at a profit, or, at least, have had offers at fair profits on all of the lots they hold.

The spring auction market for improving property was really opened up with the now famous Doherty estate sale, and the now equally famous Ogden estate sale opened up the lot auction market for the spring.

The Bailey estate, numbering 305 lots, is to be put up at absolute sale without reserve on Tuesday, May 28, and should attract a number of home seekers to the west part of the Bronx. These lots command a view of the valley, comparing most favorably with anything in that section.

On Tuesday, June 4, the Century Realty Company will offer without reserve at absolute auction sale 216 lots along Aqueduct av and Featherbed lane, in the west part of the Bronx, which (in the vernacular of the real estate man) is the cream of Aqueduct av lots situated as they are in that part of the Bronx.

On Wednesday, June 12, as advertised, the Laytin estate, of 56½ acres at Throggs Neck, Westchester County, will be sold in bulk. This lies in a part of Westchester County considered very favorably by operators who buy with a view of later developments.

Another big lot sale of improved seashore lots, at Belle Harbor, on the Rockaway coast, will occur on Saturday, June 15. Belle Harbor has been very finely developed, and last year there were more than 1,500 lots bought in this section by people who wanted to build summer homes and who appreciated this seashore offering.

To-day the lot buying public is educated to look for well-developed property or they will not purchase. The business of buying farms and driving in stakes to represent streets and having brass bands and a free lunch has passed, and they are no longer attractive to the usual lot purchasers of to-day. Present-day lot purchasers must be shown that the location is a good one and that the improvements ARE THERE and then they will buy. It is to the advantage of every person interested in real estate lot sales to develop and improve the property before offering to the lot-buying public.

Auctions of the Week.

The principal offering at the auction room on Tuesday of this week was conducted by Jas. L. Wells, and consisted of 25 Bronx lots on Jerome, Webster, 3d, Decatur and Cedar avs. The most important parcel put up was the southeast cor of 3d av and 135th st, running irregularly through to 134th st. The property brought $16,000, which was regarded as a fair price. Two lots on e s Webster av, 600 ft. north of Woodlawn road, were knocked down to Leo Hutter for $6,150. The advertised sales of 55th and 92d st parcels by Joseph P. Day were adjourned to May 28 and 29.

On Wednesday most of the property put up at foreclosure was bought in by the plaintiffs, but all voluntary offerings found purchasers, among them being a parcel 50 x 232 x 72, with 2-sty and attic frame dwelling, on e s Aqueduct av, about 107 ft. n of 192d st, which Mr Day knocked down to Herman McGuire for $8,800. In comparison with some of the prices obtained at the Ogden sale, the parcel brought a moderate figure. Thursday's foreclosure sale of 28 Ann st, also conducted by Mr. Day, resulted in the parcel being struck off to the plaintiff, Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, at $100,000. The sale of 2027 7th av, also scheduled to take place on the same day, has been readvertised, and auctioneer Samuel Goldsticker will sell the parcel on June 12.

One of the interesting auction sales for next week will be the offering of the Powers estate on upper Broadway. The parcel consists of a tract of 129 lots and villa plots, which will be sold by Auctioneer Bryan L. Kennelly on Monday, May 27, at the Vesey st auction room. The property is well situated where it commands a view of the surrounding country.

Danger Signals from Washington Heights.

WASHINGTON Heights Taxpayers' Association is deeply concerned with the injury that the Eleventh Avenue Track Removal Bill (No. 871) may inflict upon the public interests of upper Manhattan. Mr. Reginald Pelham Bolton writes:

After its first appearance, and the public exposure of its character, its promoters expressed their willingness to concede the need for amendment in the directions which our association pointed out, and Senator Saxe has approved of and advocates these amendments.

A memorandum of the features injurious to public interests follows:

(1) The act concedes to the railroad company complete release from the requirements of the present Saxe law, requiring the covering over of its tracks on Manhattan Island. (2) Concedes a perpetual franchise for the present right of way and four additional tracks, from Spuyten Duyvil to 30th st. (3) Requires no payment for and no revaluation of franchise thus granted. (4) Diverts power of control of arrangement for widening and sinking tracks from the Rapid Transit Commission to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. (5) Requires city to sell park lands and lands under water only to the railroad company for the purpose of tracks, private docks, terminals, storage and power houses. (6) Provides no protection for Riverside Drive and parks north of 122d st. (7) Provides that the proceeds of the sale of lands on Washington Heights shall be applied to covering over railroad tracks below 122d st. (8) Requires city to modify dock and exterior street plan, to which access will be cut off by the railroad. (9) Provides elevated structure from 122d st to 146th st. parallel to and injuring Riverside Drive extension. (10) Involves unnecessary expense in regrading streets to cross over railroad tracks at several points. (11) Provides no means of securing passenger traffic or rapid transit on this important line of access to the ferry system at 23d st, and for the development of the west side of Manhattan Island, Riverdale and Yonkers.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Surplus Real Estate.

NOT needing all the land that has been purchased for the terminal improvement, the Pennsylvania Railroad is understood to have a number of parcels for sale. These the company hopes to release in due time at a profit resulting from a heightened value which the terminal has or will confer upon real estate in that region. The Tribune of last Sunday contained an extensive consideration of the status of the improvement and of the effect it will have upon values (1) in the immediate neighborhood and (2) in the outer zone of influence.

That the railroad company may offer land for sale after the terminal is finished was the statement of Samuel Rea, third vice-president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, made in a communication to the Tribune on the subject of the terminal developments:

"We do not intend," said Mr. Rea, "any further development than that indicated for purely railroad purposes, and therefore, may have considerable land for sale after completion.

"Our investment in real estate in this locality has been about $17,000,000, and it is our intention to erect a station which in its architecture and accommodations will compare favorably with any other station in the world. The operation of the railroad and terminal will be by electric power, thus removing all objectionable features of a great railroad station and adding materially to the advantages of adjacent property.

"From the character of our developments and the fact of such large numbers of persons arriving at and departing from this station the values of the surrounding properties should be so increased that it certainly should become a first-class retail commercial district, and probably a hotel centre as well, but this is a matter which the real estate people can prognosticate more accurately than anybody else."

Commenting on this the Tribune observes that the statement of Third Vice-President Rea that the company has invested about $17,000,000 in real estate in connection with the erection of the terminal is regarded by real estate men as a conservative one. Though the company was represented in the field by some of the most adroit purchasing agents, those with land to sell were not long in awaking to the situation and prices climbed at once.

A young man wants position in a real estate office. See Wants and Offers.

Goldberg & Greenberg, real estate operators, of 140 Nassau st, have opened a branch office at 145 Brook av, corner 134th st.

Wm. S. Anderson Co. was associated with Slawson & Hobbs in sale of 165 West 85th st for Henry A. James, as trustee.

A well-known firm desires management of important office building, downtown or 5th av preferred. See Wants and Offers.

If you desire to rent, buy or sell property in Monmouth Co., N. J., or have it appraised or taken care of, see advertisement in Wants and Offers.

J. Clarence Davies attributes the absence of building operations along White Plains av to the excessive prices asked for lots on that thoroughfare.

A new company formed to deal in Staten Island property and known as the St. George Realty & Construction Co., has been incorporated with a capital of $35,000. The incorporators are Cuozzo & Gagliano, of 63 Park row.

In the language of a Manhattan operator, " Keep your eyes of New Jersey realty in the direction of the Oranges; great changes are happening." This applies as well to almost every section within the radiating influence of the tunnels.

There are fewer "to let" signs on loft buildings in 34th st, between Broadway and 5th av, than were noticed six months ago, indicating an improvement in conditions for which owners of property on that thoroughfare must be devoutly thankful.

Harry Goodstein, 200 Broadway, will distribute to brokers next week a new list of property in his hands for sale. Parcels include a block front on Columbus av and the Beaconsfield in West 115th st. The list is in booklet form, and anyone may get a copy.

Geo. F. Brown, of Duff & Brown, 1715 Amsterdam av, Manhattan, has found renting in the Amsterdam av section of Washington Heights, between 135th and 160th sts very brisk this spring, but agrees that there has been an overproduction of 5 and 6 room flats.

transaction of a general real estate brokerage business at 160 5th av, under the firm name of Moses & Franc. They will handle all branches of the realty business, making a specialty of business property.

On a ridge rising from Webster avenue, about one hundred yards west of the Wakefield station, the Wakefield Park Realty Company is developing a residential park. There is already a thriving community at the park, and many sales are being made to intending home builders.

Mr. A. Stern, of Jackson & Stern, operators, 31 Nassau st, Manhattan, while characterizing the award for widening Riverside Drive, between 158th and 165th sts, as excessive in the extreme, in that it exceeds the market value for lots along that boulevard, says the owners affected consider unfair the plan to raise the grade of the Drive to the advanage of the remaining property.

Real estate and building activities are attracting the best young men in New York to-day. Many of our most influential citizens have grown up in one or other of the allied trades. Hon. Charles Murphy, the leader of Tammany Hall, himself the head of a large contracting concern, has put a young brother into the office of Joseph P. Day to learn the real estate branch. Gage E. Tarbell's change from the Equitable to a real estate business is one of many other instances of the best business talent engaging in the high calling of developing the city along real estate lines.

If the Equitable should really sell its Broadway property and relocate in Church st, the prophets who have long favored the lower West Side, such as Messrs. E. Tanenbaum and W. H. Chesebrough, would have fully won their case. Such an intention is officially denied, but nevertheless it came from a source close to the throne. Several years ago the Equitable started a move like this on the real-estate chess board, and then retreated. The society gets only 2 per cent. out of its present building.

The Subway being finished to 230th st, Kingsbridge, and a new trolley line opened from there to Yonkers, all the factors are now at work for the upbuilding of Kingsbridge, Van Courtland Park and the lower Yonkers section. Why should there not be a development here and hereabouts similar to "Prospect Park South" in Brooklyn? Last Sunday afternoon the great athletic field in the park held several thousand young men—as many or more as meet in Prospect Park. Near by is "Van Courtland Terrace," already well started by developing builders. All this region around the park is certain to be built up handsomely in time, as the combination of subway and trolley will compel it.

The Architectural Record, June Issue.

If variety is the spice of magazine life, the current issue of the Architectural Record should win many new readers for that magazine by its wide distribution of subject and territory. In its contents there is to be found matter that cannot fail to interest many people of different minds. The student will read with attention Professor Giovannoni's discovery of optical curves in the Temple at Cori; the architect and builder will find pleasure knowing what is being done in city and suburban houses, and the person who takes only a layman's interest in architecture, art and house-building will find some interesting views expressed in the articles on Indigenous Art and Architecture.

The table of contents follows:

"The Discovery by Professor Gustavo Giovannoni of Curves in Plan, Concave to the Exterior, in the Facade of the Temple at Cori" (illustrated article), Prof. Wm. H. Goodyear; "The New Lady Chapel at St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York" (illustrated article), A. H. Gumaer; "A Plea for an Indigenous Art" (illustrated article), Geo. W. Maher; "What is Indigenous Architecture?" (illustrated article), H. D. C.; "American Schools of Architecture"—II., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Department of Architecture Course of Instruction (illustrated article), Prof. F. W. Chandler; "Modern Foundations" (illustrated article); "Residence, 844 Fifth Avenue, New York" (illustrated article); Notes and Comments (illustrated): Some Timber Houses in Norway; A New Schoolhouse Plan; City Plan Exhibition; Replanned Copley Square; An Important Bill; American Architectural Tendencies; Where Paris Lags; New York Improvement Commission; A Stockbridge Memorial.

Mrs. Sage's Example.

Every time Mrs. Sage makes a loan on real estate the statement is made that it is "the last." We hope that Mrs. Sage's investments in the tax exempt mortgages of New York City will be like last "farewells" of grand opera singers—with more to follow. Mrs. Sage has put out altogether about $19,000,000. This week, according to The Tribune, she made these new investments:

One loan of $675,000 was obtained by Walter J. Solomon on the premises Nos. 1539 to 1549 Broadway, and Nos 202 and 204 West 46th st., with a frontage of 127.3 ft. in Broadway and a depth of about 130 ft. Mr. Solomon recently bought the property. The Lands Purchase Co., owner of the Trust Co. of America building, Nos. 39 to 41 Wall st., borrowed $500,000 on that property from Mrs. Sage. Both loans are at 4½% for three years. This makes two mortgages on that property held by Mrs. Sage. The other mortgage is for $1,500,000, and was recently recorded.

The loans were made through Douglas Robinson, Charles S. Brown & Co. Building and real estate interests have a high appreciation for the example which Mrs. Sage sets in this matter to the capitalists of the whole country.

The officers of the United States Radiator Company, Flatiron Building, New York, and Dunkirk, N. Y., are putting out a little booklet showing their line of Clinton and Chautauqua radiators, and they will be glad to furnish copies to all who may desire them.

REAL ESTATE RECORDS

Key to abbreviations:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

4th.—The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

5th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date, is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

6th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

7th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

8th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction. Valuations are from the assessment roll of 1906.

THE BEST PEOPLE USE IT:

C. Oliver Iselin; W. Butler Duncan, Jr.; Capt. Charles Barr; Capt. Rhodes; Capt. "Lem" Miller; Capt. Robert Wringe; Capt. Archie Hogarth; William Fife, Jr., etc.

NONALYKE preserves the famous Yachts,—Reliance, Defender, Constitution, Shamrock, etc., and adorns and preserves the walls of many famous buildings, including THE METROPOLITAN LIFE BUILDING.

C. OLIVER ISELIN says: "The Paint supplied by you is the best I have ever had."

THE IDEAL ENAMEL PAINT!

"NONALYKE" can be applied to bare wood or plaster without using White Lead, Zinc, or other primers. It makes an enamel surface which never cracks, and is impervious to germs of disease.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

May 17, 18, 20, 21, 22 and 23.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

The New Laws for Public Service Corporations.

AFTER a long and stiff fight Governor Hughes has succeeded in extorting from the Legislature his so-called Public Utilities bill. The Republican machine at Albany would have rejected the bill if it had dared, but the leaders of that machine were afraid to face the schism in the party and the public reprobation which would have been incurred by a refusal to pass the bill. The consequence is that the Governor will be armed with all the power to regulate the public service corporations for which he has asked. The two commissions appointed by him can virtually force the corporations operating public utilities in this State to do whatever seems to be necessary in the public interest, and the commissions themselves will be responsible exclusively to the Governor. He can appoint them, he can remove them, he can hold the commissioners responsible, and the people of the State can hold the Governor responsible. If the legislation fails of its purpose, it will not be due, as is so often the case, to any division of responsibility. The Governor has asked for as much power as the law will allow, and it has been bestowed upon him. The logic of the whole situation demands that he should be elected Governor for another term, so that he will have sufficient time to safeguard the efficient operation of the engine which he has constructed.

Of all the State legislation against the corporations, of which we have recently seen so much, this bill of Governor Hughes' has been most carefully drawn. When the Governor declared in his speeches in support of his bill, that he was not animated by any unreasonable hostility towards the corporations, he was undoubtedly sincere. His object has not been merely to embarrass the operations of the New York public utility corporations, or to prevent them from earning a fair rate of interest on the capital invested. His object is undoubtedly to remove those grave abuses which hitherto have accompanied the methods employed by these corporations, both in their financial operations and in their service to the public. In order to accomplish this object he has been obliged, as he believed, to bestow upon the commissions complete and authoritative jurisdiction over practically all the acts of the public service corporations. The commission will have the power, if it wills, to order the New York City Railway Company to paint its cars blue. But on the other hand, it should be added, that the Governor has done his best to provide against the abuse or the arbitrary use of the great powers bestowed upon the two commissions. The commissioners will be paid high salaries, and the Governor evidently expects to secure the services of two groups of fair-minded and competent men. He evidently anticipates that in the long run he will be able to reassure the owners and managers of the corporations, and to obliterate past abuses without preventing the necessary improvement in the service rendered by these corporations that can be accomplished only by the liberal investment of new capital.

It remains to be seen whether the instrument which he has devised for this purpose will or will not accomplish its object. The abuses which this instrument is intended to eradicate have been undoubtedly serious. The public service corporations that have been operating franchises in and near New York have unquestionably pursued a policy of public exploitation. The various street railways, electric light and gas companies have consolidated at a huge expense. Their capitalization has been increased enormously during the process of consolidation, and their fixed charges have in this way been rendered very high. The necessity of meeting interest charges and passing dividends upon this swollen capitalization has, in some instances, forced the corporations to put excessive prices on their services, and has, in other instances, affected seriously for the worse the quality of these services. The public was either being badly served or else was being compelled to pay very dear, and some larger and more effective measure of regulation was demanded in the public interest. The new commissions will be expected either to effect improvement in the services rendered, or to reduce the cost of those services to the public, while at the same time it will be expected also to prevent the corporations from making extortionate profits at public expense. In fulfilling these public expectations the commissions will undoubtedly be confronted with stubborn opposition on the part of the corporation managers. They will use every means to evade the orders of the commissions, and they will appeal constantly to the courts. It will probably be some years before the commissions will find out just what they can or cannot accomplish by means of the powers which the Legislature is conferring upon them. That is the reason why Governor Hughes will need another term in order to arrange for the efficient operation of the machine which he has wrought.

What the outcome will be no one can at the present time with any confidence predict. The legislation will neither be as effective for its purpose as its friends imagine nor as disastrous for the corporations as its opponents declare. But of one result there can be little doubt. During the next few years, while the machinery of the law is getting fairly into operation, the people of this city need not expect any very positive results from it. During that period the service rendered by the local public utility corporations is more likely to deteriorate than to improve. There will be years of opposition from the corporations, of litigation and of disinclination on the part of capitalists to invest money in a business subject to such drastic public control. The corporations will seek to render the commission unpopular by making its interference as ineffective as possible, and they will probably succeed in creating a condition calculated to prevent any improvement in service that can be effected only by the investment of new capital. Such a condition cannot last for very many years, and it is possible that at the end of the period of litigation the corporations will find that they will gain more by coöperating with the public utility commissions than by maintaining a costly and unprofitable conflict. It will all depend in the end on the wisdom of the commissions' orders, and it is very much to be hoped that such wisdom will not be lacking. If the commissions to be appointed by Governor Hughes fail in their object, the whole ideal of official regulation will be proved to be abortive, and in that case the State will have to fall back either upon less stringent regulation or upon public ownership.

FEAR of large gold exports, what the President might say in his Memorial Day speech and more recruits to the bear party combined this week to make a Wall Street market that was viewed with anxiety by some operators and indifference by others. This indifference is apparently born of the belief that whatever disquieting factors there may be in the general situation there is no reason for immediate alarm. Wall Street, that is said to discount everything, has done so with the crop scares and in view of increased railroad earnings and active business, pessimism scarcely seems logical. It is true that hostility towards corporations has had a deterrent effect upon many new enterprises on the part of capital, and it must be conceded that some of these attacks have been merited. Real estate and building interests are probably suffering as much as any other business activities from this cause or, as a well-known Wall Street man puts it, "the opposition towards the corporations has worn the appearance of public hysteria." But when stocks declined, as they did in the earlier part of the week, it is difficult to write reassuringly or encouragingly, the quotations on the tape of the stock ticker telling the story to the average man, who is buoyant or depressed, according to the side of the market he happens to be playing, which is usually for the advance. Although United States Steel common was suffered to go below 32 by controlling capitalists the irresistible conclusion is that it was done for purposes of their own. Certainly the news we are getting from all sections about the great staples iron and steel is unprecedented. The prices for the delivery of iron in Birmingham, Alabama, will increase regularly throughout the months of 1908, all furnaces having sold their entire output for the remainder of the year 1907. All the iron the South can turn out is sold while it is still in the molten state. This does not look very much like industrial depression. Enormous quantities of steel rails have been contracted for, ten companies alone having ordered more than half a million tons of rails for delivery before the end of next year, and inquiries are now received by the iron mills for steel rails to be delivered in 1909. Assuredly at no time in the history of this country has there been ampler warrant for business confidence. "New York," a well-known writer says, "is, like the rest of the country, piling up prosperity," which is undoubtedly the case and should be good news to owners of real estate. A mere halt in the progress does not mean disaster, as so many people are too ready to believe. No one really knows whether stocks are in strong or weak hands, but it would seem as if the "powers that be" are revelling in manipulation of securities in a way that the ordinary speculator cannot follow. Money rates continue easy, though "financial indigestion" is talked about if there are many more insistent demands for new capital and announcements of additional issues of securities.

Methods of Appraising.

THERE is no department of the real estate business so interesting and at the same time so responsible as the appraisal department. When one is acting as a broker he is merely the medium between a buyer and a seller, the buyer using his own judgment as to whether he should buy, and at what price, and the seller using his own judgment as to whether he should sell, and at what price. Very rarely do either of them take the advice of the broker; they may seem to, but the fact is that in most cases they do not. Mr. David Porter, of Brooklyn, holds that the broker who offers such advice is unwise:

"If he is forced to give advice at all, it should not be the kind that will tend to force the transaction through without regard to the consequences, but the kind that will inspire confidence in both buyer and seller; otherwise, the broker will very likely get blamed by one side or the other. But someone will say, 'What if I do get blamed, when I have succeeded in earning my commission?' Everything, my friend; everything, if you wish to be successful in the real estate business; everything. If you wish to make a name for yourself, everything. If you wish to get a clientele around you that will have faith in your judgment and integrity, everything, my friend, and above all if you wish to become a real estate appraiser.'

In a lecture which Mr. Porter delivered before the Bedford Branch of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A., he made this distinction between the duties of a broker and those of an appraiser:

In the case of a broker little or no responsibility is taken by him in the transaction, but in the case of an appraiser the situation is entirely different; when he is acting for the buyer, it will depend upon him to a very large extent, whether the investment shall be a good or a bad one; when acting for the seller it will depend upon him to a large extent, as to whether it is wise to dispose of the property at a given time, and at what price. When acting for the heirs of an estate the division of the different parcels of property will depend upon his judgment, and if acting as an appraiser for loans it will depend upon his judgment as to whether the mortgagee shall one day be the owner of a piece of property he does not want, and at a price which is destined to prove a loss, or whether he shall have a safe mortgage where the mortgagor can be forced to pay the interest and taxes promptly when due for fear of a foreclosure. By far the most difficult part of all, if acting for a property owner in condemnation proceedings, it will depend to a very large extent upon him, as to whether his clients shall get proper compensation for their property, and if acting for the city it will greatly depend upon him as to whether the property owners shall get fair and proper compensation and nothing more. I have acted in this capacity on both sides, and let me say right here that I have no sympathy with those who say that experts can be hired to value property high or low according to the interests of their clients. It may be true that there are some cases of this kind, but I should be sorry to think that they are in the majority, or anything like it. I should very much prefer to think that they are in a very small minority, and if you will permit me to offer advice in this matter it would be this: that if you wish to become an expert of any value you will not permit yourself to be dictated to by one side or the other as to what value you should place on a piece of property, but make up your own mind on a fair and square basis, not too much if you represent the property owner, and no matter how he urges you (and you will very likely find some who will), not too little if you represent the city. Speaking from my own experience, I have never known a case where the city representative urged the bearing down of values. It is a mistake to think that because an expert represents the city he is there for the purpose of helping to rob somebody of his property. Nothing of the kind; and the city expert who has the idea that to act in this way will make him popular will not be long in finding out that he is very much mistaken. In short, if you are for the property owner and he wants you to swear to a price that you know is false, give him up, and let him get a swearing machine, who will swear to anything, and he will respect you for it; he knows very well that what he asks you to do is wrong, and is a thing that he very likely would not do himself; you may loose by it temporarily, but one day that same property owner may need a real estate man in whom he can place confidence. Will he go to the "Swearing Machine?" Indeed he won't. He will very likely call to see you. If you are for the city, be just and square with the property owner. If his claim is in your judgment fair, be man enough to admit it, and don't try to beat him down or swear his interests away even at the expense of coming under the lash of the yellow journal, or the "Man with the muck rake," who sees nothing but graft all the time, and wonders how much there is in it for you. But if his claim is exorbitant, don't be induced by any claim or threat that he may make, to become a party to his receiving one cent more than his modest brother, or one cent more than he is justly entitled to. In other words, let your conduct be above suspicion in any and all cases, and you need have no fear of the result.

Entering more particularly into his theme, Mr. Porter made three divisions for separate consideration: First, appraising for loans; second, appraising for buying, selling and leasing estates; third, appraising in condemnation proceedings. Appraising for loans has to do with the future as well as the present, for a parcel which sold for a certain price ten years ago may not be worth that price at the present time, and a few years hence it may have a value still less. An appraiser therefore understands, Mr. Porter said, how necessary it is, not only to examine and determine the present market value when appraising for loans, but the future must be considered also; because most mortgages run three years, and some longer, and the object of an appraisal if anything is to determine whether a loan should be made on a given piece of property at all, and if so, at what percentage of the present market value. It need not be said that it is safer to loan seventy-five per cent. of the present market value of some parcels than forty per cent. of others; or that it is the tendency of some property to increase in value, and no doubt there are sections—outside of Greater New York—in which the tendency of some kinds of property is to depreciate.

The question arises, what is the best method of appraising property, and we note that in referring to condemnation proceedings Mr. Porter laid down these principles:

There is such a variety in the propositions that you will meet in condemnation proceedings that a rule or method that will apply to one will not apply to the other, and the only rules that will hold good in all cases that I know of are common sense and good judgment. There are, however, certain general principles that will pretty much apply in every case, but they must only be considered general.

If you meet a building that is suitable for the land, and it is in good order, that property should be worth the market value of the land, plus the constructive value of the building, plus a fair builder's profit; if not in good order a fair percentage should be deducted for depreciation.

If you meet a building that is not suitable for the land the case is entirely different. That property should be worth the market value of the land plus an amount that the buildings add to it as "taxpayers" or material of value that can be used in the construction of suitable buildings on the same site or elsewhere.

The market value of the land should be an amount based upon the knowledge of an aggregation of sales of similar land in the same neighborhood, always keeping firmly in mind what I have said about market value; and then there is a very good rule which is used for valuing the different zones of a lot called the Hofman rule, with which doubtless most of you are familiar.

You will be asked to appraise and testify as to the damage sustained by a property owner by reason of a given street to be opened. Sometimes the piece of land will be square, and the opening of the street through it will leave the balance in such a shape that it can be readily cut up into building lots of the usual depth of 100 feet, which eliminates all claim for consequential damage and simplifies the proceedings. But in many cases the land remaining will be gored, and left in all kinds of shapes, which will make it necessary for a property owner to acquire from his neighbor additional land in order to make it feasable for him to use what he has got, and in some few cases there may be gores left that cannot be used for practical purposes at all. Some may be too small and others may be of such a shape that to build upon them would not make a good improvement.

These things have got to be dealt with as you find them, and common sense and good judgment will tell here to a vast degree. The award that a property owner is entitled to is the value of the property taken from him, plus the damage to the part left; but in determining this amount be careful to follow the legal and, let me say, the common sense rule of valuing the entire holdings of the property owner in that particular place as you find them, as a piece of land without a street, following the rule of market value. When you have done this, make a second calculation of the value of the remainder of the land after the part is taken, keeping in mind the shape, size and everything connected with it, and the difference between the two valuations is the damage. In making the second calculation, you are prohibited from considering that the part taken is for a street, except in so far as it will be a detriment to the portion left—it is never considered that the opening of a street is a detriment to any property except where it cuts through it and creates gores.

The whole matter is a big subject, with so many phases that it is difficult to treat upon it except in a general way. An appraiser must be a posted man—posted on sales, on building costs, on improvements made and projected, and on the supply and demand for the various kinds of buildings. He must either be a "traveling encyclopedia" or he must have the knowledge in his office so arranged and systematized that he can find it quickly. He must be like a good lawyer, who does not carry all the laws in his head, but knows where they are. This is a somewhat tedious and expensive method for an appraiser, but it pays, and as Mr. Porter told his hearers, it is impossible in Brooklyn to get through any large amount of this line of business without it.

An Astor House.

(See Illustration.)

The house at 844 Fifth av, Manhattan, was built to the order of the Astor estate, which appropriated for the purpose as much money as was necessary to build a house that would conform in matters of taste and convenience to the best standards prevailing in New York. As the building was not being erected for the occupancy of its owner, but merely to be rented, money could not be spent so freely as it would be were the house intended to satisfy the special needs of a rich man. But the interior is particularly handsome, and the Architectural Record for June, which makes the house the subject of an extended description (with illustrations) says it is adapted in every respect to be the residence of a family of refinement and wealth.

It is both a more completely finished and better-looking dwelling than many private houses on 5th av. which have cost twice as much, while at the same time the money spent upon it was not so great that the rent will not yield a fair return on the investment. It is as far as possible from looking either cheap or ready-made, and it may be doubted whether there is another dwelling in the city, built particularly for the purpose of being rented, which possesses as much distinction combined with so little ostentation. A speculative builder, when he is confronted by a problem of this kind, usually spends a lot of money in loading the entrance hall with marble and in gilding the most important semi-public rooms in the house, while at the same time putting stock finish in the bedrooms and using wherever possible beneath the veneer cheap and unpermanent materials. Such methods produce poor results both in appearance and as a matter of economy; and it is refreshing to find a house which has been erected subject to stringent business conditions and which remains an appropriate residence for a gentleman and his family.

One of the conditions imposed upon the architect, Mr. Charles A. Platt, was the preservation of the floor levels which had obtained in the old brown-stone dwelling, and this condition determined in large measure the limitations and the character of the design of the street front.

Bronx Values Not Too High.

Much has been said about the overvaluation of Bronx property, particularly in the vicinity of the "junction," but recent sales do not bear out the theories advanced. A few years ago lots on 3d av, between 150th and 153d sts, were considered high at $15,000 each, but a short time ago a plot 50 × 75 within these limits brought $100,000, for which the owner refused a ground rent of $7,500 per annum net, or 7½% on his investment. Increasing rentals are, of course, responsible for the rapid appreciation in land values in that locality, which is due primarily to the improved transit facilities affecting the district.

J. Clarence Davies, who owns the northwest corner of 3d av and 149th st, 2,000 sq. ft., is in receipt of an income of between $8,000 and $9,000 per annum on a 5 years' lease from the two stores in that building, and the stores at the southeast corner of 3d av and 149th st, occupied by the United Cigars Stores Co., brings in a rental of $15,000 a year. It is known that many leases in that vicinity which as yet have some time to run, could, if terminated now, be renewed at almost double the old rate. These facts speak for themselves, and brokers in the Bronx say they should be sufficient to dispel doubt with respect to the justification of present values in that busy section of the Bronx.

Architect for Fifth Avenue Studio Building.

5TH AV.—Architect C. P. H. Gilbert, 1123 Broadway, has been commissioned to prepare plans for the 12-sty studio building, to be erected on a plot about 60x125 ft., at the southeast corner of 5th av and 53d st, directly opposite the homes of W. K. Vanderbilt, Sr., W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and the Sloanes. About three years ago, it will be recalled, a syndicate planned to build a large apartment hotel at the southeast corner of 5th av and 52d st, but the projectors of that building sold the site soon after their scheme became public. Mr. Gilbert also made the plans for this project. On the ground floor of the studio are to be banking offices. No plans have yet been drawn for the improvement of 5th av, northeast corner, and 52d st, on which the daily papers recently announced that E. H. Harriman would erect a $2,000,000 residence. No immediate improvement of this corner has yet been determined. (See also issue April 13, 1907.)

Particulars of Broadway and 8th Ave. Block.

BROADWAY.—Hedman & Schoen, 302 Broadway, have been commissioned to prepare plans for improving the square, bounded by Broadway, 8th av, 57th and 58th sts, for Walter J. Salomon, of 500 5th av, which is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $80,000. The brick buildings on 8th av will not be altered. The scheme is to run an arcade through from the corner of Broadway and 57th st, to 8th av, and 58th st, making stores and offices. (See also issue May 25, 1907.) No plans for a new building or theatre have been drawn. The property is a block away from Columbus Circle, south of the Journal Building, and in the automobile district. The owners seem to consider the location scarcely ripe yet for a Class A improvement.

BUILDING NOTES

There remain but thirty old buildings, mostly dwellings, on 5th av, between 14 and 23d sts.

Architect Henry Andersen, formerly of 1183 Broadway, has opened an office at No. 138 East 22d st.

The Indiana limestone facing on the 41-sty Singer Building, now in course of construction, is completed up to and including the 3d sty. The steel work is up to the twelfth story.

A large number of unoccupied stores and lofts are for rent on the south side of 22d st, between 5th and 6th avs. Brokers are of the opinion that this condition is due to the high rentals asked.

Herman DeSelding, of DeSelding Bros., 149 Broadway, Manhattan, believe that no section of Manhattan Island offers better opportunities for investment than does that portion lying south of Chambers st and west of Broadway. In his judgment, realty within these limits is the cheapest purchase in the city, even at present prices.

Narrow private dwellings on the West Side are no longer a drug on the market. In fact many now regard their acquisition in the form of a good investment which may be converted into cash more readily than houses of standard dimensions. Among the recent purchases are 315 West 84th st, 17x100, and 46 West 92 st, 18x100.8. The former is 5 stories and of the American basement type, which is fast becoming popular.

The National Cement Company was incorporated at Trenton this week, to acquire and control producing cement properties, in the State of New Jersey, with a full paid capital of $2,000,000. The company has secured the Murphy cement lands near Phillipsburgh, and will begin work at once erecting a plant with a capacity of 2,000 barrels a day. In a statement issued by the new corporation it is said that negotiations are pending for the control of two producing companies in Pennsylvania and one in New Jersey.

The Rolling Steel Shutter Works, 162-164 West 27th st, announce that Mr. John McLean has purchased the interests of and succeeded as manager Mr. I. D. Thomas, who has retired. This business was started in 1872 by Clark, Bunnett & Co., which concern Mr. McLean was interested in 16 years. The works have recently been equipped with modern machinery, and now are prepared to furnish and fill all orders for Clark's original rolling noiseless shutters, Clark's self-coiling steel shutters, gear shutters of all kinds and fire and burglar-proof shutters, all of which can be operated by hydraulic or electric power.

The joint conference board of the painters of Greater New York, in conjunction with the district councils of the Brotherhood of Painters and the Board of Directors of the National Alliance of Painters, held an important meeting Tuesday night at Painters' Hall, Manhattan. The painters' unions have had much trouble over a class of men who, although members of the organization, are part and parcel of the firms which employ them. When the present strike was declared these men absolutely refused to quit work. They were dealt with Tuesday night by being heavily fined. A proposition to accept eight or nine hundred new members at a reduced rate of initiation was rejected.

The old business building at southwest corner 5th av and 14th st, covering plot 73.4x107, has almost entirely been demolished, and work will shortly be commenced on the 16-sty mercantile structure which is to be erected on the site. The three lower stories of the new building will contain stores with show windows. The upper exterior will be of light brick and terra cotta, with trimmings of copper. All of the woodwork is to be fireproofed, and metal will be used wherever practical. Included in the proposed equipment are six electric elevators, a high pressure heating plant and an electric generator of high voltage. The estimated cost of the building is $1,000,000. Messrs. Buchman & Fox, 11 East 59th st, are the architects. Contract for the general construction was awarded the Hedden Construction Company during the week.

NEW BEDFORD.—Sharp Shooters' Association is reported to be considering the erection of a $35,000 hall.

FITCHBURG.—Hastings Hall Assoc. has decided to erect a brick and stone building, to cost about $15,000.

BOSTON.—An annex is to be erected to the Y. W. C. A. Bldg. at Berkeley and Appleton sts, to cost $60,000.

SPRINGFIELD.—Turner Constr. Co., Manhattan, has secured the contract for the printing plant for Phelps Publishing Co. on W. Worthington st. It will be 8 stories high of reinforced concrete. F. S. Hinds, 19 Milk st, Boston, is the archt.

PITTSFIELD.—A site on Elm st has been decided upon for the armory and an additional $10,000 has been appropriated, making $50,000 available for the purpose.

MALDEN.—C. D. McCarthy, Mayor, states that this city has voted to appropriate $40,000 for an armory to be erected by the State, under supervision of the State Armory Comn., Boston.

SPRINGFIELD.—Springfield Electric Ry. Co. (H. C. Page, Gen. Mgr.) is planning extensive improvements at its power station at Goulds Mills.

FALL RIVER.—The new mill building for the American Thread Company, Fall River, Mass., which has just been started, will be unique in many particulars of construction. The building will measure 306x145 ft., its length running east and west, and will have six full stories. The modern system of heating and ventilating for mills will be used, but much further developed than can be seen elsewhere in the Fall River district.

HARTFORD.—Wm. B. Johnson, 26 State st, has prepared plans for a building which is to be erected by the Open Hearth Assoc. Dr. Chas. D. Alton, Chmn. Bldg. Com.

Legislative Digest.

Chapter 207, Laws of 1907, amends Chapter 9, of the General Laws by "That in any county where there is a register as well as a county clerk, a notary public shall file in the office of said register his autograph signature and a certificate of a county clerk as is provided in section 82 for the filing of such signature and certificate in certain cases with a county clerk." We therefore suggest that every notary register his autograph signature and certificate of the county clerk of the county in which he was appointed with the register of his county and avoid the friction which must ensue on and after July 1, 1907, if he does not comply with the act.

Following a favorable report submitted by Senator White, chairman of the City's Committee, the Senate on Monday night passed the Owens-Cuvillier Bill by a vote of 30 to 9. This measure provides for the granting to the New York Central and its lessor, the Spuyten Duyvil & Port Morris Railroad Co., "during their corporate existence," sub-surface rights in various streets, including parts of Spencer pl, 144th st, Mott av, Cheever pl and 138th st. Corporation Counsel Ellison has pointed out that although the company had in original application proposed to give up its rights on the street surface in exchange for the subway franchise, it afterward withdrew that offer, and decided that it desired to keep both the existing route and the new one, which it at first had asked in substitution.

Comptroller Metz to Real Estate Interests.

PROPERTY-OWNERS in the district to be assessed for the latest Riverside Drive awards won a victory over the commissioners in the condemnation proceedings, and the case is now closed. Judgment was entered last Monday night at a mass meeting in the old Colonial Clubhouse at Broadway and 72d st, when the Comptroller himself announced the decision, as reported in the general press on the following day. Comptroller Metz, Hon. John F. Ahearn, Borough President of Manhattan, and Hon. Patrick F. McGowan, President of the Board of Aldermen, acting as a special committee of the Board of Estimate, decided to recommend that the Commission in Condemnation be abolished and that the awards made by it nullified. They will report to the Board at its next meeting on June 7.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Allied Real Estate Interests of the State of New York, whose president, Mr. Allan Robinson, presided in an able manner on this occasion, supported by Directors A. L. Mordecai and Joseph L. Buttenwieser. Mr. Robinson stated the case strongly but impartially in his opening remarks.

The Secretary read the report of a committee of appraisers selected from its own membership by the Allied Real Estate Interests. On a slice of land that the Condemnation Commissioners allowed a damage award of $4,010 the appraisers put a valuation of $1,500; on another the award was $77,992, and the appraised value $37,500. This ratio of divergence continued throughout the list.

The report continued that according to the damage awards, the average value per lot was $33,000; the average value per lot according to the appraisers was $13,250. The report concluded by mentioning two recent sales of large tracts in the immediate vicinity, when the average price per lot was respectively $2,000 and $2,500. The committee's recommendation was that the city authorities be asked to discontinue further proceedings for widening the drive.

But the buyer in the case of one of the sales, being present at this meeting, arose and explained that in his opinion the price he had paid was not fair evidence of the value of the lots concerned in the condemnation proceedings. Mr. William Seeligberg, a member of the Washington Heights Property Owners' Association, said that while he did not doubt that the awards made by the commissioners were too high, yet it was the sentiment of his association that the inprovement itself should be carried out as projected.

The principal addresses of the evening were delivered by Mr. Buttenwieser and Mr. Metz. The first named declared that the award was not only high but that it was ridicuously high. He said that the commission should be withdrawn because it had been shown that it was not fit to deal with the matter in hand.

Comptroller Metz made a characteristic speech, in the course of which he said in part:

"I'm not going to say anything further about this Riverside Drive matter than that it's going to be held up. [Great applause.] We'll have new commissioners appointed, and if they repeat this high appraisal business we will have another set, and so on until the city gets a right deal. [Renewed applause.]

"I've just begun to investigate the customs of these condemnation lawyers. I don't say all lawyers are dishonest; they've got to make a living, but let them give the city a chance. I'm having a list of all pending condemnation proceedings prepared, and I say to you now that I'm going to go to the bottom of the system.

"Nowadays everybody seems to have the habit of hiring a lawyer for everything. You have a better chance in my office without a lawyer than with one. These condemnation lawyers work both sides; they take 20 per cent. or more for increased awards; 20 per cent. or more for decreased assessments, and it's the city treasury that catches it each time.

"I know of an expert who has made $50,000 in three years in these condemnation proceedings. I also know of an Assistant Corporation Counsel who has made $10,000 by 'advising'—he works it on both sides. I've got the facts in this matter, and I'm going to make them public. If the city can't buy land without these 'skimming' operations, then let the city stop buying land for parks and school sites and spend its money improving what it already has.

"In this fight I'm with you to a finish."

Three cheers were given for Mr. Metz, in view of whose remarks further action was unnecessary, and presently the meeting was adjourned, highly pleased that the protest of the taxpayers through their representatives, the Washington Heights Association and the Allied Real Estate Interests, had been so successful.

On the Death of Mr. Ruland.

The Real Estate Board of Brokers of the City of New York passed resolutions on Monday, May 27, upon the death of Manley A. Ruland, saying:

That the Real Estate Board of Brokers recognize in the business life of Manley A. Ruland a leader in thought and action, a man of principle and integrity, justly esteemed for his high character and devotion to duty. And be it further

Resolved, that we tender to Irving Ruland, the present board member of the firm of Ruland & Whiting Co., our acknowledgment that in the death of his father the fraternity of real estate brokers have suffered a loss that cannot be replaced and that we grieve with him over a lifelong separation from one with whom it was an honor to have been associated.

Product and Appliance.

The limestone used in the McAdoo tunnel terminal will come from the Bedford Quarries Company's Hoosier quarry at Bedford, Ind., and Wm. Bradley & Son, cut stone contractors of Brooklyn, will shape this stone for the two giant buildings.

An exceptional book is entitled "Good Plumbing: Hints for the House Builder and House Buyer," which is being distributed by the National Lead Company, 100 William st. While its main purpose is to make a strong argument for lead pipe as against galvanized iron and steel pipe, it contains much impartial plumbing information.

The New York office of the American Luxfer Prism Co., W. E. Cash, mgr., has just closed a contract for sidewalk lights in reinforced concrete settings and front prisms for the new building of the Yonkers (N. Y.) Daily Herald. The architect is George Starin Coles, and the building is said to be a model newspaper plant.

The Hudson River Blue Stone Company, at 280 Broadway, has the contract for furnishing a large amount of stone for floors and steps in the new normal school building at Boston. Some very large curbing contracts for New York City are being supplied by the Hudson River company, and business prospects for the year are exceedingly favorable. This stone, which is quarried in the Catskill mountains, is noted for its hardness, which makes it an excellent material where durability is the thing especially desired, and therefore the majority of the product of the Hudson River company finds its way into sills, treads, floors, steps, sidewalks and curbing, as well as fancy work and trimmings for buildings. The fact that this bluestone never wears slick makes it especially desirable for floors and steps.

New Plans for Rapid Transit in the Bronx.

Borough President Haffen has recently had a conference with President Theo. P. Shonts, of the Interborough-Metropolitan Company, at which he made a proposition for extensions of existing rapid transit lines through the Bronx.

What the Bronx wishes as set forth by the Borough President is the building of three extensions of the existing subway and elevated roads. These extensions are to be similar in construction to the present viaduct extension of the subway from Third av at 149th st up Westchester av, the Southern Boulevard and Boston road, to West Farms. Roads like this can be built for $750,000 a mile, and, as there would be fifteen miles of such roads needed, the total cost of the three extensions would be $11,250,000.

President Shonts expressed surprise at the clearness, simplicity and moderation of this request. He said that if such a plan were submitted to his company it would be considered favorably.

He confessed that previously he had not known just what the people of the Bronx desired.

President Haffen pointed out and illustrated what he had to say by maps, that from a point near Jerome av and 162d st, a line might be built under the hills and thence across the bridge over the Harlem River to the elevated road on Eighth av. This would give the Jerome av extension direct connection with the west side.

The West Farms and White Plains av line would run to the city boundary of Mt. Vernon, while the Westchester and Pelham Bay Park line would open up a new territory now growing rapidly, and afford direct communication with one of the finest parks in this country.

The Mono-Rail Project.

The Mono-rail line from Atlantic av ferry to Coney Island seems to be assured. Not to get a subway is a great disappointment, but there may be more real satisfaction to be obtained from the mono-rail. Everything speaks in its favor. It gives real rapid transit and is inexpensive to build. The only objection is the noise, and even this is no worse than the elevated. The inventor, F. B. Behr, has agreed to the conditions laid down by the Rapid Transit Commission and the commission will proceed to lay out a route and advertise for bids for its construction.

Mr. Behr promised to deposit $25,000 with that body within 48 hours after it shall have finally adopted and laid down the route. He also submitted his final draft of the route.

There was a rumor to the effect that the route would be changed so as to run down Flatbush av, instead of Rogers av. Mr. Behr, however, said this was not true.

The plans call for a speed of 60 miles an hour. Passengers will be carried from the East River to Coney Island in ten minutes. The road will be elevated on a single pillar.

The route as amended by Mr. Behr begins at the foot of Atlantic av, Brooklyn, runs along that avenue to just past 4th av, turns to southeast through private property between 4th and 5th avs, crossing Pacific st into Dean st; along Dean st to Washington av, to Prospect place, turning east along Prospect place to Rogers av; south along Rogers av to Flatbush av, along Flatbush av to Nostrand av, down Nostrand to Ave. R, curving to west through private property, crossing East 29th st between Avs. R and S; East 28th st on Ave. S; East 27th, East 26th, East 25th, East 24th, East 23d and East 22d sts, between Avs. S and T, crossing Ave. T between East 22d and East 21st sts; curving to south through private property, crossing Sheepshead Bay road between Voorhees and Emmons avs; along Emmons av and Neptune av to Cortlandt st; private property to West 6th st, to Neptune av again, to West 12th st; south curve through private property into West 12th st to terminus near Surf av.

John S. Mapes, auctioneer, will sell at auction Saturday, June 1, at 2 p. m., on the grounds, 114 lots and a fine modern residence, on the Wallace property, situated on the Fort Schuyler road and La Salle av, Westchester, New York City. The lots are finely situated and are ready for immediate improvement. Titles are guaranteed free of cost. Seventy per cent. may remain on mortgage. For maps and particulars apply to H. C. Mapes & Co., auctioneers, 55 Liberty st, New York. This section of the city has been prominent in the real estate market for a couple of years, and is being rapidly developed. In a few years it will be one of the choicest settled parts of the city.

Joseph P. Day, auctioneer, will sell by auction Tuesday, June 4, at 11 a. m. sharp, 216 lots just north of Washington Bridge, on Aqueduct av, Featherbed lane, Nelson av, East 175th st, Macomb's road. Every lot is ready for immediate improvement, situated on high ground lying at or about the grade of the streets and avenues they front upon and is curbed, sewered, regulated and graded. This section has rapid transit now in operation, within 30 minutes from City Hall, and is within three minutes of the 181st st express station of the Broadway Subway by trolley, which runs past the whole property over Washington Bridge, with subway transfer tickets delivered upon payment of three cents additional fare. The New York Central suburban trains and the trolley lines on Jerome, Boscobel and Sedgwick avs connect with all elevated roads. Title policies of the Title Insurance Company of New York will be given without extra charge. See advertisement in another part of this paper.

The private sales market still continues to reflect less than the normal amount of spring trading. While the transactions which make up the Manhattan budget for the week are less numerous than was expected, even for a holiday week, a wide variety of property changed hands. There is no denying that most of the current trading in Greater New York is for suburban property, where property containing all city improvements may be purchased on unusually favorable terms. Among the sales on Manhattan Island was that of a block front on the east side of Hamilton pl between 139th and 140th sts, which will be improved with elevator apartments. In the Bronx, in addition to the usual lot sales, the purchase of a block front in Tiffany st by a church society, upon which will be erected a large edifice, is perhaps the most important sale reported from that quarter. The total number of sales reported is 106, of which 28 were below 59th st, 37 north and 41 in the Bronx.

The acquisition is interesting, as it involves the construction of a building which will be the only one of its class in New York. The structure planned will be eight stories in height, with an imposing Greek front, two floors of which will be below the level of the street. The basement will contain two Turkish bath establishments for men and women, and an equal number of swimming pools connected with both by electrically operated flood gates. The street floor of the "Stadium" will contain on the men's side a library, grill room, cafe, and barber shop. On the opposite side, entirely separate, a ladies' tea room, hair-dressing room and manicure parlors will be provided. The second floor is to contain a billiard room and bowling alleys, and the third floor will be given up to the general dining-room, which will be the full width of the building. The floor above this will be devoted to games, and the next two floors will contain gymnasiums for men and women. Private elevators will connect this floor with the baths in the basement. Other attractions will be running tracks, boxing, fencing and dressing rooms. The top floor will be occupied as an auditorium, and will seat about 1,400 people. The estimated cost of the project approaches $1,500,000. The broker who negotiated the sale is McVickar-Gaillard Realty Co.

CENTURY REALTY COMPANY

ABSOLUTE SALE AT AUCTION

TUESDAY, JUNE 4, 1907

11 A. M. Sharp, at the EXCHANGE SALESROOM, 14-16 Vesey Street, New York City

216 of the Best Lots in the Bronx, on or near Aqueduct Avenue

Immediately North of Washington Bridge

These Lots Have Rapid Transit NOW and are Ready for Immediate Improvement.

They are 3 minutes from the 181st St. Subway Station and 30 minutes by Subway to the City Hall

THESE LOTS ARE DIFFERENT:

DIFFERENT IN LOCATION

DIFFERENT IN DEVELOPMENT

DIFFERENT IN TRANSIT FACILITIES

And BETTER IN EVERY RESPECT than any others offered at auction this year.

AQUEDUCT AVENUE

is the most attractive residential thoroughfare in the Bronx. It is a parkway 156 feet wide.

FEATHERBED LANE, 80 feet wide, and MACOMBS ROAD, 100 feet wide, are destined in the near future to be two of the most important CROSSTOWN ARTERIES connecting from east to west, the built up portion of the lower Bronx

These lots are NOT remote suburban lots; they are centrally located, immediately north of the 181st Street Bridge (usually known as Washington Bridge).

While geographically they are in the Bronx, practically they have all advantages of Manhattan Island lots, and, in addition, superb position and outlook.

This is a very exceptional opportunity to make a safe and profitable investment. An equal opportunity will probably not occur again for years.

75% 75 per cent of the purchase money may remain on bond and mortgage for one, two or three years, at 5 per cent.

Title policies of the Title Insurance Company of New York, free of charge.

HOW TO REACH THE PROPERTY—Take Broadway Express Subway train to 181st Street Station, then walk or take trolley across Washington Bridge to property.

The sellers of this property desire the public to understand that it is a FACT that this is an absolute sale without reserve, and that the Century Realty Company will not bid, either directly or indirectly, for any of the lots to be sold; that every lot will be sold, and that at the conclusion of the sale the Century Realty Company will not, except in respect to the purchase money mortgages, have any interest, direct, indirect or contingent, in any of the lots.

road; also similar plot adjoining to A. M. Folsona and the abutting plot 50x100 on the south side of 229th st, 130 ft. east of White Plains road.

235TH ST.—Casey & Irwin and Ernst-Cahn Realty Co. sold to Colbert & Henocksberg the plot, 50x114, on the north side of 235th st, 200 ft. west of Keppler av.

To Build on Anthony Avenue.

ANTHONY AV.—William Stonebridge sold four lots on east side Anthony av, 78 ft. south 173d st, for immediate improvement with 5-sty apartment houses.

COLLEGE AV.—S. Ullman sold for Appelbaum & Reiss 3-sty brk 3-family house, 1039 College av.

COLLEGE AV.—S. Ullman sold for J. Reiss 3-family brk house, 1031 College av, 22x93, to J. Cooper, The same broker recently sold 1039, of the same row.

HULL AV.—Louis Jaeck sold southwest cor Hull av and 207th st, plot 110.8x50.6x irregular.

LAFONTAINE AV, ETC.—Edward Polak sold for A. Magnes 2116 Lafontaine av, 3-family house, 25x100; also for William J. Diamond, 1632 Bathgate av, 4-sty doublt flat; also to John O'Donnell, two lots on north side 213th st, 100 ft. Eeas Tilden av, 50x100.

NELSON AV.—Walter S. Auld sold for Olof G. Kloveness to Elizabeth Schamberg, 3-family frame house, 19x90x irregular, on east side of Nelson av, 285 ft. north 168th st. Louis H. Stroh represented the buyer.

PROSPECT AV.—G. Blumenreich sold for Jennie E. Holbrook to Bertha Wolfort 645 Prospect av, a 2-family brk house, 19x100.

RODMAN PL.—Steven B. Ayres and Walter F. Baylis sold for John Londergan 2 lots, 50x102, on Rodman pl, near West Farms road, at a consideration approaching $12,000. Purchaser has also acquired other parcels in the neighborhood.

STEBBINS AV.—Leo Hutter sold through Henry M. Ribeth & Son to Edward Muller plot, 50x100, on east side of Stebbins av, 100 ft. north 170th st.

TIEBOUT AV.—Casey & Irwin sold for E. H. Kelly to a builder for improvement plot 50x107 on east side of Tiebout av, about 100 ft. south 187th st.

WEST FARMS.—The New York & Westchester Railroad Co. bought 4 lots on north side West Farms road, between Boston road and Bronx st; also the block front on Rodman pl, between Longfellow av and West Farms road, and from John A. Steinmetz a plot on north side West Farms road, between Bronx st and Bronx River.

3D AV.—Kurz & Uren have sold John M. Link southeast cor 3d av and 163d st, 6-sty apartment house, with stores, 40x100. The Hamilton bank leased corner store for term of years.

3D AV.—Ernst-Cahn Realty Co. and A. Mantenband sold for the Moreland Realty & Const. Co. 3886 3d av, a 4½-sty flat with stores, 27x125.

LEASES.

Albert B. Ashforth leased for Knabe Piano Co. in the Knabe Building, southeast cor of 39th st and 5th av, the entire top floor to W. M. Ostrander, Inc, at a total rental of $42,500.

M. & L. Hess have leased for Col. Alfred Wagstaff to Michael W. Spelcey the whole building at 31 Great Jones st, and for A. C. Kingsland the whole building at 10 West 17th st.

George R. Read & Co. leased for the United Cigar Stores Co. to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Co., for a term of years, the southerly store in the new building at the southeast cor Broadway and Wall st.

REAL ESTATE NOTES

A real estate man is wanted to take charge of an office. See Wants and Offers.

A 5th av firm wants a man of experience on liberal commission. See Wants and Offers.

Joseph R. Munter is the purchaser of 52 West 91st st, sold recently through S. J. Redlich.

T. Scott & Son were associated with D. H. Scolly in the sale of 32 West 128th st to T. Bitterman.

A position in real estate office is wanted by young man with two years' experience. See Wants and offers.

The offices of the Building and Sanitary Inspection Co., formerly at 76 William st, are now at 56 Maiden lane.

Frank E. Smith, real estate agent and broker, formerly at 23 East 20th st, has changed his offices to 1 Madison av.

For sale, 35 lots, high and dry, including 3 corners, with water and gas, for $500 each, in Long Island City. See Wants and Offers.

A position of responsibility in a realty or construction company is desired by an architect competent to supervise large work. See Wants and Offers.

J. Clarence Davies places the value of a lot on 149th st, west of 3d av, at about $30,000, which is exactly the figure quoted for single lots on Tremont av, west of Third.

Those who follow the foreclosure sales closely must have observed that much of the property sold has depreciated from 25 to 30 per cent. in value since it was mortgaged.

Owners and auctioneers frequently differ as to the proper time to put up an offering of suburban lots, but Mr. Day seems to get the results no matter when a sale takes place.

Pincus Lowenfeld, of Lowenfeld & Prager, 149 Broadway, Manhattan, takes little stock in the statements regarding the difficulty attending the securing of mortgage loans. "On the contrary," he said, "money is not hard to borrow, unless the security offered is questionable."

Taylor Bros. have leased for the Central Realty Company the corner store and basement in the new 12-sty apartment building now being erected at the northeast corner of 101st st and Broadway to Park & Tilford. The lease is for a long term of years. Broadway in this section is steadily growing in favor.

The Local Board of Washington Heights has instituted proceedings to acquire title to Hillside av, from Nagle av near Broadway to Nagle av near Dykeman st. Also for an alteration of the map or plan of the City of New York by laying out thereon an extension of Seaman av, from the northerly line of Academy st to Dyckman st, a new street from Broadway to the proposed extension of Seaman av, and a new street from the proposed extension of Seaman av to Prescott st, or F st; also the closing and discontinuing of the portions of Seaman av and Bolton road not included in the streets laid out, as in the foregoing, and lying between the northerly line of Academy st, Prescott st and Dyckman st.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

"A" is "B's" broker. "B" wants to purchase a piece of property which "A" finds out is not for sale at the time. "B" instructs "A" (his broker) to keep him posted about the property and to let him know when it is for sale. "B" becomes acquainted with the owner ("C") who tells "B" that he will let him know when the property is for sale. After two years "A" ascertains that the property is in the market for sale, and informs "B," who authorizes him to make an offer to "C," the owner, which is declined. "C" informs "B" of "A's" offer. "B" negotiates with "C" the owner, direct and makes contract at an advanced price. "C" knows "'A" is "B's" broker, and at the time of making contract allows a certain reduction from the purchase price, it being agreed between them that there is no broker. Is "A" entitled to a commission? If so, from whom?

Answer—We think not.

COVERED BY INSURANCE.

To the Editor of the Record and Guide:

A judgment is recorded to-day against Coleman & Krause in favor of C. P. Rogers for the amount of $2,287. This judgment is for damages which our neighbor claims he sustained by reason of the construction of our factory building. We are completely and fully covered by insurance in this matter and the action is now on appeal.

COLEMAN & KRAUSE,

The Auction Market.

Several large voluntary sales of vacant lots at the Vesey st auction room were held during the week, the first being the offering of a portion of the Powers estate consisting of 129 lots in upper Manhattan, which was conducted by Bryan L. Kennelly on Monday. After a few parcels had been sold the auctioneer adjourned the sale with the explanation that the inclemency of the weather had prevented a proper inspection of the tract by intending purchasers.

On Tuesday Joseph P. Day and Geo. R. Read simultaneously conducted successful Bronx sales. The offering of the former consisted of 305 lots at Kingsbridge, known as the Bailey property, and with the exception of less than 25 parcels around Teetaw av and 188th st, all were sold for about $400,000. The attendance at this sale, while not so large as expected, was quite satisfactory. Along Harlem River Terrace a half dozen lots brought from $525 to $725 each, which are considered low prices. On Bailey av, from Sedgwick av northward, prices were from $2,200 to $2,725 per lot. An irregular parcel 48x55x41x69, running through from Bailey to Sedgwick avs, and opposite the northerly part of a small triangular plot at the junction of these thoroughfares, brought $4,000 after spirited bidding. Among the buyers were Francis W. Pollock, James McCabe, E. Osborne Smith and Chas. E. Kenniston. The largest individual purchaser was John H. Deane.

The attendance at Geo. R. Read's sale of 63 lots in different parts of Bronx borough, which were sold in part under executors' orders, while not nearly so large as the gathering which faced Auctioneer Day's stand, was equally as enthusiastic. The total sum realized was about $147,000. Bidding was started for six lots on the west side of Ryer av, and were knocked down at from $1,850 to $2,000. A frame building of two stories on Quarry road just north of 181st st, 29x95, brought $4,800.

On Wednesday Joseph P. Day offered a number of income properties including a few lots on Southern Boulevard. A plot, 100x100, at the southwest corner of 180th st and that thoroughfare, was sold to Hugo Cohn for $28,300, which compares well with the prices obtained at a private sale for similar property along the boulevard. At the stand of Bryan L. Kennelly, 9 lots in 214th st, near 9th av, were bid in at $44,000.

To the favorable condition of the weather on Decoration Day is due much of the success which attended the sales of suburban property. The principal offerings were those of Jere Johnson, Jr., Co., and Joseph P. Day, the former consisting of 221 lots at New Brighton, S. I., all of which were sold, yielding a sum of $54,395, or an average of $250 per lot. The attendance at this sale was large, there being 700 persons on hand. Mr. Day's sale of 240 lots at Castleton Corners was successful, although it did not attract so many bidders as might have been expected. All told, about 163 lots were sold at an average of $250 each.

The auction sales of Long Island realty on Thursday did not attract much attention. The largest offering was that of Van Nostrand & Van Allen at Hollis Terrace, consisting of 2,000 lots, 78 of which were sold for a total of about $62,000, when the property was withdrawn.

Large Project for East River Heights.

An operating syndicate composed of several theatrical men of Manhattan has purchased a tract of 23 lots on Hoyt and Van Alst avs and Barclay st, East River Heights, from the Rickert-Finlay Co. The price is reported as $62,000, or about $2,700 per lot. The syndicate is known as the "Astoria Development Co.," and its purpose is to improve the parcel with 4-sty flats, which will involve an outlay of about $400,000. This is one of the first large undertakings of its kind in that section of Queens.

Duross Company, Incorporated.

Chas. E. Duross, Jos. A. Duross, Mark C. Duross and E. E. Duross, of the office of Chas. E. Duross, have organized and incorporated under the name "Duross Co." for the purpose of carrying on a general real estate and brokerage business, the managing of properties and estates, the procuring of loans and placing of insurance, at 155 West 14th st, with a branch office in one of the Astor House stores, 2 Vesey st, near the Real Estate Exchange. Chas. E. Duross established himself in the real estate business in this city at 14th st and 8th av in 1896, and has built up a large clientele and a prosperous business. Mr. Duross has acted as expert appraiser and arbitrator for several large estates and as expert for the city. Mr. Duross has been a member of the Real Estate Board of Brokers for several years. The present office on 14th st and 7th av was formerly the office of the Rhinelander Estate.

Large Brooklyn Sale.

Several 5-sty buildings at the southwest corner of Court and Joralemon sts, Brooklyn, covering a plot containing 10,000 sq. ft. have been sold through Douglas Robinson, Chas. S. Brown & Co., for August Belmont, to Ward & Gow. The parcel was purchased at auction by Mr. Belmont during the year 1906 from the A. A. Low estate for $430,000. The site is particularly suitable for an office building, and is convenient to the subway station on Court Square.

The Real Estate Outlook and the Utilities Bill.

The Mayor has vetoed the Utilities bill, for reasons which are sound from his point of view as the chief executive of the city, but the general expectation is that the bill will be enacted into law notwithstanding, and very good effects for Brooklyn are expected to follow from it in due time. Thousands of Manhattanites are waiting for the opportune moment when they can avail themselves of quick transportation to Long Island, and preferably to Brooklyn in order to make it their permanent home. While Brooklyn is the community that will benefit most from the law, the whole city is served at the same time that Brooklyn is. But there is another side to the shield, which is voiced by a broker through the Brooklyn Times. While the bill is in itself a good thing for the Long Island public, there may come some unpleasant consequences through the hostility of the corporations against whom it is directed. Said this broker:

"I am speaking more particularly now about property in Queens County and the more undeveloped sections of Long Island. Whatever booms or activities are in evidence there now are largely dependent upon certain improvements which have been scheduled for the future. Without those improvements the outlook is dark for the communities in question. Should the public utilities corporations curtail the elaborate plans they have mapped out, or deviate from their plans in any important particulars much harm would result. It is not known that such will be the case. The bill just passed is in no sense a mischevious one, but I cannot help saying that at first it will help the city more than it does the suburbs. And so it is that at the present time the public service corporations are laying on their oars, marking time, as it were, until they can see just where they are at and can determine their future policies, and the market is waiting with them. I do not call the future dark, I do not say that the bill has done any irreparable harm, but I do say that for the present the market is in the doldrums."

A Prediction Coming True.

Some years ago a real estate operator—it was Ascher Weinstein, former partner of Harris Mandelbaum, of Mandelbaum & Lewine—predicted that Broadway property below Fulton st would eventually bring as much as $400 a sq. ft. As an evidence of the correctness of his forecast in at least one instance, reference is made to the sale of southeast corner of Broadway and Wall st to Mercantile Trust Co., of St. Louis, for which it paid $700,000. As the plot is 30x39.10, containing 1,170 sq. ft., this is at the rate of $598.20 per sq. ft. Farther north land has not yet commanded figures equal to this, but the increase in the selling price over the figures at which it could have been secured ten years ago lends additional weight to Mr. Weinstein's prognosis. Among the recent sales on lower Broadway were the northeast corner of Liberty st, 25.3x110.2, containing about 3,200 sq. ft., which brought $750,000, or about $230 per sq. ft., and the purchase by the City Investing Co. of Nos. 189-191, 46x100.7, which sold for about $1,000,000, or at rate of $217 a sq. ft.

A Building Company That Is Different.

A number of prominent citizens of Orange have interested themselves in a home-building enterprise that has an element of philanthropy in it. The concern is known as the "Orange Homes Company," under which style it is incorporated, and the following have agreed to serve as directors of the company for the first year:

Thomas A. Davis, Farnham Yardley, Harry Hall, Mrs. A. B. Jenkins, Miss A. Crommelin, Mrs. J. R. Paddock, Mrs. Henry P. Bailey, Clarence H. Kelsey, Norman M. Ward, Joseph D. Holmes, O. S. Thompson, Charles Edwin Eaton, Allerton D. Hitch and Charles H. Van Nostrand.

The object of the company is consistent with the character of the individuals backing it, and is to erect in Orange a large number of pretty cottages, which are to be sold on favorable terms with little or no profit to the company.

Of course, as in New York, so in Orange, most men build and sell houses for as large a profit as they can obtain, and this profit represents full 25 per cent. of the cost to the first purchaser. This profit added to high costs of construction has made it impossible in the suburbs for a large class of worthy people—which formerly was able—to secure homes by purchase. The company will endeavor to smooth away some of the difficulties.

Madison Avenue Realty in a State of Transition.

The volume of buying along Madison av during the past twelve months has been of such a character as to warrant the prediction that eventually this thoroughfare, between 23d and 35th sts and from 40th st northward, will undergo a complete transformation, and if the incursion of business already in evidence is any criterion, the avenue is destined to accommodate much of the overflow from the district immediately to the west. While many real estate speculators express the belief that for a while at least there is little likelihood of the appearance of many large mercantile establishments on this thoroughfare, there are others who maintain that upon the completion of the transit improvements now in progress and those about to be commenced, Madison av as a business street will rank second in importance only to 5th av. Whether the conjecture of the latter be correct or not, it is by all means certain that realty along this avenue, particularly in the 34th and 42d st districts, is beginning to attract attention as a speculative investment, and real estate brokers who make a specialty of property on Murray Hill report an increasing number of inquiries for sites thereon.

Perhaps the greatest obstacle in the way of a uniform metamorphosis lies in the existence of the uninterrupted succession of stone mansions which line the avenue from 35th to 40th sts, and it is not credited that the invasion of business which is already affecting other parts is likely to cause any marked change in this stronghold for some years to come; however, the gradual occupation of private houses for business purposes in the surrounding blocks is not without its deteriorating influence, and real estate men believe that as this condition becomes more apparent it will tend to quicken the exodus of private families and thus pave the way for the logical result. The increase in the value of realty on Madison av, south of 42d st, during the past year is estimated by those in a position to know to approximate thirty per cent., and while it is reasoned by some that this enhancement is not warranted at this time, the strong probability of the location on Murray Hill of a great railroad terminal, together with other projected improvements, justifies in a measure the high prices which now prevail.

Now It Is the Millbrook Company.

The interests which control both the New York and Portchester R. R. Co., and the N. Y., Westchester & Boston R. R. Co., are now combined in a corporation known as the "Millbrook Company," and the principal office is at Millbrook, Dutchess county. Engineer H. F. Nichols of the Board of Estimate reports that the construction work stands thus:

The Westchester Co. has done some construction upon its route within the city limits north of 177th st, but no attempt has been made to do any construction south of 177th st, or to even acquire the land for such purpose. It was required by the terms of its franchise to expend $1,000,000 for construction, exclusive of moneys spent for acquiring right of way, within two years from the date on which the franchise was signed by the Mayor; this time expired on August 2, 1906.

Subsequently, reports were presented to the Board by the Comptroller, made by the Chief Engineer of the Finance Department, and by the Bureau of Municipal Investigation and Statistics, setting forth in detail the amounts expended. It was stated in those reports that of the 23,000 ft. of the route within the city north of Bronx Park, about 13,000 ft. was either completed or was in process of construction, and that a little more than $700,000 had been expended for actual work in place and engineering expenses, and for material ordered or delivered, but not in place, about $368,000, up to Sept. 14, 1906.

The counsel for Millbrook Company states that it is the intention of the Portchester and Westchester companies to enter into a contract in which it will be agreed that the Portchester Company shall build the railroad upon so much of the route as is common to both companies, and that both companies will have equal right to operate trains over such line upon a schedule to be mutually agreed upon by them. Another hearing will be given by the Board of Estimate on June 7.

Federal Brick Co.

Agreements have been obtained by the Federal Brick Company with nine of the eleven brick firms of New Britain and vicinity, comprising the Central Brick Exchange of New Britain, by which the Federal company wll control the output of the nine firms for the next five years. Our information is that the Federal Brick Company already controls "a great part of the brick yards of Massachusetts and Rhode Island," and "hopes to secure control of about 80 per cent. of the brick output of New England."

REAL ESTATE RECORDS

Key to abbreviations:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

4th.—The street and avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

5th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

6th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

7th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

8th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only, and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before second figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction. Valuations are from the assessment roll of 1906.

MORTGAGES

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

May 24, 25, 27, 28 and 29.
